RUPTURE SHIELD EXPERT HERE

E. J. Menhardt, the well known Expert from Chicago, will personally be at the Penn-Auto Hotel, Altoona, Pa., on Saturday only, May 8th, from 9:00 a. m. to 6 p. m.

Mr. Menhardt says "The Vacuum Rupture Shield" will not only hold the rupture perfectly, but will contract the opening in thirty days on the average case—usually giving instantaneous relief withstanding all strain regardless of the size and location of the rupture.

WARNING: Do not expose yourself to the danger of wearing old-style trusses and undertrusses. These trusses usually place the pad on the lump, and not on the rupture opening.

This often causes strangulation which usually necessitates an immediate surgical operation or results in sudden death. "The Vacuum Rupture Shield" has no undertraps, no straps around the body or legs. It is also sanitary and practically indestructible and should be worn while bathing. Only practitioners are invited to visit at this time as a special visit will be made here later for women and children.

Notice: "The Vacuum Rupture Shield" can not be fitted by mail. Every case should be seen personally. Please note the above dates and hours carefully. Strictly no chance for demonstration. Address all correspondence to E. J. Menhardt Co., Whitehall, Michigan.

The first commercial telephones were crude, box-like affairs, resembling little the present efficient, clear speaking instruments which the telephone men of today install in your home or office.

THE FIRST TELEPHONES

The first commercial telephone line in Pennsylvania was run between 1111 Chestnut Street and the old Continental Hotel in Philadelphia not long after the Centennial.

Two instruments, a few hundred feet apart, comprised the first Bell telephone service in the state.

Other cities quickly followed suit. By 1900 there were fifty thousand users; by 1905, nearly two hundred thousand; by the end of 1915, five hundred thousand. Today, the operations of this company cover close to a million telephones.

So does the service grow; and so does this constant broadening increase its value to every user.

As to quality of service, our objective is a continuously increasing promptness and dependability—that each year shall show greater facility in its usage, either cross-town or cross-country, and still further diminishing of mechanical and human failure in its operation.

As to further expansion, we neither have nor can have an exact goal, except to match the extension of our service with the public need for it.

Ten years ago it seemed to some that Pennsylvania was "saturated" with telephones. Since then the System has about doubled.
