MARKS ANNIVERSARY Many Pheasant Eggs Produced at the Pennsylvania State Game Farms

About 60,000 Ring-necked Pheasant eggs have been produced at the two State Game Farms so far this year. At the Fisher Farm in Montgomery County there are now over 3,000 young birds in the rearing field and at the Jordan Farm in Lawrence County, over 5,000. The latter farm expects to raise in the neighborhood of 7,000 birds, while the Fisher Farm expects to raise around 5,000 birds. Refuge Keepers have already been furnished about 15,000 country furnished about 15,000 country function for the second bare about a second bare about a second for the second bare about a second bare 000 eggs many of which have already been hatched. Some Refuge Keepers have reported an almost 100% hatch.

Much has been accomplished in the operation of the game farms since their establishment last summer and the results have been very satisfactory. Results at the Turkey Farm in Juniata County have also been very good. There are now over 500 young birds at the farm, all coming along in fine shape.

The accompanying mat portrays an excellent picture of a Game Pro-tector releasing a Ring-necked Pheasant. The bird in the picture is a wor-thy example of the type of birds reared at the game farms. Game Protectors have been furnished approximately 2,500 eggs and over 29,000 eggs have been given to sportsmen.
