Insulin Inventor Takes Bride

PRESIDENT'S COUSIN

This is Miss Mary F. Cooleidge of Atlanta, Ga., the pretty southern cousin of President Coolidge, who has been entertained at the White House. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Cooleidge, and the Civil war caused the loss of her grandfather's fortune. When he started a new business and had a lot of stationary ordered, the printer misspelled his name, making it "Cooleidge." Rather than lose all the paper, he decided to let the new spelling stand.

Entertaining the War Casualties

President and Mrs. Coolidge entertained the disabled service men in the army, navy and public health hospitals in the vicinity of Washington and several thousand veterans enjoyed their hospitality in the lovely White House gardens. President Coolidge is shown signing the hospital bill drafted by the veterans bureau and passed by both houses which appropriates $1,500,000 to carry on the hospital program to take care of the disabled veterans.

HEADACHES GONE TIRED NO MORE

Gives Credit to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Hopes Other Women Will Benefit by Her Experience

Showegan, Me.—"I was sick most of the time and could not get around to do my work without being all tired out so I would have to lie down. One day when I was reading the paper I saw the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertisement and saw what it had done for other women, so I thought I would try it. I have taken several bottles, and cannot begin to tell you what it has already done for me. I do all my work now and keep up the whole day long without lying down. I have no more headaches or tired feelings. I hope every woman who takes the Vegetable Compound will get as much benefit out of it as I have."

Has Ancient Flavor

At the Coffee Club Friday, among other witty jokes, this one was told: "The rudder and the anchor of a ship entered into a dispute over the issue of which was the most important to the vessel. Each felt that it occupied this pre-eminent place. But after a time the anchor grew tired of the argument, ran itself out and told the rudder that "you can now go where you darn please." The president of the club tried to prove that this one came from Joe Miller's joke book, but failed.—Houston Post.

The KITCHEN CABINET

The ladder of life is full of splinters, but they always get the hardest when they are sliding down.—William Brownell.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS

Where fresh fish are obtainable the following dish will be enjoyed:

Fish Pudding.—Cook one cupful of rice in boiling water until tender, drain and pour through it enough cold water to separate the grains. Cook two pounds of picket, bass or other fresh fish, grill well done, cooking by steam in a steamer or tie in a cloth and drop into boiling water. Flake the fish after removing all the bones and skin. Combine the rice and fish, add two well-beaten eggs, one cupful of fish stock and the same of milk. Season with two teaspoonfuls of salt, one-half teaspoonful of pepper, two tablespoonfuls of butter, using the seasonings between the layers of the fish and rice. Bake one-half hour and serve hot with drawn butter sauce.

Boiled Fish With Butter Sauce.—Drop the fish well-dressed, tied in a cheese cloth, into boiling water and cook at the simmering temperature until tender. Use onion, bay leaf or parsley in the simmering water. Drain the fish and serve with a rich white sauce to which the juice of a large lemon has been added and a tablespoonful of butter with salt and pepper as needed. Serve hot or cold with the fish.

Stuffed Fish.—For a three-pound fish, fry one minced onion with two ounces of sliced bacon and a large tablespoonful of butter. Add two bread crumbs, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of pepper, one tablespoonful of parsley, three tablespoonfuls of water to moisten the crumbs, or soak them and squeeze dry. Mix well and stuff the fish which has been well-salted and peppered inside and out. Sew up and bake, basting with butter and water during the baking.

Fish Salad.—To one cupful of cold, cooked fish add the same amount of chopped cabbage and celery, season well and serve with a good boiled dressing on lettuce. Salmon makes a delicious salad; add chopped pickle and a half-cupful of fresh grated coconut and the usual salad dressing; serve on head lettuce and garnish with white of egg cut into fancy shapes.

A person's character is the reality of himself. His reputation is the opinion others have formed of him. Character is in him. Reputation is from other people.

SPECIAL GOOD THINGS

When cooking asparagus try the stalks with the tough ends, if tender and easily penetrated it will cook quickly; the tougher portions should be cut off and cooked first, then remove them and add the tender portions; this saves all steps. If one likes the asparagus served without cutting into bits, tie up and cook in the bunch. Then serve three or four stalks with butter sauce on toast.

Fried Chicken.—Prepare a chicken by cutting it into serving pieces, then marinate for three hours in one part of lemon juice to three of olive oil, with such herbs and seasonings as one desires. Drain and dip each piece in beaten egg, season well with salt and pepper, and fry in deep fat. Drain, place on a platter and pour round it a sauce prepared with a cupful each of milk and yeast stock, thickened with egg yolk, and seasoned with minced parsley, mushrooms and a little lemon juice.

Raspberry Whip.—Take one cupful of canned raspberries, two to four tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, one-half pint of cream and two egg whites. Whip the cream, then the sugar, combine the two, stir in the raspberries and the sugar. The fresh berries are best, but canned will do. Mash the fresh berries and mix with an equal amount of sugar.

