

SOME ARE GIVEN STIFF SENTENCES

Monday Was A Bad Day for the Wrongdoers at Ebensburg.

Because he pleaded guilty to breaking into the store of Louis Isaacson of Gallitzin, where he took some wearing apparel, Wilbur F. Brown of Altoona learned that he will spend 20 days in the county jail and, in addition, must pay the costs and make restitution of the stolen articles.

When his 30-day sentence is completed Brown, unlike most defendants who serve their terms, will not have wiped out his debt to society, for he also pleaded guilty to sawing his way out of the Cresson borough jail some weeks ago as he was awaiting removal to the county jail pending action by the grand jury. When Brown escaped from the borough the second time he had taken "French leave" from the same prison—he fled to Baltimore, but last week he was arrested in the Maryland city and brought back to this county by state police. On the escape charge he will serve a sentence of from six months to two years in addition to which he must pay the costs of prosecution. Brown, according to records in Blair county, has been convicted there of larceny on four different occasions.

In addition to Brown, 21 persons waived the finding of true bills, entered pleas of guilty and were sentenced Monday.

Ernest McGowan and Frank Brazzil, both of Johnstown, were sentenced to pay the costs and to serve from two months to three years in jail when they pleaded guilty to robbing the residence of Harry Hesselbein in Johnstown some days since and to the theft of jewelry valued at approximately $1,000.

Marie Main, 21, of Johnstown was sentenced to serve nine months in jail, and Raymond Skiles, 22, also of Johnstown, was given a suspended sentence when they pleaded guilty to entering a dwelling in Morrellville for the purpose, they said, of obtaining some wine which they believed was secreted there. Three other persons implicated in the same case are being held in the county jail pending grand jury action. Earl McPeckers, 19, of Johnstown, was sentenced to two months in the Allegheny county workhouse on his plea of guilty to charges of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony.

The theft of 98 brasses from the journals of 31 box cars on the Pennsylvania railroad will cost Charles Powers of Altoona from six months to one year in jail, the sentence being imposed when he pleaded guilty. Walter Follmar of Johnstown must serve from six months to one year in jail on his plea of guilty to charges of forgery entailing checks having a total face value of $158. Agnes Walk of Dysart, who pleaded guilty to a charge of bigamy, was sentenced to serve from two months to one year in jail and Inez Boyer of Johnstown and New York city, was sentenced to serve from three months to one year in jail when she too pleaded guilty to bigamy.

Lorenzo Varner of St. Michael was sentenced to serve from two months to two years in jail when he pleaded guilty to charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods. Joe and John Bortina, brothers, aged 16 and 20 respectively, both of Vintondale, pleaded guilty to charges of larceny and receiving stolen goods and were sentenced to pay the costs, make restitution and serve from 30 days to two years.

PUBLIC NOVENA OPENS IN LORETTO CHAPEL OCT. 22

Nine-Day Devotions Honor Patron of Carmelites, St. Therese.

Wednesday, Oct. 22 a public novena will open at the new Carmelite chapel at Loretto in honor of St. Therese of Lisieux, the Little Flower of Jesus, and continue for nine days, ending Thursday, Oct. 30. All those who are unable to attend the devotions in the chapel are requested to mail their petitions to the Reverend Mother Prioress in order to share in the novena prayers and special devotions as well as the holy communions of the Carmelite nuns.

The month of October is dedicated to the holy rosary and it is anticipated that the Little Flower will obtain many new graces and favors for her devoted friends and clients. In conjunction with the novena services, the public October devotions will continue to be held at 4 o'clock each afternoon at the monastery during the remainder of the month. The relics of the Little Flower, which the Reverend Mother Prioress brought from France, will be offered for public veneration after each service in the chapel. Private novenas are made by the Carmelite nuns upon request.

Despite his protest that he "only slapped her," Andrew Verbar of Johnstown was sentenced to serve 30 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery upon his wife, who informed court officials that her husband had beaten her. Abraham Lingafelt of Altoona was sentenced to ten days to three months in jail on a plea of guilty to charges of making a false statement in writing to obtain credit. Brought into court on a court process for failure to pay alimony, Joe Chas of Portage was sentenced to four months in the Allegheny county workhouse. Big Business Leaders Napoleons of This Period, Super Salesman Says

WHERE COURAGE COUNTS CHICAGO—Super-salesmen, bank presidents, newspaper publishers, railroad barons, and big business executives are the Agamemnon and Hercules of this generation. "Courage is the prerequisite of every successful business executive," said H. E. Capehart, head of the Capohart Corporation of Ft. Wayne, Ind., and super-salesman who in two and a half years ran a debt of $14,000 into a $3,000,000 business of manufacturing automatic and continuous playing phonographs. "The bravery that distinguished the heroes of yesterday on the battlefield flourishes today in factories, office buildings, newspaper plants, and banks. There are men intrepid men behind glass-topped desks in offices marked 'private' than ever manned an invasion or headed a revolt. When Alexander the Great, Richard Cour de Leon, William the Conqueror, and Napoleon were winning their laurels, a battlefield was the only place where a man could demonstrate superiority over his mates. But times have changed. Nowadays men struggle for supremacy in carpeted arenas, surrounded by private secretaries. "Bravery and big business are synonymous. To be successful a man must train himself to face responsibilities and take long risks. As a rule the $100,000 a year bank president or super-salesman is braver than his most courageous employe."
