BACHELOR'S IDEAL

Miss Spynster—I often think what a pity it is you have never married, Mr. Batch.
Mr. Batch—Really? Well, I have wished many times lately that I had a wife.
Miss Spynster (coily)—Have you?
Mr. Batch—Yes. If I had a wife she would have a sewing machine, and the sewing machine would have an oil-can, and I could take it to my office and oil the door. It squeaks dreadfully.

The Horseman

A little lad was telling some of his boy friends about the wonderful uncle he had, and said: "Yes, and you should see him ride a horse!"
His mother overheard this last remark and said: "Uncle can't ride a horse, sonny."
The little boy replied: "You must be mistaken, mother. Uncle can ride a horse. Do you think he would bet on a horse that some one else rides!"

SMALL LOSS

"Oh, gracious! What'll I do? Baby has swallowed a penny!"
"Aw, jes make it easy on yerself, Honey! A penny ain't much after all."

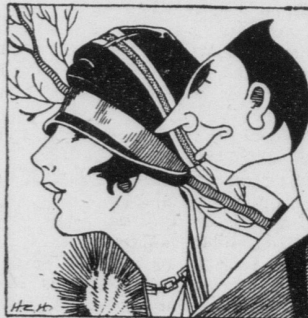

Sad, if True

There was a fellow named Hall,
Who fell in the spring in the fall,
'Twould have been a sad thing,
Had he died in the spring,
But he didn't, he died in the fall.

Getting Personal

Mrs. Willie—Don't you know it's very rude to whistle while you are waiting on a lady?
Grocer's Boy—Well, the gov-nor told me to do it when I served you?
Mrs. W.—He told you to whistle?
Boy—Yes'm. He said if ever we sold you anything we'd have to whistle for the money.

DRIFTING APART

She—They were at sea when they were married.
He—Now they are drifting apart.

Not the Thing

Yes, from the same canteen we drank;
We fought in other climes,
But doctors call it nanky-pank
These sanitary times.

Which?

Rub—I've driven this car six years and never had a wreck.
Dub—You mean you've driven that wreck six years and never had a car.

A Modern Antique

Dealer in Antiques—Yes, this cake basket belonged to Queen Elizabeth.
Customer—But it's labeled "Birmingham!"
Dealer—It was presented to her by the city.

His Technique

Jones—No one can understand, Brown on the telephone.
Smith—Or course not—he seems to think the mouthpiece is a drinking fountain.

The Same to Him

Zoo Visitor—Do you believe in evolution?
Monkey Keeper—I can't help it. Sometimes I kinda forget where I am and when I happen to look up I can't decide whether I'm in the cage or outside.

Strange Conduct

"That heiress is going to marry a struggling young man."
"If she's a sure enough heiress what's he strugglinz for?"

WIFE'S STRENGTH

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

—My mother had E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I decided to take it for my own troubles and found great relief. I was hardly able to stand on my feet sometimes and now I feel better than I have for several years. I credit the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with my health. I have taken five and I am now able to do housework and sewing, feed milk the cow and tend the garden. —Mrs. J. C. x 249, Schoolfield, Vir.