Caramel Sponge.—Soften one-fourth of a package of gelatin in one-fourth of a cupful of water, bring one-half cupful of water, stir until dissolved, add the gelatin and stir over low water until thick. Have ready two egg whites beaten stiff, add them to the gelatin mixture, continue beating until stiff. Turn into a mold and serve with this cream.

Club Salad.—Take one and one-half cupfuls of cooked chicken, twelve slices of bacon, three tomatoes and a bunch of lettuce. Arrange the lettuce on individual plates, place on each a peeled tomato, a little sliced cooked bacon and some macaroni dressing, top with some of the chicken, mire mayonnaise and a sprig of parsley. Around the dish arrange toast points specked, using four or six.

Cherry Betty.—Take fresh ripe cherries and well-buttered crumbs; put a layer of cherries, then of sugar and crumbs; repeat until the dish is full. Bake until the cherries are well done, serve with a hard sauce.

GIVE OUT POLICY FOR LOAN BODIES

Bank Secretary Says Regulations Will Be Strictly Observed by Association

NO VIOLATIONS PERMITTED

Interesting News Items, Briefly Condensed, Picked Up At The Department Which Are of Interest to the People of the State.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Charging of fees by officers of building and loan associations will not be countenanced by the State Department of Banking, Peter G. Cameron, secretary, declared in announcing a set of regulations which will apply to the conduct of the societies' business. The commissions are illegal, Secretary Cameron asserted and collections must stop.

The Secretary said department examiners will examine every new application for the incorporation of a building association and that he would not approve applications if the reports indicate commissions are to be charged or permitted. Failure to discontinue the practice after a notice by the department will result to the officers being summoned to show cause why "possession of the business and property of the association should not be taken by the Secretary of Banking on the ground that the association is conducting business in an unauthorized and unlawful manner."

After declaring the "vast majority of the building and loan associations in Pennsylvania are being conservatively and lawfully managed," Mr. Cameron added: "It has only been within the past few years that the practice of participating in syndicate loans, the charging of commissions or the permitting of commissions to be charged, the extensive leasing upon the security of office buildings, apartments, houses, hotels, garages, etc., and other objectionable practices have been indulged in."

Clerks Held for Embezzlement

Arrest of two employees of different banks in Beaver county on similar charges resulting from misappropriation of funds was announced by Peter G. Cameron, state secretary of banking. The men arrested were Marian Kopp, manager of the foreign department of the Ambridge Savings and Trust Company, charged with withholding deposits of $9,999, and Frank Tinspano who held a similar position with the Federal Title and Trust Company of Beaver Falls, charged with misappropriating $19,099 in remittances to be sent abroad. Each was held under $5,000 bail.

Rural Electric Service

July 9 has been fixed by the Public Service Commission as the date for a hearing with respect to rural electric facilities and service. The commission is making the inquiry on its own motion, and is to establish rules for proper standards of rural electric service, as affecting the safety and accommodation of the public. This will be in line with the giant power plan being worked out for Pennsylvania and other eastern states. Companies serving rural communities and local organizations will be notified of the hearing.

Will Outline Program

The building program of the state, which will be much discussed by the 1925 legislature because of the fact that the commonwealth has been doing little construction work since before the war will be mapped out by a special committee named by the governor prior to the session. The Governor said that the program will be a far-sighted one that will contemplate building at the normal schools, state hospitals, and the future development of capital park and the memorial bridge.

Analysis Drinking Water

Analysis of drinking water along State highways was begun by officials of the State Department of Health. An analysis converted into a field laboratory took to the road at the extreme eastern end of the Lincoln Highway, opening the movement designed to protect the health of motorists who use way-side drinking water. As soon as the tests are made, results will be sent field engineers who will trail the analysis for the purpose of posting the drinking water stations.

Many Apples From State

Apple growers in Pennsylvania shipped 3,200 cars of fruit from the leading producing centers in 1923. The Bureau of Markets of the Agricultural Department. This is about 500 more cars than in 1922, when a bumper crop was produced. Of the thirty-one counties of the State contributing to the total, Franklin was the first with 1,353 cars and Adams was second with 787. Cumberland is credited with the shipment of 429 cars and York 395.

The Same Old Backache!

Does every day bring the same old backache? Do you drag along with your back a dull, unending ache? Evening and you "all played out"? Don't be discouraged. Backache is surely a sign you haven't taken good care of yourself. This has probably strained your kidneys. Doan's Pills have helped thousands and should help you. Ask your neighbor!

A Pennsylvania Case

James Graham, 225 E. Third, Philadelphia, Pa., says: "A pain across my back hurt all the time and I couldn't sleep well. Some times when I bent down a stitch caught me and I could hardly straighten. My kidneys were probably straining and I had to get up during the night. Doan's Pills drove away the backache and put my kidneys in good shape."
