

WOMAN SO ILL WASHED DISHES SITTING DOWN

Mrs. Ashcroft's Remarkable Recovery After Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Covington, Ky.—"I was so weak and nervous I could hardly do my housework as I could not stand because of the bearing-down pains in my back and abdomen. I sat down most of the time and did what I could do in that way—washing dishes, etc. One day a book describing Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine was put in my mail-box. I saw how the Vegetable Compound had helped others so I gave it a trial. I had to take about a dozen bottles before I gained any relief. I certainly praise this medicine. Then I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier for poor blood. It was cold all the time. I would be so cold I could hardly sit still and in the palms of my hands there would be drops of sweat. I also used the Sanative Wash and I recommend it also. You may publish this letter and I will gladly answer letters from women and advise my neighbors about these medicines."—Mrs. HARRY ASHCROFT, 622 Beech Avenue, Covington, Kentucky.

A Joke

"Hat ha!" merrily laughed the feathery guest of a well-known hotel. "This is a good joke."

Rubber Soles Soar

The rise in the cost of rubber has reached the crepe soles of shoes, and the cost of footwear having risen is climbing.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

VIALS OF HATE

AMONG the many poisonous things which we humans are prone to carry about us, and which with more or less frequency, are the distinctive vials of hate.

WHO SAID

"Great pleasures are much less frequent than great pains."

THE man who uttered this expression was a philosopher, whose philosophy is marked by the rather serious view of life which is to be noted in the phrase quoted above.

Life to David Hume was a sober thing—a thing to be taken with seriousness and regarded as a stepping stone to some future existence where one's status would be determined by his conduct here.

LUSCIOUS PINEAPPLE

PINEAPPLES like other fruits are never better than when served and eaten fresh. But we are glad to have a few cans during the season when they are not in the market to help out in the menu-planning.

OUR OWN

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

WE ARE so careful of our speech when strangers listen, lest we say some word unkind. Our lips are taught to guard themselves by night and day.

SCHOOL DAYS

OUR OWN

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

WE ARE so careful of our speech when strangers listen, lest we say some word unkind. Our lips are taught to guard themselves by night and day.

For fear some careless, thoughtless word may by the passing through be heard.

But with our own-wife, brother, friend, Or husband, sister, mother, stepperson, or old friendship may offend, That burn the heart of love like fire.

We smile like thistles everywhere, And all life's roses with the care.

Yet how important words of ours To those who love us—every phrase.

Makes life's hard highway bloom with flowers, Or drifts the snow across their eyes.

We make their summer, make their spring, Their winter, autumn—everything!

The passing stranger may not hear, Or stranger hearing may not heed, But when your word cuts some one's ear.

For endless days some heart may bleed— How many know the torture of The knife that stabs in hands they love.

Love gives no license, friendship may not heed, To hurt because they love us so. But greater duty, more delight, To guard from wounds the ones we know.

Kind not to travelers alone, But in our home, and in our own.
