CAP AND BELLS

In a Montrose school recently a little girl informed her teacher that an airman was flying over Montrose late the night before.
"What was he doing?" asked his teacher.
"Please, Miss, he was looking for his children," was the unexpected answer.
"Looking for his children!" said the teacher, "what do you mean?"
"Daddy said he'd lost his batrns."—Scots Observer.

SIGN OF INDIFFERENCE

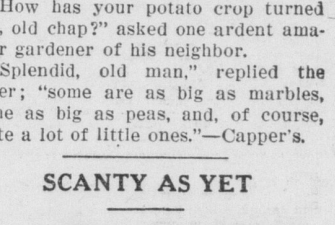

"I don't believe my husband loves me any more."
"Why on earth should you say that?"
"Well, he says he don't mind if I dress chic like the other girls do."

Self-Deception
Perhaps you cynically sigh,
"It's vain to get the truth I try!"
Yet most of what is told to you
Is what you like to listen to.

Watched His Man
An orator, warming to his task, took off his coat, which rather disconcerted one of the spectators of the meeting, who thought that a reporter would make a sensation out of the incident.
Towards the close, he said to the speaker:
"I don't suppose you knew when you removed your coat that a newspaper man was present?"
"Yes, I did," was the reply, "but I kept my eye on the coat all the time!"

Yes, a Few Small Ones
"How has your potato crop turned out, old chap?" asked one ardent amateur gardener of his neighbor.
"Splendid, old man," replied the other; "some are as big as marbles, some as big as peas, and, of course, quite a lot of little ones."—Capper's.

SCANTY AS YET

She—Mary's buying that dress on installments.
He—Advise her not to wear it again until she has all the installments.

Study in Manufacture
Though manufacturers disclose Great works we marvel to recall, The mischief-maker always shows The most production of them all.

Not the Only One
The Installment Collector—You wife promised me faithfully that she'd make a payment today.
Mr. Peevee—What are you kicking about? She once solemnly promised that she'd obey me.

His Status
"I wonder if that Captain Spitz noodle amounts to anything beneath the surface?"
"I should say so—why, he's the captain of a submarine."

Choose Your Seats
The court-martial was about to open. The defendant leaned over and whispered to an officer: "How long will this affair last?"
The officer whispered back: "About two hours for me and about two years for you."

Ciddap
Teacher—Tommy, what do the letters M. D. after a man's name signify?
Tommy (at random)—Mule driver, I suppose.
