Last week our basket ball boys returned victoriously from Hastings even though they did not win by a great margin. The game was closely contested throughout, but in the last minute of play Roy Brungart secured the winning point by annexing a foul goal, which made the final score 27 to 26. The lineup and summary:

Patton—27 Hastings—26
R. Brungart F Murtha
R. Maxwell F Limadue
Aegypt C Tipas
Semelsberger G Anthony
C. Brungart G Frickland
Field goals—Brungart 5; Maxwell 4; C. Brungart 2 out of 3; Murtha 4 out of 6; Limadue 1 out of 4; Anthony 1 out of 1; Frickland 1 out of 2. Referee—Hodgson.

A very pleasant surprise party was held last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McClelland in honor of their daughter, Dorothy's, fifteenth anniversary. The main features of the evening were games and dancing and a delicious light lunch was served at a late hour. Those attending were Lavorne Franklin; Alice Hickson; Louise McLaughlin; Mabel Fitzpatrick; Mildred Smith; Miriam Whitehead; Lillian Simpson; Jennie Litzinger; Grace Shankwiler; Ethel and Gertrude McClelland; Pete Delpeire; Herman Baker; Howard Nagle; Woody Morrow; Melvin Watters; Herman Dooms; Charles Baker; William Brooch; Ralph Wert; Harry Strayer and Earl Stoltz.

Leroy Morris of St. Benedict visited friends in the high school on Friday afternoon.

Mr. Fleming has collected all our blue economy books. Many of us would be glad if he would collect all the other things that go along with the course, as well.

Rita Wirtner is attending school again after a few weeks' absence. We're glad to have you back, Rita.

Marie Williams, Vee-Vee Bortman and Lorraine Tarr spent the week end visiting friends and relatives in Hollidaysburg and Altoona.

This Winka o'urs wants to know "quite a many" things. This week she asks us who dropped the cuspidor on Joey Carretti's foot and also why Fred Litzinger can't keep his hair combed. Winka you shouldn't ask so much or we'll have to provide a special information bureau for your use.

A few notable birthdays that occur this week are those of Prosy Link, Eva Garrity and Fink Lynn.

All chemistry notebooks are due on Friday.

The Senior Party which was held on Thursday evening in the gymnasium was truly a success. Miss Johnson took charge of the entertainment and conducted a number of contests that met with the approval of all. Round and square dancing also featured, but probably the one event which stands out foremost is the Mock Wedding, which was presented by boys of the Senior Class. The marriage united Mr. Ralph Werts and Miss Joey Carretti. Walt Campbell was the proud father who gave the bride away (he did it willingly, too—it didn't cost him anything) and Leets Long played the role of the preacher. A rich uncle, Pimp Aegy, also figured in this wedding. The boys played very well and surely did their part in making the party a success. The prize winners in the games were Leona Yockley, Florence Kuhley; Louise Deschamps; Doris Kane; Wayne Lynn; John Semelsberger; and Chic Crowell. Miss Whitehead and Agatha Duzansky furnished very pleasing music on the piano.

The merriment drew to a close a very delicious lunch was served and you may be sure, suited everyone to a T.

Professor—These aren't my own figures I'm quoting? They're the figures of a man who knows what he's talking about.

A few of the Junior girls wish to congratulate the Senior Girls on their ability to make lunch. These Junior girls say that the lunch prepared for the Senior party last week was great.

John Symons, a former student of the high school, paid us a visit on Friday afternoon.

And now Fink, you tell us whom you escorted to the Grand on Thursday evening?

Rhea and Yenko attended the basketball game at Hastings on Thursday.

At last the time has come when young boys learn to smoke from their girls instead of from the rough boys down on the corner.

Can you identify the following: "The Girl With the Dotted Dress," "The Thinker," "The Thinker's Brother?"

The Scotch joke I had for you this week is so poor that I thought I wouldn't use it.

The members of the girls' basketball team wish to take this means to thank the Palmer orchestra for the delightful musical program they rendered at the girls' benefit show last week.

Xavier Strittmatter—"Do you think our teacher will go to heaven when he dies?" Don Hillig—"Good gracious! Who put such an absurd idea into your head?"

