ANTHONY DUBULIS FATALLY INJURED

Patton Man Stepped in Front of Car While on Way to Work Early Tuesday.

Anthony Dubulis, aged about sixty years a well known resident of this place, while on his way to work at 6:20 o'clock on Tuesday morning at the Williams' mine at Ashcroft, was struck by an automobile driven by Alphonse Sheridan, also of this place, and was so badly injured that he died a short time later at the Miners' hospital at Spangler.

It is said that Mr. Dubulis in attempting to cross the road at a point near the Dry Run school house stepped directly in front of the driver, and that it was impossible for the driver to avoid hitting him. Mr. Sheridan hurried the man to the Miners' hospital immediately following the accident. A son of the victim was walking with him at the accident.

Anthony Dubulis was a native of Austria, but has been a resident of this country for many years. His wife preceded him in death, and he is survived by one son. He has been a resident of the Patton community for a number of years.

The funeral services were held at nine o'clock this Thursday morning in St. George's Catholic church. Following a high mass of requiem over the remains by the Rev. Father Adrian, the pastor, interment was in St. Mary's cemetery.

WEEKLY HEALTH TALK BY STATE PHYSICIAN

Dr. Theodore B. Appel Gives Some Advice Regarding Clothing of the Children in Winter.

"Fashion is a tyrant. Its mandates are explicitly obeyed throughout the world even though pain and great suffering are connected with them. For instance, today in Africa certain tribes slit lips and insert large wooden discs creating monstrous faces as viewed by modern civilization and representing beauty for the exponents of this painful custom," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health, this week.

"Not long ago, China, bound the feet of millions of its aristocratic girls bare to create the deformed, misshapen and crippled extremities which marked their unfortunate possessors of the elite. Again, tattooing of the entire body is even yet practiced with terrific suffering to the subject by some of the tribes in the South Sea Islands.

"But the aborigines and backward races have no monopoly in this business. As late as two generations ago in this country woman's dress reached its highest expression of discomfort and inconvenience, and was considered even much later than that frequently caused pain suffering and actual illness—all because fashion dictated it.

"Fortunately today, in civilized lands fashion has become more sensible. An alliance has apparently been made with nature. It follows that instead of disregarding natural rules fashion goes along with them to obvious benefit to everyone. But even here there are distinct limitations which for many seem to have been overlooked.

"Take, for example, the exposure attitude of many parents with respect to their young children during the winter season. They will wrap the child in furs from the chin down to the knees at which point protection ends and bare legs, being fashionable, begin. It is all right to argue that the children are hardened to such exposure. But where is the sense to it?

"On the other hand it is quite safe to say that hundreds of little people suffer actual discomfort from such a foolish practice and in many cases contract sore throats and colds by this extremely illogical frigid weather custom.

"Fashion, so far as winter is concerned, will not stop operating one hundred per cent efficiently until it orders men, women and children alike to dress according to the weather rather than by the mandate of a whim. And a good way to make a first assault against that whim is to put stockings on all the youngsters in winter time."

LULL IN MARRIAGE MART.

Last Friday was one of the rare days when not a single marriage license was issued in the Cambria county court house. This has not occurred for many months. The marriage license bureau was quite rushed before Thanksgiving, but there was a reaction after the holiday. Register Charles A. McIntyre said there would not likely be another rush before spring.

Famous Pilot May Come Here to Aid in Search for Lost Flier

Search for Lost Aviator Will Be Made in Patton Section During the Course of Today.

Working upon the information furnished by two Patton men, the search for Thomas P. Nelson, missing air pilot, will swing into Northern Cambria county early this morning in the hope of finding the aviator who was reported missing over this section of Pennsylvania early on Monday morning. The Cambria county angle has been brought to the attention of the searchers through the Johnstown Democrat, and none other than the famous pilot, Chas. A. Lindbergh may search the wilds of Chest, White and Reade Townships some time today.

C. W. and C. H. Forsberg, of East Magee avenue left Patton early Monday morning to hunt deer in Chest township. About 6:30 o'clock they had arrived at the cross roads near the boundary line of Chest and White townships where the road to the left leads to St. Lawrence, the right road to Fringality and the road ahead to Fringality. It was here that the Forsberg brothers reported having first heard a noise similar to the hum of an airplane motor and a few minutes later saw a flare dropped from the sky. Visibility at the time of the morning was poor and the hunters were unable to see the plane, but the flare was readily seen as it dropped from a considerable altitude and dropped some distance away.

