"ON WITH THE SHOW" AT GRAND THEATRE

First 100% Natural Color, Talking, Singing, Dancing Vitaphone Picture

Sunday Midnight, Monday and Tuesday Grand Theatre will present "On With the Show." Warner Bros. first 100% natural color, talking, singing, dancing Vitaphone picture.

"On With the Show" besides the glamour of back stage life—it is a play within a play, combined with tender heart story, with the fantasy that is in the extravaganza which the stranded company of players are determined to put on, despite the fact that the "ghost" refuses to walk.

Georgious costumes and settings are seen in their own brilliant coloring, and the untinng make the players all but living. Beside the great cast, "On With the Show" has a chorus of dazzling beauties, numbering over one hundred.

One of the interesting things about this story is the fact that it is the first play of Humphrey Pearson, who went to Hollywood for his health, casually flung his brain-child into the Warner Bros. lot—to find himself a fortnight later—with a job as a special writer for them, and with "On With the Show" in production.

Robert Lord did the screen adaptation. The cast includes Betty Compson, Arthur Lake, Sally O'Neil, Joe E. Brown, Louise Fazenda, Ethel Waters, William Bakewell, Fairbanks Twins, Sam Hardy, Wheeler Oakman, Lee Moran, Otto Hoffman, Harry Gibson, Farnell B. Pratt, Josephine, Henry Fink, Thomas Jefferson and Tom O'Brien, Alan Crosland directed.

BILLIE DOVE AND ROD LA ROCQUE TEAMED FOR FIRST TIME

Motion picture fans will see beautiful Billie Dove and Rod La Rocque playing together for the first time in "The Man and the Moment," the first National Vitaphone talking picture which comes to the Grand Theatre Friday and Saturday, Oct. 18 and 19.

Both Miss Dove and Mr. La Rocque, as well as the entire cast have stage experience which stood them well in the many talking sequences. It was directed by George Fitzmaurice and is said to be one of the greatest romances ever screened.

* WEEKLY HEALTH TALK *

"The other day a man was indicated to a friend as an unfortunately suffering from high blood pressure. That statement was received with due solemnity. The apparently unappreciated point was that every living person has blood pressure; and, on the other hand, that all dead lack it," said Dr. H. H. Appel, Secretary of Health, Tuesday.

"Blood pressure is the power that courses the life fluid through the circulatory system thus feeding the body tissues. It is as essential to existence as breathing, sleeping and eating. Life itself depends upon it.

"However, there is a distinction between blood pressure and abnormal blood pressure. It is the latter that causes trouble. Nevertheless, a high blood pressure in this connection is not so much in the possession of high or low pressure as in the existence of such a condition and in not knowing that one has it.

"It is not too much to say that many people who, through a physical examination, have promptly discovered that they have an abnormal pressure, will live longer than others who are ignorant of their own physical limitations and ply the people with weak theory.

"Moreover, a blood pressure record of a given height may be in one person perfectly normal and in another definitely abnormal, depending upon many diverse factors. The causes of abnormal blood pressure are many. Many of them respond most readily to proper and consistent care. It therefore follows that the main question in this blood pressure business is to discover whether or not one has it in an abnormal form.

"It will, of course, not pay to develop a blood pressure complex, but most certainly it is good business annually to submit to a physical examination by a competent physician to check up on the heart and the other organs of the body. If the results of the inspection give one a clean bill of health, then continue to abide by the living rules so as to remain that way as long as possible. And if, by chance, the blood pressure is a bit off, follow the doctor's advice strictly and add many more years to your life than otherwise might be had. Make good and regular use of the annual physical examination."

BOND IS NO GOOD; RE-ARREST BAILEY

Joe Biondani, arrested last week by the State Police, when they raided a farm in Munster Township and discovered a still in operation, seizing a quantity of moonshine whiskey and who was later released on bail, was re-arrested Monday when it was discovered that his bondsman was not responsible, not having any real estate in his own name. Fortunato Facciani, of South Fork, was the bondsman for Biondani.

John Myrda, who was arrested at the same time as Biondani, will also be re-arrested for the same reason, Facciani also going on his bail.

