USE MODERATION, ALWAYS.

The secret of long life, enjoyed by one's self and valued by one's friends is moderation, temperance and contentment. By this is meant moderation in contrast to the nervous life that never takes time to live; temperance in contrast to feasting, drinking and the sacrifice of sleep for the so-called social pleasures, and contentment in contrast to pessimistic philosophy that sees nothing but evil in life.

PEARLS FROM COQUANLETT.

Among people one of the most important that forms within the organism. They appear occasionally in Celebes in the Malacca archipelago and the natives regard them highly because they attribute to them some healing powers. They grow upon the center cannot spread, and remaining in the milk becomes hard and forms into a pearl, not unlike the pearl that forms under similar circumstances in the oyster shell.

Health and Home

CARE OF CONVALESCENT IN SUMMER

For those who are just recovering from a serious illness the problem of food is a serious one. The patient, though well on the road to recovery, is usually weakened by the rigors of disease and the excessive heat is wont to sap his energy. Hence, the foods that are consumed during this period should be considered carefully as to digestibility, food value, ease of assimilation, purity and strength. These are important in any food but especially so when the consumer is not strong and healthy.

BRISTLES FROM SAVED HORN.

Many of the bristles used for hair brushes come from China and in large proportion of these bristles are of that country. They have been sacred since ancient times and are the cause of many deaths because of the bristles which are used to kill. As soon as the hair is killed the bristles sprout and grow again under the skin of the animal which the bristles and hence in an increase in normal size. They then become wrapped up with a waxy substance.

CAGED RATS WORK PUZZLES.

Prof. J. F. Huxford of the University of North Carolina has discovered the gross word puzzle race to rats. He has built a maze of paths and runways leading to hidden food, and the caged rats have been set to work solving the riddled way of reaching it. He has found that some rats learn that the shortest route is the quickest. Of nine rats used in the study, three showed they learned while the others remained stupid at the end of 100 attempts at the beginning.

ANOTHER GOOD NIGHT.

Dr. Lee DeForest, of radio fame, said at the Harvard club in New York during a recent visit that the big radio concert is being broadcast at the rate of $1,000 an hour. Now radio is for amusement. Advertising is out of place in it.

A ROAST.

John Langston, who has just completed a rather novel tour of the British Empire, remarked at a luncheon in New York: "The agnion London has of New York is just about the same as that which New York has of London. We Americans class all English as dowdy and class ourselves on a class with the Parisian when it comes to style. What Langston thinks of a conversation I rehearse on my last trip."

PICKED PARAGRAPHS.

Most of the world's big jobs are handled by men who don't know what they are doing. Vassar class eighteen are engaged and the others will spend the summer fishing.

The Progressive party is now in need of a leader as well as a few million more voters.

It must be a comfort to be rich enough to keep the old car despite its decrepitude.

A listener sometime wonders how the radio orchestra themselves can tell one and two from another.

An apple a day doesn't keep the doctor away, if they are green apples, as little Johnny soon learns.

To the two sure things, death and taxes, add detours.