With scores of pilots scouring Clarion and Venango counties since Monday morning without results and with aviators flying hundreds of miles to run down the slightest rumors, the story of the Forsberg brothers will, of course, be another incentive for search. Col. Lindbergh is due to arrive in Bellefonte this morning, from where he will traverse the course taken by "Neil" Nelson, which appears to have been his final flight westward and there is a possibility that the famous aviator may include this section in his search today. The chances of Nelson's life are slim.

WILLIAM PENN HIGHWAY WILL BE OPENED DEC. 15

Concerning the Cresson mountain section of the William Penn Highway, the statement was made last week by Charles E. Forbes, chief engineer of division No. 6, headquartered at Hollidaysburg, that the paving of concrete for the winter had ceased and that the work would now progress to open the road by December 15th. The new portions of the road completed and old portions included to be rebuilt but yet untouched will be netted together and closed and ready for traffic by the date noted.

Of course, in spring there will be a further limitation of traffic on this section until completed but the work is in such shape now that the spring delay will be inconsequential as compared with the inconveniences suffered during the past summer.

An overheated furnace is believed to have caused the fire.

"SAY IT WITH SONGS" COMES TO GRAND

Al Jolson's New Picture, It Is His Best All-Talking and All-Singing Picture

Al Jolson's new picture, "Say It With Songs"—Warner Bros. latest all-talking all-singing Vitaphone special, coming to the Grand Theatre, Monday and Tuesday next, is the story of a man who, by a trick of fate, loses loved ones, liberty and opportunity suffers imprisonment and finds peace through his devotion to a child—and the child is played by Davey Lee.

"Say It With Songs" is an all-talking, all-singing Vitaphone picture, and Mr. Jolson sings a number of exceptional new songs and several unforgettable old ones.

The story concerns Joe Lane a happy-go-lucky and improved but gifted song plugger who, just on the verge of success as a recording and broadcasting artist and accidentally kills his employer when he learns of the latter's unwelcome attentions to his wife. For this Joe goes to prison, leaving his wife to shift for herself and their child.

Believing that she has never been happy with him and realizing how ever after, Joe forces her to divorce him and she later considers marriage with a former admirer, now a famous surgeon. The child is put into a school and being unhappy there, follows his father, who has come to visit him, and is injured by a truck. Only a specialist can help the child and Joe takes him to his former wife's father for help. All ends happily and a blaze of joy, some melody, and everybody leaves the theatre in a glow of satisfaction.

Others in the cast are Marian Nixon, Holmes Herbert, Kenneth Thompson and Fred Kohler.

The story is by Darryl Frances Zuck and Harvey Gates. The talking scenario is by Joseph Jackson and Lily Bacon directed.

Jolson's songs include "Little Pal," "Why Can't You," "Used to You," "I'm in Seventh Heaven," "I'm Ka-ra-zy For You," "One Sweet Kiss" and "Back in Your Own Back Yard."

PATTON HIGH SCHOOL NOTES OF THE WEEK

As Reported to the Courier by Jim Shannon of the Student Body.

Many the students spent the week-end out of town owing to the Thanksgiving vacation. The majority of the teachers also visited with out-of-town friends.

Mr. Fleming spent the week-end in Wilkesburg.

The Senior Class Dance was so successful that they plan to hold another during the Christmas Holidays. The Senior Class wishes to thank those people who patronized the dance.

A movement is on foot to start a High School Orchestra. Mr. Fleming and Dorothy Henninger are backing up the movement. The idea is a fine one, and since Patton is one of the largest high schools in the county, it should have an orchestra.

A number of boys from Gallitzin, held a party at the home of Betty Greene on Thursday evening. Games and dancing furnished the chief entertainment. At a late hour, a lunch was served by the girls. Those present were the Misses Betty Greene, Jane and Ella Lowes Lorraine Tarr, Grace Shunkweiler, Mildred Smith, Ann Gregg, Marguerite Sharaugh, Myrtle Way, Esther Beck, Caroline Weiland, Mabel Fitzpatrick and Jeanne Blair, and the Messrs.