SOME "DON'T'S" FOR THE PROSPECTIVE HUNTERS

- Don't forget your hunting license when you leave home, and be sure it's commissioned.
- Don't forget to wear license tag in the middle of the back on the outer garment while hunting.
- Don't hunt on someone else's license. It'll cost you both $20.00.
- Don't hunt in crowds, and thereby avoid accidents.
- Don't forget to keep eye on the other fellow. He may not be as careful as you.
- Don't take a loaded shot gun into an automobile or other vehicle. Remove the shells first.
- Don't climb over a fence with a loaded shotgun. Remove the shells, or "break" the gun first. Don't pull a loaded gun through a fence after you. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.
- Don't shoot promiscuously while in the field or woods; and never use a live tree as a target. Target practice, unless you have substantial barrier constructed, is a menace to human life.
- Don't throw away lighted matches, cigars or cigarettes.
- Don't empty your pipe on a pile of dried leaves.
- Don't hunt on posted lands without permission. Respect the farmer's right. Don't carry off personal property on land where you are privileged to hunt. Hunters who fill the pockets with apples, turkeys, corn and nuts, without permission, do not help the farmer-hunter problem.
- Don't forget to secure the license number of the hunter who violates the game laws, destroys personal property, or one who commits larceny of the farmer's crops. Turn this number in to your nearest Game Protector. Be sure to get the county number at the top of the license number at the bottom of the tag. If you can't secure either, then if the hunter has an automobile, get his automobile license number.
- Don't shoot within 150 yards of occupied buildings. It's a violation of the game laws.
- Don't enter the Primary of Auxiliary Game Refugees with dog or gun. These sanctuaries belong to the sportsmen and are used to propagate large and small game. Land adjacent to the refugees, however, is open to legalized hunters in season.
- Don't exceed the bag limits.
- Don't forget the season for Wild Turkeys and male Ring-necked Pheasant begins November 1 and ends November 15.
- Don't shoot a female Ring-necked Pheasant. It'll cost you $25.00.
- Don't forget the season for squirrels, rabbits, and bats begins October 1 and ends November 30.
- Don't forget wood ducks, elder ducks, swans, loons, grebes, and bobolinks or reed-birds are protected.
- Don't forget the season for Ruffed Grouse and Hungarian Partridges is closed this year.
- Don't forget the hunting and trapping season for raccoons begins November 1 instead of October 1 and ends on January 15. Raccoons may be hunted only between one hour before sunset and one hour after sunrise, except when taken intraps.
- Don't shoot a baby Bear; they're protected. The bear season opens November 1 and ends December 15.
- Don't shoot a doe this year—only bucks with two or more points to the antler are in season. The season is December 1 to December 15.
- Don't forget to take some feed for the game along with you, and place it in likely places in the woods.
- Don't forget the bounty on the Gosawk begins November 1 and ends May 1. Specimens must be forwarded the Commission within 36 hours after killing.
- Don't forget that there is a heavy penalty for shooting at, wounding, killing human being in mistake for any wild creature.
- Don't forget that it is unlawful to deface, cover up or destroy posters or other signs put up by the Commonwealth.
- Don't forget that sportsman is:
One who is always and generous.
One who has recourse to nothing illegitimate.
One who is a good loser and a graceful winner.

BUCKWHEAT YIELD IS HIGH DESPITE CUT IN ACERAGE

Pennsylvania farmers have produced annually during recent years approximately twice as much buckwheat as was produced in the Commonwealth of requirement in St. Mary's Catholic Department of Agriculture. Even during the last 40 years the average acre yield of buckwheat has been increased from 10 to 22 bushels, so that in spite of the decrease of approximately 4000 acres in area producing the crop, the production has increased over 1,500,000 bushels.

Pennsylvania produces on the average more buckwheat than any other State. Buckwheat is a clean and healthy crop which Pennsylvania now and then, but has happened less frequently in recent years than formerly.

Bradford and Tioga counties have been the leading producers of buckwheat for several decades. Bradford county has the distinction of producing more buckwheat than any other county in the United States, and Bradford and Tioga together are credited with an average total crop greater than any of the states, except New York, West Virginia, Minnesota and Pennsylvania.

