

DEPUTIES ARE NAMED FOR VACCINATION WORK IN CO.

Dr. W. V. Matthews, of Johnstown, Pa., county medical inspector, has been notified by the state secretary of health, Dr. C. W. Moore, that the following county deputies have been appointed as official deputies to vaccinate, from October 1st, the school children who have not been vaccinated against smallpox. The appointments are:

Dr. B. F. Hoover, St. Clairsville, Pa.
Dr. G. A. Anderson, Harrisburg, Pa.
Dr. F. G. Wilson, Decatur, Pa.
Dr. W. A. Friedman, Export, Pa.
Dr. F. H. Ferguson, Gallatin, Pa.
Dr. J. A. Morris, Patton, Pa.
Dr. W. S. Daugherty, Fortate, Pa.

School children living in the rural districts, who have been twice unsuccessfully vaccinated, or those who have been admitted to school last term on an official temporary certificate, must be vaccinated by the county medical director, or one of the official deputies, who will grant a temporary certificate which will admit them to school for the current school year. In cities, boroughs or in townships of the first class having organized boards of health, this official vaccination must be performed by a board of health physician. Parents or school principals may not admit children the first day of school unless they present, or have already filed a certificate of successful vaccination, or in the case of unsuccessful results, present the official temporary certificate, which must have been issued since July 1st of the present year. Temporary certificates issued during the previous school term are void. The state secretary of health states that teachers must absolutely observe this law the first day of school or be subject to prosecution by department inspectors.

It is of vital importance that every school child should be protected against smallpox by vaccination. The Pennsylvania law requiring successful vaccination for school attendance was enacted in 1874, and consequently the younger generation of native inhabitants is more universally vaccinated than in any other state of the Union.

And the state has the lowest smallpox record in the Union for a number of years. Of the 238 cases of smallpox in Pennsylvania, all but three of them have been on the western border of the state and in the city of Philadelphia. The border cases had been traced to infections in the state of Ohio principally, where vaccination is not compulsory. Three cases reported from the northeastern section of the state have been brought in from a neighboring state. Not a single case of smallpox has occurred in the central or interior sections of the state during 1925.

School inspectors are directed by the secretary of health to see that the vaccination law has been fully enforced by every teacher, and to pass on the validity of vaccination certificates filed. Teachers may not accept certificates issued by the family physician or by the school medical inspector exempting pupils from vaccination because of alleged physical disability.
