At Indiana, May 24, 12:00 P. M. Representatives of the Indiana State Teachers' College at the annual luncheon meeting of the Cambria County Alumni Association at the Capital Hotel, Johnstown on Saturday, warmly seconded the letter of invitation from Dr. C. R. Foster, President of the College, to come in a body to the Alumni Banquet at Indiana, Saturday May 24th at 12:00 Noon.

A large number of Alumni from various parts of the County assembled for the annual get together, and to hear Mr. Ray L. Huff formerly Principal of the Moorhead School of Pittsburgh and but now Director of the Bureau of Restoration, Department of Welfare of the State. The subject of his address was "Facts and the Horizon of Life." The part that the teacher may play in characterbuilding and the rehabilitation of communities so that there will be less incentive to crime was stressed in his illuminating talk which was followed by an interesting discussion further clarifying points made by the speaker. The guests from the College were introduced and responded briefly and inspiringly. Dean and Mrs. M. J. Walsh, Miss Jennie Ackerman, and Miss McGrath. Personal messages from Governor John S. Fisher, and Dr. John A. H. Keith were read by Miss M. Vashti Burr, Vice President who presided in the absence of the President, Frank P. Barnhart.

The Association voted to accept the invitation to return to the School for Alumni Day, May 24th and appointed the Secretary to request a Committee composed of one member of each Class to revise the Directory so that all Active and Associate members will be listed, and informed of the invitation to the School Banquet. All reservation for the Cambria county group must be made at the school about May 18th, wherefore it is necessary that the Secretary be notified promptly on the first date mentioned.

WAR VETERAN IS 93 YEARS OF AGE

John Montgomery of Sankertown, one of the few surviving Civil war veterans of that district, quietly observed his 93rd birthday anniversary at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary McCullough Friday. He was born April 25, 1873, in Newry, Blair county, a son of Michael and Margaret Lesky Montgomery, both long deceased. He was only 2 years of age when both parents passed away within a week of one another. They were among the pioneer settlers of Blair county.

Mr. Montgomery was united in marriage with Miss Susan Wilt, daughter of John and Margaret Adams Wilt of Newry, Feb. 22, 1858, in the Newry Catholic church. They made their home in Newry and St. Augustine until 1910, when they located in Lilly, where Mrs. Montgomery died in 1917. For seven years he made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Harry Trexler of Lilly, prior to coming to Sankertown in 1924, where he has since resided with his daughter, Mrs. McCullough.

He is the father of six children, three of whom are still living. They are Mrs. Harry Trexler of the Summit, Mrs. Harry McCullough of Sankertown and Matthew Montgomery of St. Augustine. He has eleven grandchildren and fifteen great-grandchildren.

In the spring of 1862, John Montgomery and his brothers, James, Matthews and Patrick, answered the call to arms. He served a three-year period and then reenlisted, serving with company D of the 184th regiment. James and Matthew were killed in action, while Patrick died a few years following the close of the conflict. He vividly recalls seeing President Lincoln riding a stage coach to Washington D. C. at the close of the war. Mr. Montgomery attributes his longevity to not eating between meals, and despite his advanced age, is enjoying excellent health. He is deaf in one ear, but has almost perfect sight. He has spent his entire life in farming and doing carpenter work.

STATE IS IN FIGHT TO SAVE THE TOTS

PROTECT children from tuberculosis is the slogan of a health campaign which is being carried on in April throughout Pennsylvania as part of a nation-wide project.

This health effort is sponsored by the National Tuberculosis Association and in Pennsylvania is directed by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society in co-operation with its 100 affiliated organizations. These agencies have the co-operation of physicians, public health officials and medical, civic and other organizations interested in the public health and welfare.

The importance of saving children from tuberculosis is emphasized by the fact that tuberculosis is the leading cause of death among Pennsylvania children between the ages 5 and 20, exclusive of accidents.

"The object is to impress upon parents and teachers," said Dr. H. R. M. Landis, president of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, "the fact that tuberculosis usually begins in childhood, lies dormant through the first few years of growth, and in early youth, when the strain of life begins to wear down resistance, breaks out as active disease."