SPANGLER HOSPITAL STAFF HAS DINNER

The dinner-meet held by members of the Spangler Hospital staff on Wednesday of last week at the Brandon Hotel, was a nice affair and a success from all angles. Medical men and ladies were seated at tables in the bridge room of the hotel, where the addresses of the evening were given by Dr. George and the Cresson Sanatorium and Dr. Joseph J. Meyer, of Johnstown, being heard on subjects pertaining to tuberculosis, its cause and the treatment of the disease. Both men held the attention of their audience while they gave statistical facts dealing with their topic, one that is arousing the interest of nations.

Dr. E. F. Arble, of Carrolltown, served as Chairman and introduced the visiting guests to the others present. The evening was given by Dr. H. W. Salus, Mrs. Joseph J. Meyer and Mrs. Harry M. Tarr, of Johnstown; Dr. and Mrs. C. L. McCoy, of Hastings; Dr. and Mrs. W. A. Blair, of Spangler; Dr. F. H. Ketter, of John Murray, of Patton; Dr. G. R. Anderson and Dr. B. C. Mrs. Fisher had been a resident of Patton for the past twenty-eight years, and is well known to most of our readers. She lived with the W. H. Denlinger Sr. family for most of the period of her residence here. Six years ago she was united in marriage to Mr. Lemuel Fisher. No children were born to the union.

Mrs. Fisher was fifty-five years of age, and was born in Houtzdale, Clearfield county, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Beardsley, of Houtzdale.

STATE IS LEADER IN MOVE TO KEEP PRISONERS BUSY

Pennsylvania county prisons under the jurisdiction of the State Welfare Department provide more work for their prisoners than the county prisons of any other ten States of the Union combined, according to a report of a recent investigation by the Russell Sage Foundation sent to officials at Harrisburg.

The report refers only to inside work provided and does not cover the farms or road building projects on the outside. Mrs. E. S. H. McCauley, State Welfare Secretary, pointed out that it has long been the aim of the department to keep all prisoners busy whether in the county prisons or in the State Penitentiaries. Mrs. McCauley together with other Pennsylvania Prison officials is convinced that the tendency toward idleness in the establishments to rot among prisoners is materially reduced when all are kept busy.

With this thought in view, the bill providing for regional county prison farms passed at the last session of the Legislature permits several counties to combine in the establishment of one or more farms or to establish their own farms. Products for use in the prisons may be raised and aside from the economy of such a system, the prisoners can be kept busy which was the main motive for the introducing of the bill.

FOOTBALL GAME CHANGED FROM SATURDAY TO FRIDAY

The date of the annual High School Football Classic of Northern Cambria County has been changed from Saturday, October 19, to Friday, October 18, when Ebensburg High School meets the Patton High School at Patton.

Intense interest is being shown in this game as Ebensburg defeated Patton last year with a score of 7-0, and the boys from the Northern end of the county are very anxious to avenge the defeat of last year over the lads from the county seat.

Ebensburg will perhaps present a slightly heavier team, a little better reserve strength, and the experience of having played more games this year; while Patton will probably make up for this handicap by the aggressive attitude they show in preparing for this game. At any rate the High School Football Fans are sure to see a real struggle when these two teams line up against each other at 4 o'clock, next Friday afternoon.

CRESSON LAD IS INJURED WHILE PLAYING FOOTBALL

Charles Vail, aged 19, son of Squire F. W. Vail of Cresson, suffered a concussion of the brain Sunday afternoon in a football game at Gallitzin. Cresson defeated Gallitzin 13 to 0 and during a scrimmage in the third period young Vail, playing his first game of the season, suffered his injuries, which in addition to the head injury, included the loss of several teeth and a possible fracture of a jaw. His condition is reported as favorable.

WILL INVESTIGATE REPORTS OF AUTOS REFUSED STICKERS

Patrol to Probe Cases Where Approval Was Withheld

Names of several hundred owners of motor cars which were refused "inspected and approved" stickers by official examining stations have been turned over to Captain Wilson C. Price of the State Highway Patrol, for investigation. There is a possibility that registration of many of these cars will be withdrawn.

