"Electricity!—The Power of the Republic"

SAYS WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE
Author and Editor Emporia Gazette

"The democracy that really counts has come as a result of industrial and economic forces by giving men and women better wages, shorter hours and more self respecting conditions of labor. The worker, growing up in these conditions of self-respect, no longer is willing to drudge. Hence the demand for electric power."

Supplying electric light and power to the nation is not merely a business. It is a public service that forever frees men from the tyranny of excessive burden; that spells the difference between less toil and more comfort; less confinement and more leisure; less poverty and more wealth. It is the measure of human prosperity and happiness.

Every time electrical service is extended; every time there is a new labor saving device introduced in the home or in the factory; labor is made more useful and productive, the individual is released for those pursuits which make for better government and civilization is broadened and strengthened.

The production of electric energy in the United States has doubled every five years since Edison invented the electric bulb. There is now generated in this country more electric power than is produced throughout all the rest of the world. If apportioned among all the workers in the U. S. it would give each worker the equivalent of 40 helpers.

Such wide-spread distribution of this vital force has been made possible through the splendid zeal of the electric power companies of this country. It presents unmistakable evidence of the efficiency of the American principle of individual initiative in the development and operation of the electrical facilities of this country. The continuance of this principle is essential to maintain progress.

CONTRIBUTING TO A TOWN'S GROWTH

The courageous merchant or manufacturer who builds up a big business in any community contributes to that community more than he ever personally takes out. The bigger the business or the industrial units, the bigger the town or city, and citizens should never fail to show appreciation for increased values all down the line.

Back of all business activities is the service rendered by banks and financial institutions. This bank has always taken a keen delight in contributing in its small way to the upbuilding of Patton. It stands ready and willing at all times to lead its facilities to any worthy enterprise which ultimately is for a bigger Patton.