Tuberculosis, which ranks sixth among the leading causes of death in Pennsylvania, greatly outnumbered all other diseases between the ages of 15 and 35. About one-fourth of the deaths of young men and women between the ages of 15 and 25 and about one-fifth of the deaths between 25 and 35 are caused by tuberculosis.

"The most serious feature of this situation is the large number of tuberculosis deaths among girls. Between the ages of 15 and 19 more than twice as many girls as boys die from tuberculosis, and of the total deaths among girls in this age group about one-third is from tuberculosis.

"This heavy toll of tuberculosis in the younger age groups calls for the strongest effort possible to protect children from this disease and lessen the chances of it developing in later years. Prevention is the important factor in this life-saving effort.

"Protecting children from tuberculosis and keeping them healthy is an important step in improving family, home and economic conditions."

Among the Pennsylvania organizations which are co-operating in this effort to save children are the following:

- Pennsylvania State Medical Society
- Pennsylvania State Department of Health
- American Legion
- Boys' Life
- Graduate Nurses' Association
- Knights of Columbus
- Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers
- Pennsylvania Council of Churches
- Pennsylvania Education Association
- Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association
- Pennsylvania Outdoor Advertising Association
- Pennsylvania Railroad
- Pennsylvania State Grange
- State Department of Labor and Industry
- State Department of Public Instruction
- State Federation of Labor
- State Sabbath School Association

When people begin to realize the significance of childhood tuberculosis, they will want to know how these infected children can be detected, and what measures are necessary to help them win the unseen, often unknown struggle going on within their bodies.

Two effective aids help the trained physician make the diagnosis. They are the tuberculin test and the x-ray. The first discloses the presence of infection, which may and may not mean that the child has what is called "childhood tuberculosis." What it does is to weed out all those who do not react to it, as being in no danger of the disease at the time. The others must be examined further. X-ray pictures are taken of their chests to determine if tuberculosis is actually endangering them.

Emphasis is being placed upon early examination by physicians of children who appear to be below par physically and the prompt treatment of those who give indication of having tuberculosis. For physicians there is available an authoritative 32-page booklet entitled, Childhood Type of Tuberculosis.

Literature and other material are available from county tuberculosis societies or the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, 311 South Juniper Street, Philadelphia.

Mertens Quality Bread MUST BE GOOD!

To RATE A SCORE Like This When ANALYZED

RUSSELL-MILLER MILLING CO.
OF NORTH DAKOTA MERCHANT MILLERS

Minneapolis, Minn., March 26, 1930

Mertens Bakery, Patton, Pa.

Gentlemen:

We received the two loaves of bread, one baked from Occident and one from Sweet Leaf High Strength, which were sent in to us from our Pittsburg office and wish to congratulate you on the excellent qualities these loaves possess. Both are exceptionally fine and there really is not a great deal to choose between them.

The matter of scoring bread is of course one of personal opinion or of judgment to a large extent as it is pretty hard to say in judging texture, for instance, whether it is 14 or 14½, against a possible 15, or whether 19 or 18 against a possible 20 in judging taste. It is pretty hard to reduce these intangibles to figures but we have done the best we can and are attaching hereto our score on these loaves. They rank up about as well as any bread that has come to our attention.

Yours very truly,

RUSSELL-MILLEL MILLING CO.

Old "Heat" and "Friction" are a Vicious Pair - but Sterling Oil Laughs at Them!

DON'T under-estimate these two. They're tough. One break in the oil film is all they need and Zam! Friction swings his sledge and Heat applies his torch, ever burn out a bearing? Then you will recognize that hammering and scorching.

They're underhanded. No warning from these two. You find what they're doing after they have done it.

Don't give them a chance! Use Sterling Motor Oil that knows every trick and has beaten them at every turn.

Many a Sterling protected motor they have watched—waited patiently over a thousand miles and then, thinking Sterling ought to be about all in, sneaked in for a death blow. Always they have found the old wall of resistance as strong as ever.

They have never licked Sterling Motor Oil yet—not when a driver hands over the job and lets this champion 100% Pure Pennsylvania lubricant fight it out alone.