On the report blanks sent to the Motor Vehicle Bureau by examining stations is a space in which reasons are given for refusal of the "approved" sticker. Refusal may be based on insufficiency of brakes, improper lighting systems and lamps, or other causes. One such report showed four items in which the car failed to meet requirements, and an added note declared that "owner refuses to make repairs."

Captain Price's men will visit each of these car owners personally and the car will be taken to some other station than that which refused its approval. If the same condition is discovered, and if the owner refuses to make repairs, the Patrol will recommend that the machine's license to operate in Pennsylvania be revoked.

Reports received by the bureau show that during the first two weeks of the compulsory inspection campaign approximately 190,000 cars and trucks visited examining stations. In other words, during one-third of the inspection period of six weeks one-tenth the motor vehicles registered were inspection.

"Only four weeks remain," said Motor Vehicle Commissioner Eymon today. "In that period nearly 1,800,000 cars and trucks must go to the examiners. I expect that two-thirds this number will put it off. During the last two weeks of the campaign, therefore, 4800 examining stations must inspect 1,200,000 machines. I doubt that they can do it—but that will be the hard luck of dilatory owners; no one else."

JOHN BRAWLEY EXPIRES AT RESIDENCE IN SUMMIT

John Brawley, aged 72, veteran carpenter and lifelong resident of Cambria county, died at 10 o'clock last Saturday night at his home at the Summit. He was born at Ebensburg, May 10, 1856, and was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Brawley.

Mr. Brawley and Miss Annie Durbin in St. Augustine were married in 1881 in St. Patrick's Catholic church, Gallitzin, by the late Rev. Father Bush. Mr. Brawley is survived by his widow, and the following children: Mrs. Bertram Lilly; Mrs. Stella Hertzog, Clevealand, O.; Mrs. Mary Friedhoff, of Cresson; James Brawley, Gallitzin, and Carl and Paul Brawley, both of Cresson.

Mr. Brawley was a brother of Mrs. Joseph O'Neal, the Summit, and Frank Brawley of the Summit.

Funeral services were conducted at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning in St. Aloysius' Catholic church at the Summit, the requiem mass to be celebrated by the Rev. F. A. Magee, pastor. Interment was in the church cemetery.

WHAT FORD MOTOR COMPANY IS DOING IN THE AUTO WORLD

The Ford Motor Company today issued the following statement:

"Production of passenger and commercial cars during September, 1929, totalled 161,305 units, a heavy increase over production during the same month of the preceding year.

An increase in production schedule has been set for October, calling for an output of 175,000 Model A cars and Model AA trucks. The program for October anticipates a gain of 47,000 units over the production of October, 1928, when 127,225 units were produced.

Total Ford production of the first nine months of the current year aggregated 1,633,498 units. Advance schedule indicates that production of Model A Cars and Model AA trucks for the full year will exceed 2,000,000 units.

The program adopted for October means that the Rouge Plant will continue on a full five-day schedule. Employment in the Ford plants remains at a high level, with 108,133 employees working in the three large plants of the Detroit area on October 2."

TWO GOOD PLAYS

The other play also consisting of one act is entitled "Mr. Twichells Day is Ruined." If you are a believer of co-operation of husband and wife in life's work see this comedy. If you wish to see hear a real Romeo and a real Juliet, see "Mr. Twichells Day is Ruined."

Besides the two comedies a splendid program of other entertainment has been provided for you tonight at the Nagle School.

Supposing boys that you were girls and girls supposing that you were boys, and your man old Aunt, she had forbidden the entering of a man into the house while you were visiting her, and suppose that when your boyfriend called you let him in anyhow. You are seated in the parlor comfortably when in walked Aunt, that is the situation that confronted Jessie Ray in "Not a Man in the House," a two act play to be given next month at the Literary Society, the date of which will be announced later.

AIRPORTS INCREASE AS PENNSYLVANIA BECOMES ACTIVE IN AVIATION

Pennsylvania's "air-mindedness," a development of the last twelve months, has been strikingly emphasized in the dedication of the new airports in all parts of the State, and in requests which have reached Senator Reed and members of the State congressional delegation in Washington for Army and Navy planes as participants in the dedicatory programs.