REPORT DIPHTHERIA GENERAL IN COUNTY

While no reports have been received indicating that the epidemic stage has been reached in any one section of the county, diphtheria is prevalent in Cambria County on a greater scale than during any single period during the past three or four years, in the opinion of Dr. J. J. Meyer acting, County Medical Director in the absence of Dr. W. E. Matthews, who is sojourning in Florida.

Dr. Meyer, who has been one of Dr. Matthews' associates in the health work in this county for a number of years, has been keeping a close watch on the fluctuation in the number of cases, and while not alarmed as yet, has noted that the total has reached a peak for this season in a three or four-year period.

"Since the fall of 1927 there has been a general increase in diphtheria figures in this county," Dr. Meyer states.

"This is ascribed to the fact that children who are not immunized are entering school and are naturally more susceptible to the disease than the children who have been protected by the administration of toxoid. The reports do not show any great number of cases in the boroughs and townships immediately adjacent to Johnstown, but the largest number of cases seems to be more to the north of the county. The outbreak is not centralized, however."

In a majority of cases, it appears from reports by the health officers, the contagion has cropped up in homes where the health of the children has not been safeguarded by the use of toxoid-antitoxin.

In the last few days reports from scattered sections of the county of cases of mumps and chickenpox emphasize the prevalence of these two forms of contagion in an unusually large degree.

INDUSTRY HELPS AGRICULTURE BUILD UP THE SMALL TOWN

Decentralization of Manufacturing Brings Markets for Products Closer to the Farm—Gives Employment and Better Standards of Living to Rural Communities.

By T. R. PRESTON
President, American Bankers Association

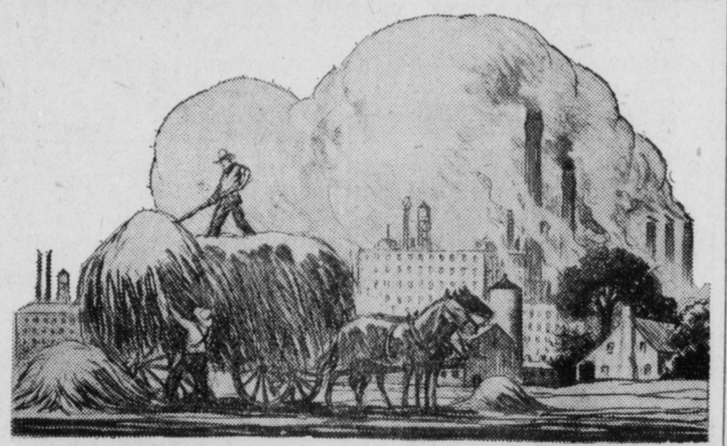

No class of people has been more diligent in trying to understand the agricultural problem than the bankers of this country. The agricultural problem is a real problem and demands the best thought of everyone. This country cannot continue along happy lines with only sections of the country prosperous. Prosperity must be passed around if anybody is long to enjoy it. This question cannot be solved by the farmers alone, but the majority opinion is that there is no legislative remedy for agriculture. It is an economic question pure and simple and must be worked out accordingly.

A few years ago it was contended that agriculture did not have sufficient credit facilities. That proposition was often made a political question. I do not presume there are many who will question the fact that agriculture now has ample credit facilities.

Mixing Farms and Factories
It is a fact that no community and no agriculture. It is not the interest of New York and other great centers to see the small communities and the agricultural sections losing their wealth and importance. In the end it will react upon them to their disadvantage.

There seems to me a real remedy for these small communities and also for agriculture. This remedy, which is the mixing of industry with agriculture, is now being applied in many localities with satisfactory results.

Industry and agriculture are better balanced in Ohio, North Carolina and Pennsylvania than in any other states of the Union, and in these states there is no serious agricultural problem and we hear little complaint from the farmers. This mixing of industry and agriculture is called by some decentralization of industry. I would not suggest that manufacturing institutions move from the cities to the small villages, but I do think it would be better for this country for future industries to be placed in these small villages rather than to be further congested in the great centers. This would in part also be a solution of our labor problem. The bringing of industries to small villages increases the market for agricultural products, gives employment to surplus labor, elevates the standards of living, increases public revenue, reduces taxes and vastly increases educational facilities.

