DEATH OF MRS. PHILLIPS

Mrs. John Phillips, aged 73 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Erven, at Rossiter, on Monday afternoon of last week. The deceased had been visiting relatives in and near Rossiter when her death occurred, which was caused by a stroke of apoplexy. Mrs. Phillips had resided at Thomas Mills, near here, for many years. Her husband preceded her to the grave nine years ago.

She is survived by one brother, Sandy Hill, of Yatesboro, Pa., and by the following children: Mrs. William Erven of Rossiter; Robert Phillips, of Buckhorn; Mrs. Elizabeth Holmes, of Pittsburgh; John and Alexander Phillips at home; Edwin Dillon, of Patton; Miss Charlotte Phillips, of Cherrytree; Mrs. Harvey Layman, of Patton; and 15 great-grandchildren.

The funeral services were conducted at her home at Thomas Mills on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Rev. M. H. Jones conducting the services. The Rev. Mrs. J. Lillian Jones sang several selections.

Among the folks from a distance attending the funeral were John Daugherty and Mrs. Catherine McGilley, of DuBois; Mrs. Jimmie Hill and family, of Punxsutawney; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hill, of Pittsburgh, and Miss Mary Herleton, of Beaverdale.

BUCKHORN SECTION TO GET NEW ROAD

Approximately Four Miles of Highway Leading to Ashville
to Be Reconstructed.

Surveys are now being made by the district engineer's office force of the State Highway Department at Hollidaysburg for the relocation and building of the state road between the Buckhorn and Ashville, a distance of approximately four miles, together with the replacement of the county bridge between Ashville and Chest Springs at the outskirts of Ashville. This improvement, when completed, will furnish a cement highway entirely between Patton and Altoona.

It will be for later consideration as to when the construction will be taken up, but it will probably be possible to have it done next year or in 1932 at the latest.

By having the plans prepared in advance of the time when the year's program is made up and allocations made, an advantageous position will be assumed for the project. In the judgment of officials of the Hollidaysburg office this is one of the most pressing projects in the district.

While the survey is not completed it has progressed to the point when it can be stated that the road will be very largely relocated and when it is completed it will have an admirable grade between the Buckhorn and Ashville, there being but three curves or turns none of which will be sharp.

This district engineer is including in the survey the replacement of the bridge between Ashville and Chest Springs and the new road will thus tie up with improved highways leading in different directions on the west as well as on the eastern slope of the mountain.

"ANIMAL CRACKERS"

Comes On Monday and Tuesday,
Next Week; Funnies Show
Every Screened.

Buttons anchored to home-ports with anything less than the best grade of brass rivets or steel cable, have a deplete tenure of office next week at the Grand Theatre, where The Four Famous and Furiously Funny Marx Brothers are doing in "Animal Crackers," something fifty million rib-racked lovers of comedy believed impossible. They made a talking and musical picture that takes up where "The Cocoanuts" left off, and ends with the last survivor being carried up the aisle by force, three strong ushers, and well—who is your favorite escort to the "booby-hatch?"

The story is something about a stable and socially proper hostess, with a house-party on her hands at a palatial country estate. A big game hunter, just back from an African expedition, his secretary and two vagabond musicians attend to the musical appetite of the guests, is the business assigned Groucho, Zeppo, Harpo and Chico Marx respectively.

They arrive simultaneously and with their usual hurricane momentum at a time when the festive gathering is being diverted by a butler weighing just a fraction less than a half ton, a feud between the hostess and a rival maid over the authenticity of a fine painting, and more pretty girls in lingerie and bathing suits than most revues boast. You understand what we mean by pretty, when we say Lillian Roth heads the feminine talent.

This is the premise, or the premises, upon which the riot is fashioned and the developments dwarf superlative. Webster intended for even the most hilarious narratives.

Oh-yes, fans who got such a big series of "moments" from the antics Harpo and Chico with hard, oboe and piano in their first monkey piece, need experience no temerity in approaching the new "animalish" crackerjack Musical burlesque has a big play, and the talents and tunes are as refreshing and diverting as before, along new lines.

CHEST SPRINGS HAS COSTLY BARN FIRE

Flames Early This Thursday Morning Destroys Large Barn
of Vincent Weakland.

The Patton Fire Company was called to Chest Springs early this Thursday morning, an alarm being sent here for help by the citizens of that place, the large barn of Vincent Weakland, with a great amount of live stock, and crops of the season being totally destroyed.

The flames broke out sometime between 12 and 1 o'clock and were not discovered until a short time after one o'clock, at which time Mr. Weakland, in an effort to save the live stock, rushed to the barn in his bare feet, but the flames had gained such headway that he was badly burned about the hands and feet in his attempt. He was treated by a physician.

The fire was intensely hot one, and the local firemen were able to save adjoining buildings by the use of their chemicals.

It is said that about thirteen head of cattle, three horses, about twenty pigs and a number of chickens and all the season's crops were destroyed in the blaze.

CAMERAMAN RUNS RISKS DURING "DAWN PATROL"

This Airplane Story Comes to the Grand Theatre, On Wednesday and Thursday Next Week

It was a simple matter for most of the company to dodge stunt-flying airplanes during the making of "The Dawn Patrol," the First National-Vitaphone production starring Richard Dix, which comes to the Grand Theatre next Wednesday and Thursday.

But for the cameramen—Ernest Haller and his battery of cameramen—it was one that meant something like being buried alive. For nowadays in the era of talkies these necessary adjuncts of motion picture making are housed in sound proof vaults from which it is not so easy to escape in case of danger.

"When we heard the zooming of the motor and knew that the plane was swooping towards the earth at the rate 200 miles per hour," said Haller, "we knew there was no use in running for by the time we got out of the camera booth it would be all over with us." "The Dawn Patrol" is a thrilling drama of the British flying corps during the early years of the World War.

Fall Into Tub of Water at Fallen
Timber Residence

Alice Richard, aged 13 months, daughter of David and Dorothy Black Richard of Fallen Timber, was drowned Saturday afternoon when she fell in a tub of water at the parental home. Mrs. Richard had gone out in the front yard for a few minutes to speak with neighbors, who were discussing the death of George W. Beers, who had been struck by an automobile a short time before and it was during her brief absence that Alice tumbled into the tub.

With that district facing a water shortage, residents at Fallen Timber have been exercising strict economy in the use of water and Mrs. Richard had the tub in the house for this purpose, having planned to use the water remaining in the container for cleaning purposes. Word of the death of Mr. Beers, a prominent resident of Fallen Timber, prompted her to leave the house and converse with neighbors relative to the fatality.

Funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Richard home. Interment was in the Beaver Valley cemetery at Flinton.

BAN ON HUNTING MAY MATERIALIZE

Fire Hazard Is Held Critical If Drought Is Not At An End.

The drought may close the forests of Pennsylvania to small game hunters, Governor Fisher, advised Tuesday by George H. Wirt, chief state forest fire warden, that the wooded lands of the state are extremely dry and in danger of excessive damage by fire during the small game hunting season which opens November 1, asked Attorney General Cyrus E. Woods for an opinion as to whether he has authority to prohibit hunting because of fire hazards.

With more than two weeks remaining though before the season opening, the governor said "there is no occasion" for immediate determination of his course.

The forest fire hazard was described as "most critical" by Wirt, who said a score or more fires have been reported to him in the last several days. One of them in the vicinity of Nesquehoning burned over 1,000 acres.

Meanwhile, reports from the state health department's engineering force to Dr. Theodore B. Appel, secretary of health, said water shortages are "becoming acute" in six communities over the state.