Without exception, where requested to do so, the Navy has sent planes to the new Pennsylvania airports to fly on the day of dedication. The Army also participated until recently, when a new regulation was adopted restricting the participation of the Army Air Service to programs marking the dedication of publicly-owned flying fields. In several cities the municipalities or the counties, or the two together, have financed new airports, and in each instance of this character brought to the War Department's attention, planes are assigned to take part in the dedicatory flights.

Latest and largest of these celebrations, the dedication of the Pittsburgh-Butler airport, comprising some 700 acres of flat or gently rolling country lying between the two cities named, attracted scores of planes from all over the country. At the request of Senator Reed, the Navy sent several planes to the field.

Congressman Wyant of Greensburg, Leech of Johnstown, Swisher of the Beaver-Butler-Warren district, Turpin of Wilkes-Barre and Kieiss of Williamsport, were instrumental in obtaining Government planes in connection with the opening of new airports in their districts, as part of their service to constituents.

According to reports issued by the Department of Commerce, Pennsylvania ranks third in the number of airports with a total of 89, being exceeded only by California and Texas.

SAVE BITTERSWEET FOR BIRDS IS PLEA

Due to the scarcity of all foods for wild birds and game, protection of bitter-sweet shrubs is more important than usually, W. Gard Conklin, chief of the bureau of lands and refuges, said recently.

Conklin appealed to lovers of wild life to allow the bitter-sweet berries to remain in their natural environment rather than use them for alleys or decoration of mantles and walls.

Officials of the Game Commission say that bitter-sweet berries are an important item in wild life food because they do not fall from the vines until late in the winter and are thus accessible during heavy snowstorms.

Officials of the Department of Forests and Waters also have asked citizens to save the berries from the usual custom of tearing the shrubs from the ground and bearing them to city homes.

EARLY APPLICATION AVOID TAG RUSH LATE IN DECEMBER

Between October 1 and October 15 the Motor Vehicle Bureau to-day reported to Charles Johnson, Secretary of Revenue, owners of 148,000 passenger vehicles received their 1930 license plates.

Applications for next year's tags were in the mails last week in September. On October 1 approximately 9000 were returned to the Motor Vehicle Bureau, checks attached, and the plates were in the mails.

"Pennsylvania is the only State in the Union which gives car owners three months' time in which to apply for plates for the ensuing year," said Motor Vehicle Commissioner Benjamin G. Eymon to-day. "In many states they are fortunate if they have two weeks. In Pennsylvania there is no reason for delays in filing applications, and no excuse for last-hour pandemonium. As a matter of fact, the last-minute rush is 'out', so far as this State is concerned. Whether the end of December comes the vast majority of car and truck owners will have had their plates for weeks or months—and the others will not drive their cars January 1.

Plates for 1930 are several inches shorter than those now in use and the Commonwealth as a result is saving the price of two miles of concrete road in manufacturing and mailing costs.

ROAD COMPLETED

Replacement of 3,563 miles of highway surface on Traffic Rd. 160 (Leg. 456) between Cairnbook and Reels Corners, Somerset County, was completed this week and will be opened to traffic as soon as the curing has advanced sufficiently, the Pennsylvania Department of Highways announced recently. Division Engineer C. R. Forbes, Hollidaysburg, who directed the work for the Department, reported completion to headquarters at Harrisburg.

Road 160 joins a county road leading north to Windber and forms the southern link, crossing the Lincoln Highway at Reel's Corners and connecting via a county road with U. S. Route 219 and the National Pike near Grantsville, Maryland. The new concrete section replaces badly worn macadam and improves the line and grade of the highway. Construction extended from Central City southward.

This project was started in 1928 and carried over the winter. The cost $184,701.06, is divided between State and County on a 50-50 basis.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish in this manner to extend our heartfelt appreciation to all those who assisted us in our recent bereavement, the illness and death of our beloved husband and father, Farrell Hopkins; for the floral offerings and for the use of cars at the funeral—Mrs. Farrell Hopkins and family.
