On the Funny Side

ACCURACY

The local politician stormed up to the editor's home at a late hour and pounded on the door. When the editor appeared at the window above he shouted: "I've read your slander on me and I've come to throw the charge back in your teeth." "Well, be a good fellow," said the editor, yawning, "and throw it in the bathroom window. I've left my teeth in there."—Boston Transcript.

WHY THEY'RE SO CALLED

Wife—Why do they call the street-cleaners white wings? Hubby—Because they're like angels. Haven't you noticed that their visits to our street are few and far between?

The Greatest of Fish Stories

The best of fish yarns have been made apart from active glory. Perhaps old Jonah, in the shade, thought up his splendid story.

"Unspeakeable" Ones Best

Mrs. Withers had been to the talking pictures for the first time. "Ow did yer like it, Nell?" asked her friend. "All right enough, but to tell yer the truth, I'd rather 'ave been to one of the old unspeakeable ones."—London Passing Show.

An Ancestral Joke

Visitor (to butler, who is showing him through the picture gallery of the old mansion)—That's a fine portrait. Is it an old master? Butler—Oh, no, sir; that's the old missis!

Important

Old Lady—My poor man, I suppose you have had many trials in your life? Tramp—Yes, ma'am, but only one conviction.

Call the Wagon

"I can't express myself," said the Thoughtful One. "Of course not," retorted the Nut. "I've stock has to go by freight and in cattle cars."

A GOOD GOLFER

"Is he a good golfer?" "Oh, yes—always goes to church before he plays his Sunday game."

Just So

Some think dancing on the wane. They are rather lax. Everywhere you go you see Dancing on the wax.

Cinching It

Miss Plainsmith—Are you going to have your fiance present at your announcement luncheon? Miss Malinchance—Sure thing? He hasn't yet acknowledged it before witnesses.

More Noise

"Why can't you please that customer in a tie?" "He wants a gray tie." "We have plenty of gray ties." "He wants a loud gray."

Squirrel's Cage

"When are Joan and Ed to be married?" "Never, I'm afraid." "Why, how's that?" "Well, she won't marry him until he pays his debts, and he can't pay his debts until she marries him."

As You Were

He—Don't go. You are leaving me entirely without reason. She—I always leave things as I find them.—London Tilt-Bits.
