HER STRONG POINT

Employer (interviewing would-be lady clerk)-Where were you last em-

Girl-In a doll factory. Employer-Doll factory? What did you do there?

Girl-I was making eyes. Employer-Very well, you're hired, but don't demonstrate your capabili-ties when my wife is about.

That's Right

Bridget and Pat were studying the law of compensation.
"Accordin' to this," said Bridget, "whin a man toses one sense his others are more developed." "Sure an' Oi've noticed it," exclaimed Pat. "Whin a man has one leg shorter than the other, begorra, the other's longer."

CASTS 'EM IN THE SHADE

She-"Your brother casts all other business men in the shade? Remarkable, I think." He—"Well, at least all those who use his goods-he's a window blind manufacturer."

Eternal Dissatisfaction

Let's talk about the weather,
As seasons drift along;
And lift the shout together,
"Whatever Is, Is Wrong!"

Our Fellow Creatures

Her Husband-What do you want with a horse? We have two cars and you don't ride horseback.

Mrs. Goodsole-I know that. But horses are becoming so scarce each member of our Good Deeds club has pledged herself to keep at least one horse to feed the starving horseflies.

Well Enough

Enumerating the Things

Miss Dill-Don't think I'm as stupid as you are. I know a thing or two. Mr. Hollownut—You know a thing or two? What, f'r instance? Miss Dill-Well, you're one of them and then there are several more simps like you.
