OUTDOOR RELIEF HEAVY

Mrs. Alice Llewellyn, Secretary of the Cambria County Poor Board, has submitted her report for the year ending December 31, 1929, to the Department of Welfare at Harrisburg. The report shows that the total number of days inmates were supported was 98,195.

The Cambria County Poor Board, it is shown, received $180,000 from the County Commissioners, while the other income included the sale of farm and garden produce to the amount of $460.77; sale of livestock, $848.77 and miscellaneous income, $311.50. The Poor Board also received $622.52 from expenses of inmates refunded by other poor districts, and $1,623.23 from expenses of inmates paid by themselves or their friends. This made a total income of $183,806.49.

Outside expenditures of the Poor Board, the report shows, included $4,468.75 for salaries to the Directors of the Poor; $468.75 to the solicitor of the Poor Board; $220.00 for clerks; $1,183.89 to physicians; $25.00 for auditing services, and $577.70 for miscellaneous expense. The office expenses of the Poor Board for the year amounted to $567.88, and traveling expenses of the members for the year were $2,972.35.

The report further indicates that the Poor Board paid $8,357.21 for the support of 62 mental patients (insane) in State or other hospitals, and $576.10 for the support of 33 feeble-minded patients in State training schools.

The largest single item of expense of the Poor Board according to the report, was that for outdoor relief to famines in their homes in the sum of $113,553.80. This amount included expenditures for groceries, coal, clothing, rent, cash, medicine and burial. The total outside expenditures, which included everything except poor farm and almshouse expenses, amounted $134,001.34.

The almshouse expenditures included $6,325.00 for salaries; $3,833.18 for medical attendance and supplies; $12,649.82 for expenses of the Poor Farm. General maintenance of the almshouse, which included expenditures for food, fuel, light and water, clothing, furniture, tobacco, supplies, burial of inmates, repairs and insurance, amounted to $25,199.10, making a total of $48,007.10 for poor farm and almshouse expenditures of $182,008.44, total of all expenditures of $183,806.49.

The cost of maintaining an inmate at the home was 48 cents per day.

The total almshouse population during the year was 459. On January 1, 1929, there were 266 inmates and on December 31 of the same year, 249. Outdoor relief was given to 963 families, totaling 3,643 individuals.

The statistical report of the Poor Board shows the county farm contains 154 acres of which 365 are under cultivation. The total value of buildings and stock is $214,090.00 and the value of farm products raised during the year was $32,800.05. The poor farm furnished the vegetables for the Children's Home and the County Jail.

FISHER TO LEAVE BIG CASH BALANCE

Governor Fisher will leave a cash balance in the state treasury of approximately $53,000,000 for his successor in office next January. State Budget Secretary Arthur P. Townsend predicted recently.

Only a substantial reduction in the state's receipts during the balance of the year, Townsend pointed out, could appreciably affect the predicted balance.

Townsend's report to the governor on the state's fiscal condition disclosed an approximately cash balance on hand of approximately $65,500,000 for the close of last month.

"If the revenues during the fiscal year," Townsend reported, "beginning June 1, come up to the expected $187,200,000, the anticipated demands of $170,000,000 can be met and the next governor will have a sizeable balance with which to begin the first fiscal year of his administration."

While the Fisher administration has expended $430,000,000 in three years, the greatest amount as compared to any corresponding period in the history of the state, the budget secretary stressed the point that it was not "a high increase in the cost of government, but rather an extensive investment in advantages which will be enjoyed by the taxpayers for years to come."

DOG IN TRAP FIVE DAYS FED BY FELLOW CANINE

BELLEFONTE, May 31.—John I. Gray, a farmer living in Halfmoon township, has an air-dale dog which is highly prized by members of the family. Ten days ago it disappeared and every effort to locate its whereabouts proved futile. Chester Eves lives on the farm adjoining the Gray homestead and has a dog which might be classed as of no particular breed. Several days after the disappearance of the Grays' air-dale members of the Eves family noticed that their dog would be missing for an hour or two at a time and they couldn't understand it, as he is not a dog that habitually goes away from home. They also noticed that a bone or piece of bread given him would disappear about the same time he did. So they decided to watch.

Putting out a large piece of bread they kept an eye on the dog. Instead of eating the bread he took it in his mouth and started off on a trot toward Bald Eagle mountain. The men followed him up the side of the mountain and they found not only the Eves dog but Gray's air-dale fast in a fox trap, the latter hungrily eating the bread that the Eves dog had carried to it. The air-dale was in the trap five days before it was found and during all of that time the Eves dog had been carrying food to it. The air-dale was released and taken home and in due time will be none the worse for its adventure.

CHILD SAVES BLIND MAN AS 19 FLEE FROM FLAMES

Nineteen persons, including one blind man who was led to safety by an eight-year-old girl, narrowly escaped serious injury at Lilly Friday night when fire of undetermined origin was discovered in the Fletcher George apartment building in Lilly. The loss, which is estimated at approximately $5,000, is covered by insurance, it is said.

The blaze was discovered shortly after 10 o'clock Friday night by Eddie Kearns, five-year-old son of Mrs. Susan Kearns. The child was in his bed in the room at the rear of the building when he noticed smoke curling down through the ceiling. Leaping from the bed, the youngster dashed downstairs, alarming his mother and other members of the family who, in turn, awakened the other occupants of the three-story frame structure.

Benjamin Derriocott, 45 a blind man who occupies quarters on the first floor of the building, was guided to safety by Alice Killinger, eight-step-daughter of Mrs. Kearns.

A diamond valued at $1,500 and weighing over two karats was found in the dirt, gravel, cinder and refuse gathered upon the spot where Pilot Brown, of the air mail force, made his forced descent in the region of Glen Ritchey a few weeks ago.

No Odds Too Great When These Three Ride The Highway » » »

A THUNDER of hoofs announced the approach of the three musketeers in the days of Louis XIV.

Today—the purr of smoothly running motors marks the coming of the Three Musketeers of Motorodom—the ever reliable Sterling Gasoline; the powerful, snappy Sterling Ethyl and the dependable, staunch Sterling 100% Pure Pennsylvania Motor Oil.

The three musketeers of history rode stirrup to stirrup, their blades a flashing, impenetrable wall of steel. Opposition was swept before them, for they were the best swordsmen and the bravest fighters in the service of the King.

Modern roads are not beset with dangers that require sword play. But mileage and hills and the demands of traffic demand that a motor use the best gasolines and oil procurable.

The experience of drivers over years has won this name for these three Sterling products—the Three Musketeers of Motorodom. For no odds are too great when these three ride the highway in the service of their master, the automobile driver.
