The Automoblist.
The man in front drives like mad all day, and the ladies sit still and look at the scenery. Man at the wheel has no time for that. When they stop for the night, he's too tired for conversation.—From the Atlantic.

Daily Thought.
To supplant use with joy in a single heart is to averse creation nearer to the divine plan.—Youth's Companion.

The State and Lib.
The design of the state is to transform men into animals or automata from reasonable beings, but rather that citizens may develop their minds and bodies in security. The true design of the state, then, is liberty.—Spinoza.

The Carter's Child.
Lillian Carter, on hearing that a woman in their neighborhood had given birth to triplets, inquired seriously, "Mother, did anyone ever have a fourth some of babies?"—Boston Evening Transcript.
