W. R. MOREHOUSE

Nothing to convey any other impression. Apparently it was open and above board and was being conducted by men who were contributing their time gratuitously. It was claimed that the promotion had the support of the Chamber of Commerce, but it did not have any such endorsement.

Thousands of people, touched by the appeal for help, bought tickets, the total sale running into the thousands of dollars. Contrary to the belief of the ticket buyers their contributions did not go 100 per cent to charity.

In other words, every person who bought a 50 cent ticket for the sake of charity, contributed but 13 cents to charity and 37 cents to those promoting the scheme.