Mixing Industry With Agriculture Means Prosperity for Rural Districts

Two Striking Examples
I believe I can give you two striking examples from my own state to prove this proposition, and I mention these because I am more familiar with conditions there than elsewhere.

Twelve years ago Kingsport, Tennessee, had a population of about one thousand. Great industries like a large camera company, a big cement plant and a number of other industries were located there partly through the influence of an outstanding New York business man. In a little more

FIRE DESTROYS STORE AT HAGEVO; LOSS IS $10,000.00

Fire of an unknown origin, discovered about 12:05 o'clock on Wednesday morning, destroyed the store of the Hagevo Supply Co., at Hagevo Somerset county with an estimated loss of $10,000. Patton capital is invested in this concern. The Winburne fire department responded to a call for aid but was unable to cope with the situation when they could not reach a water supply with their pumper. The firemen concentrated their labors on keeping the flames from spreading and by valiant work with buckets and garden hose, kept the blaze checked.

SEE NO DECREASE IN EXAMS.

Additional examinations held at regular intervals throughout the state indicate no decrease in the number of those who wish to secure licenses from the state insurance department to become agents for the various lines, Matthew H. Tazger, the commissioner said during the week.

Prospective life insurance agents always outnumber those in other lines at least four to one. At the last regular series of examinations 415 applicants to sell life insurance qualified as opposed to 63 for fire and 102 for casualty insurance.

COUNTY BUYS AUTOMOBILE.

The board of county commissioners on Wednesday afternoon awarded a contract for the furnishing of an automobile for the use of the superintendent of highways and bridges to the Ebensburg Buick Co., of the car shown being a five passenger 6-cylinder four door Buick Sedan at the price of $1350. There were 14 bids submitted.

COUNTY BUYS LUMBER.

The board of county commissioners on Wednesday afternoon awarded the contract for the furnishing of 22,500 feet of bridge lumber to F. E. Cooper Lumber Co., of Johnstown, on its low bid of $47.50 per thousand feet. There were four grades of lumber advertised for and for that reason there were four bids submitted by certain of the bidders.

HENRY L. CANNON,
County Controller.

BLONDS SCARCE, SO SAYS EXPERT

That's the Reason Gentlemen Prefer Them.

Chicago.—The reason why gentlemen prefer blonds is that there are more dark than light-haired women in the world.

For every golden-locked preference, Mrs. Ruth J. Maurer, beauty expert, says there are nine dusky-haired second choices.

"Gentlemen prefer blonds," observed Mrs. Maurer, whose experience of the past twenty years have brought her into contact with 50,000 blonds, brunettes and red heads, "because they are hard to find. Dark-haired women, according to beauty statistics, outnumber them ten to one.

"Another reason why men like them better is that masculine eyes focus like moving picture lenses. Blondes 'talk' better than brunettes. Light hair and eyes illuminate the human retina just as they do the silver screen.

"Blonds, though, aren't like blonds. They are blue blonds or pale pink blonds or strawberry, peach, ash, gold or red blonds. There are 18 distinct shades of hair among the people of the white race. There are also 18 different colored eyes. There are 12 independent complexions.

"A pale pink blond usually has a delicate strawberry complexion and China blue or moss-green eyes. A blue blond as a rule possesses an almond skin and occasionally dark hazel or light brown eyes. An ash blond is drab with chrome or light blue eyes.

"The scarcity of pure blonds accounts for the popularity of the peroxide bottle over the dye pot. Proportionately there are a greater number of bleached blonds than dyed-in-the-hair brunettes.

"The typical American girl is a brunette, a warm brunette, with peach skin and hazel or medium brown eyes."

PATTON SUFFERS DEFEAT.

The Nanty-Glo Firemen defeated the Patton Pirates at basketball on Tuesday evening by a score of 33 to 24. This is the second defeat the Pirates encountered at the hands of Nanty-Glo.

LUIGI ROTONDARO.

Luigi Rotondaro, aged 64 years and a retired employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, died of a complication of ailments on Wednesday morning at his home in Cresson. He is survived by his widow and a number of children. The funeral services will be held at ten o'clock on Friday morning in St. Francis Xavier's Catholic church at Cresson and interment will be in the cemetery at the Summit.

Well the Groundhog saw his shadow good and plenty, today.
