PROPOSES USE OF RIFLE TO SAVE WILD TURKEYS

Hunters Flood Game Commission With Suggestions to Halt Extinction.

Hunters are flooding the office of the State Game Commission at Harrisburg with suggestions about keeping wild turkeys from becoming extinct in Pennsylvania. Seth E. Gordon, secretary of the game commission announced this week.

The commission recently ordered the entire state closed to the hunting of wild turkeys during the 1926 season of hunting.

One of these suggestions is that the season be left open to hunters, but that they be permitted to carry a rifle containing only one ball and to kill only gelders with long beards.

Andrew Simpson, 80, of Mechanicsburg, who for years was famed as a hunter in the Mill Creek section, advocated that suggestion.

Simpson is credited with having killed, during his early hunting career, 18 deer, two bears and over 500 wild turkeys. 19 of the latter falling prey to his rifle during the last season.

He is still able to tote a gun about the woods but failing eyesight prevents him from doing much hunting.

Unless drastic steps are taken to protect wild turkeys he asserts they will become extinct within a few years.

Simpson proposed a number of other regulations, similar to those which now govern deer hunting, to protect the turkeys.

Pennsylvania has not been closed to the hunting of wild turkeys since 1913 and 1914.

Disappearance of good feeding grounds and the wet season of 1924, when practically no young birds were hatched, hit the wild turkey crop in the state hard, it is said.

TEXT OF THE PAPAL BLESSING AT EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS

Following is the text of the papal blessing sent to the eucharistic congress by Pope Pius XI.

"To our very dear children of the United States and particularly those of Chicago, who, inspired by living and active faith, supported by the resources of a generous country, and one that has been singularly blessed by God, after untiring and elaborate preparations, are about to render the most solemn tribute of adoration and of love to the Sacramental Lord and Redeemer, by holding in that great city the international Eucharistic congress for the first time within the confines of their great and glorious republic.

go today the thoughts of our mind, and go also the thoughts and affection of our heart in fullest transports of hallowed joy and of fatherly satisfaction, with the augury that this historical event, which, happily, synchronizes with its 150th anniversary of their still youthful and already powerful nation, bring to all and everywhere, in ever increasing abundance, the fruits of the redemption and those gifts of unity and of peace which the blessed Sacrament mystically symbolizes and which are the first requisites and the true foundation of all prosperity.

"For this blessing, we pray with all our soul and bestow on all the apostolic blessing."

"Fascit Corpus Christi."

GLASS-SMITHBAUER.

Miss Margaret M. Smithbauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smithbauer, of St. Augustine, and Rear Admiral J. Glass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheman Glass, of Munster township, were united in marriage on Wednesday morning of last week in the St. Augustine church by the Rev. Father Pollard Farran. Their attendants were Miss Mary Glass, a sister of the bridegroom, and Clarence Smithbauer, a brother of the bride.

Following a wedding dinner at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glass left on a wedding trip to Philadelphia and Atlantic City, and upon their return they will reside in Colver where the bridegroom is employed as a mechanic in a garage.

HOLDS FIRST MASS

The Rev. Father Germain Anna, O. S. B., who was ordained to the priesthood recently at St. Vincent's Archdiocese, at Beatty, Pa., celebrated his first solemn mass at 10:30 o'clock last Sunday morning in St. Bernard's Catholic church at Hastings, Pa. The newly ordained priest was assisted by members of the Benedictine order.

Following the services Father Germain was honored at a banquet in St. Bernard's hall.
