

PERSONAL AND LOCAL NEWS NOTES OF PATTON AND THE IMMEDIATE VICINITY

SEND US ALL THE NEWS YOU KNOW AND HELP FILL THIS DEPARTMENT. EVERY LITTLE ITEM HELPS MAKE THIS PAPER JUST A LITTLE BETTER FOR ALL. SEND, BRING, MAIL THEM.

M. H. Gardner, Notary Public, at the Tozer Jewelry Co. The Patton Courier reaches you this week under the most difficult and we beg your indulgence in its appearance. Our linotype operator is still away, leaving only the editor to run the machine. The editor, either because of the election, or for some other reason took it upon himself to develop one of the nearest little doses of quinsy, and the first, in his experience. Of course, the quinsy and newspaper publishing don't jibe very well, and we are even wondering how any paper came out at all this week.

On Saturday evening, November 10th a cinch party will be held in the St. Augustine Church hall. Prizes will be awarded and after the games a baked ham and sauer kraut supper will be served. Bingo games will also be played. The public is invited to a good time for all and everybody welcome.

Don't forget that the American Legion will hold an Armistice Day dance next Monday evening, November 12th in the Municipal hall, this place, that good music has been secured for the occasion and that square and round dancing will both feature. Preceding the dance, starting at 5:30 the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary will hold a supper in the Freeman's hall. Plan to attend both these events.

Firman Bailey motored to Johnstown Saturday and while there attended the Johnstown and Portage football game. Mr. and Mrs. Francis McCormick and daughter, Rosemary, of Buffalo, N. Y., are the guests of Mrs. Mary McCormick of this place for several weeks.

HERE'S THE ONE BIG BAZAAR YOU HAVE BEEN WAITING FOR—All plans are now completed by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. George's church for their annual bazaar to be held in the former Duzinsky Meat Market Room on Wednesday, Thursday Friday and Saturday of next week. It's going to be something out of the ordinary and the general public is cordially invited to attend.

A LITTLE BIT ABOUT THE INSIDE TEMPERATURES, HERE

In this age of luxury the average person is sometimes inclined to carry matters a bit too far. For example with steam heat inside and freezing weather outside, the general tendency is to be entirely too comfortable by maintaining a dangerous indoor temperature. This, indeed, a foolish practice," said Dr. Theo. B. Appel, secretary of the state board of health, during the past week.

"Just because one has a good supply of coal is no excuse for anyone to see how quickly it can be consumed. Nevertheless, according to the temperatures consistently maintained in many homes it would be a fair deduction that the householder's concern was that—and nothing more. It is surprising how many of these people will risk their health in a temperature of eighty degrees inside, with freezing conditions outside, and yet in summer time vigorously complain about hot weather when the thermometer registers anything above seventy degrees—a hazardous perversion of nature, indeed. "All other things being equal, the household that fixes 68 to 73 degrees as the winter heat standard is the one whose members will enjoy the best health and suffer least from the cold season's hazards. And it seems to be too cold a temperature the fault is likely to be found in the individual. It frequently means that one's personal resistance to an entirely comfortable position is low. This is merely another way of saying that the highest state of personal health is not being enjoyed.

"The place to develop heat and comfort over the sixty-eight—seventy-two degree mark as shown by the thermometer, is in the body itself. To do this one must but observe the basic natural laws which involve plenty of exercise in the cold bracing air, wholesome foods, sufficient sleep and the elimination of all habits that tend to reduce body tone.

"Therefore, a little more attention to oneself and less to the pressure gauge of the furnace, will not only result in cutting the coal bill, and maintaining comfort, but eliminate many of the dangers that inevitably go hand in hand with rigorous weather and a super heated indoor temperature. Build up health and keep the thermometer down."

TWO ARE INJURED WHEN AUTO HITS TROLLEY CAR

Two people were injured and an automobile was demolished when a car driven by H. B. Litchfield of Philadelphia, collided with an inter-urban car of the Southern Cambria Railway Company on the William Penn Highway west of Ebensburg on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. H. B. Litchfield, wife of the driver of the car, was thrown through the windshield of the automobile and received severe cuts above the eye and forehead, a deep cut on the jaw which extended to the bone, and severe contusions about the ankle, head and body. She was treated at the office of an Ebensburg physician, and later with her husband left for Pittsburgh. Litchfield escaped with general contusions of the body.

According to witnesses Litchfield was driving west on the highway and mistook the interurban car for an approaching automobile, which he believed would turn out. After he discovered it was not an automobile, witnesses say, Litchfield attempted to turn out of the way of the traction car, but his automobile skidded on the wet pavement and crashed into the trolley car.

Durability Stands Out All Over This Home

THE POCATELLO—DESIGN NO. 5

ALMOST every house, whether it be mansion or the humblest cottage, has some outstanding characteristic which impresses one at first sight. Whether that impression is pleasing or otherwise often makes for extra expense in construction without adequate return in the way of roominess, beauty, and comfort.

And the floor plan speaks for itself, telling of large, comfortable, and well lighted rooms, of ample closets and no waste of valuable space. Both floors are laid out with every consideration for convenience. It is a plan that seems to meet every requirement and omit nothing.

On the first floor living and dining rooms are both large and well lighted. The second floor, reached by a center stairway from the living room, provides three extra large sleeping rooms and bath, with a sleeping porch in the rear. Altogether it is ideal.

The Common Brick Manufacturers' Association, Cleveland, Ohio, can furnish complete drawings for this design. Lead brick construction sent upon request.

KENTUCKY REMOVES AUTO LICENSE LIMIT Kentucky's motor vehicle officials have informed the state highway department that the 1928 legislature of that state adopted a ruling of license reciprocity. Non-residents of Kentucky who have complied with the license laws of their own states will be permitted to operate any length of time in the calendar year, within the borders of that state, without procuring Kentucky license. Changes in the license rulings of Maine also have been received. This state has a reciprocity which meets that of any other state as to length of time foreign license may be used. If the non-resident is not required by his home state to carry an operators' card, however, the new Maine laws require him to carry a new Maine license to operate in that state. Reciprocity rules of Pennsylvania are moulded over a half-way policy which extends to other states the same courtesies which are extended to Pennsylvania motorists by the other states. STATE REVOKES 113 MORE LICENSES OF THE DRIVERS The Pennsylvania Department of Highways' war against violators of the State Motor Code took its heaviest toll in recent weeks during the period ending November 1st, it was announced this week. During that one week 113 motorists forfeited their right to drive motor cars in the state because of convictions of violations of the state motor code. It was during the same period that the department placed the names of sixteen other drivers on the blacklist. As usual, driving while intoxicated, was the principal cause of license revocation. Forty-seven drivers were penalized on that count, while transportation of liquor cost the licenses of six other drivers. Reckless driving resulted in the revocation of 22 licenses.
