MYSTERIOUS RACING CAR TO COMPETE AT ALTOONA MEET

The mysterious front wheel drive racing car whose every detail has been cloaked in mystery since its construction several months ago at Los Angeles, California, by Harry Miller, celebrated American engineer, is to compete in the International Speed Sweepstakes at the Altoona Speedway on Saturday, August 18th.

Ralph Hepburn, former world motorcycle champion, who was workman in the past three years as a pilot of racing automobiles, was named by Miller as the driver of the unique car. It is said by racing authorities to be one of the fastest ever built.

Runners of the special car being built by Miller were heard last spring shortly after the late Frank Lockhart began his preparations at Daytona Beach to set a new world straight-away record, and while no known tests were held on any course, experts declare the car would surpass the phenomenal mark set by Lockhart a year ago at Muroc Lake of 171 miles an hour.

Lockhart's car and this new development of Miller's genius are both of only 91 cubic inch piston displacement, which makes the new car a Ford motor, Lockhart's was of the conventional rear-wheel drive design. Engineer already gathered at Altoona from all over the country for the August 18th classic say that the rumored success of Miller's new car must be due to the huge super charger, which can be seen projecting above the gleaming motor, and the intricate air cooling device which permits motor speeds in excess of 8000 revolutions a minute.

The new car is expected to make its first appearance on the giant bowl at Altoona within the next few weeks. Hepburn stated he was anxious to begin practicing with his mount just as soon as the army of workmen has completed the elaborate program of replacements in the racing deck, being made to lessen the hazards facing the drivers in their bitter contest on August 18th.

The advance crews of mechanics and other attendants have already started flowing into Altoona, getting their special garages ready for the racing cars, which will begin to arrive in a few days.

WHAT TO DO AT "THROUGH" STOP SIGNS JUST PLACED

Motorists approaching a "through" highway are not required to stop at the warning sign, usually several yards from the intersection, but must stop just before entering the "through" highway with its heavy traffic. Samuel Eckels, chief engineer of the Department of Highways, announces. This is to dispel the confusion which some drivers are experiencing.

The stop signs are placed in advance of the intersection, and the motorist he is about to enter a heavily traveled highway and for his safety. As long as the driver halts before entering the "through" highway, the requirements of the law are met.

Shirey, of Johnstown, in charge of the Gallitzin district, who is being assisted by his staff inspectors. The survey will embrace about 250 plantations with trees of various ages, the seedlings having been supplied in recent years by the Department of Forests and Waters as a part of its reforestation program. In making the inspection, data is secured on each area and when completed a report will be made to the state department at Harrisburg. The plantations are being examined as to the height of the trees, soil condition, insect and fungi damage, adaptability of species to certain sites and the establishment of the percentage of growth of trees. It is planned by the local forestry staff to make a special study of the plantations after the present survey is finished.
