The User Decides

The Smith Brothers have succeeded as typewriter builders because they have been able to read clearly the needs of typewriter users and to incorporate those needs into a splendid, efficient machine.

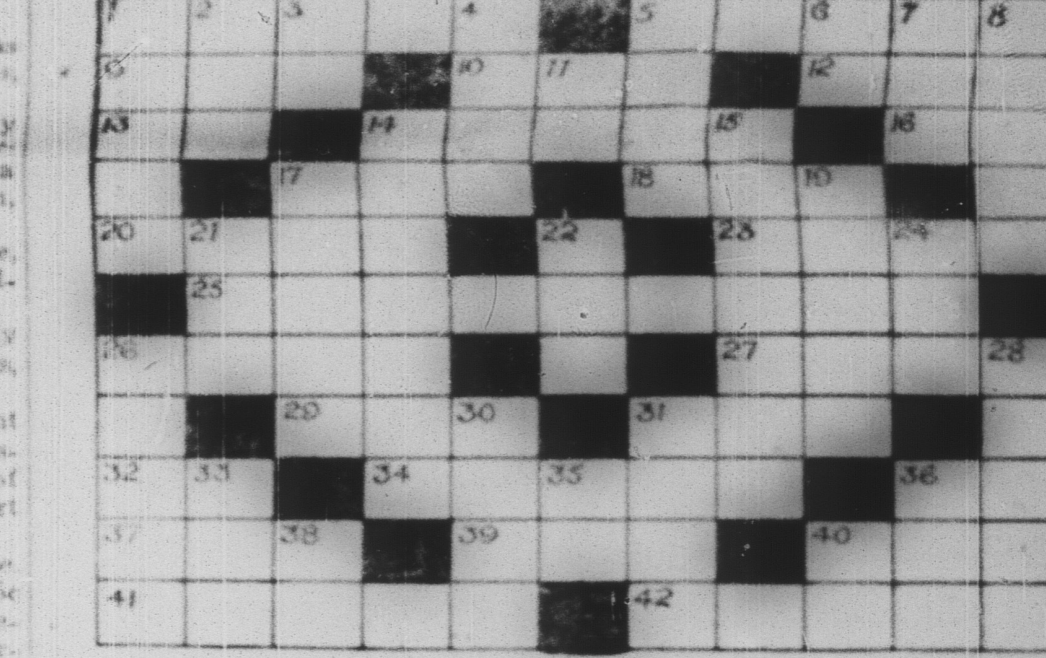

It was the user who wanted a smooth, easy running typewriter, made possible by ball bearings; it was the user who wanted a typewriter with an interchangeable platen; it was the user who wanted a decimal tabulator built into the machine, and it was the user who wanted a typewriter to be as silent as possible without sacrificing important features.

Ask one of our representatives to show you the L. C. Smith. A card sent to the address below will bring one to your office, with no obligation on your part.
