TWO RAIDS MADE NEAR EBENSBURG

County Detectives G. E. Whited, Howard W. Huether and John J. McLawish and Chief of Police Frank W. Jones, of Ebensburg, Monday afternoon staged a raid at the farm of John Koskoskie in Cambria township, near Ebensburg, where they found three 625 of alleged moonshine liquor. Koskoskie was placed under arrest, taken before Justice of the Peace Charles Rowland where he posted bond in the sum of $1,000 for his appearance at the December term of the Criminal Court.

Continuing their operations the officers raided what is popularly known as the "Turkey-Duck," where they found in a shanty a well equipped brewery. Joe Dougherty and Helen Lamar, of Ebensburg, and Ann Woods were arrested at the plant and Ann Woods was arrested in Ebensburg. The three defendants were taken before Justice of the Peace Charles Rowland, where Dougherty and the Woods woman posted bond in the sum of $1,000 each for their appearance at the December term of court. The latter girl was committed to the county jail to await action by the December grand jury.

This is the second time within 10 days that the "Turkey-Duck" has been raided, the former raid netting a quantity of home brew and resulting in the arrest of the Woods woman and Dougherty, who gave bail at that time for their appearance in court.

REPORTS RUSH FOR SPECIAL LICENSES

Judged from the present rate of application of the entire allotment of 56,024 special licenses which permit the shooting of deer in certain sections of the State will be exhausted in the near future, officials of the Game Commission to-day asserted.

The licenses are being taken in accordance with totals determined at the last session of the Game Commission. For each county or parts of a county the total number of deer which may be killed during the special season this fall will be eight times the number of legal bucks reported during the regular season last year.

The special licenses will be valid only for three days, November 27, 28 and 29.

A special force of clerks is handling the applications received, at Harrisburg. All the special licenses will be issued from the commission's offices instead of by county treasurers as in the State wide deer season of 1928.

So far the majority of applications have come from the residents of the more populous counties in which deer shooting will be permitted.

Because of the failure of applicants to supply or the required information many of the applications have been delayed.

Officials of the Commission today said that in each instance the application for a deer license must specify the county and resident hunter's license number of the applicant as well as the county or township in which he desires to hunt. The application also must show the name and address of the applicant, occupation, height, color of hair, color of eyes and age.

The Commission does not accept personal, unperfected checks for the necessary $2.00 fee. Certified checks, bank cashier's checks, money orders or cash by registered mail must accompany each application.

PLANES WILL AID FEEDING GAME IN REMOTE SECTIONS

Airplanes again will be used in the winter distribution of food for wild game and birds under present plans of the Game Commission.

Initial experiments made last winter in the scattering of food of all kinds in otherwise inaccessible places convinced Commission officials that the airplane is the best means of feeding game.

Wild animals, unlike humans, are unable to draw upon sections not hit by the summer's drought for winter supplies of food. With the exception of squirrels which migrate readily in search of food, most wild animals depend entirely upon the supply adjacent to the place in which they were born. If no such supply is available starvation results.

In addition to the use of airplanes when they are available the Commission also will rely upon the co-operation of the many agencies which in former years assisted in the feeding of wild animals. Organizations of sportsmen, Boy Scouts and mail carriers always assist the game protectors in the winter food distribution.

The Commission distributes a bulletin advising those interested the best ways in which to feed wild animals during the winter months.

FORBIDS SALE OF BOOTLEG ICE CREAM

Dr. James W. Kellogg, director, butyreau of foods and chemistry, Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, has issued the following statement regarding a practice which he terms "bootlegging ice cream."

"The practice of 'bootlegging' ice cream, which has come to the attention of the department recently, consists of an unscrupulous manufacturer taking advantage of another manufacturer's contract for the sale of a well-known recognized brand of cream by submitting the former's own brand to be sold under the advertising devices and contracts of the other manufacturer.

In some cases these manufacturers enter into a competition by so-called ice cream mixes from wholesalers and without much equipment can arrange to complete the product by addition of flavors, fruit, etc. at a much less cost than the person can afford to manufacture and advertise against the sale or substitution of so-called 'bootleg' ice cream for the product which they may be selling under contract with other ice cream manufacturers.

"A checkup is being made by agents of the bureau regarding correctness of advertising and selling ice cream throughout Commonwealth and by persons found engaging in dispensing 'bootleg' ice cream will be held responsible under the provisions of the Ice Cream Law."

AUTOS MUST BEAR INSPECTION TAGS AFTER OCT. 31

During the last few days noticeable increase has occurred in the number of motor vehicles inspected in Pennsylvania, as required by the recent order of Governor John S. Fisher, authorities said Tuesday. The period ends at midnight October 31. After that date, and for thirty days, operators of uninspected cars subject themselves to a fine of $10 and costs, $10.

"It is noticeable that brakes are in unusually bad condition this year," said Captain Price. "Our details, stationed on hill sections of highways, are amazed at the worthlessness of brakes on the average uninspected car."

"Two qualities of an automobile or truck subtract from the danger of accident. The quick-thinking driver who seizes an opportunity to avoid danger by leaping out of its way—who, in other words, 'steps down on it, and gets away, has taken advantage of one of these qualities. The driver whose brakes are so good that when he 'pushes down on 'em' his car stops, has taken advantage of the other. The operator whose motor is sluggish and whose brakes are bad gives hostages to misfortune, and if he figures in an accident the chances are that it is his own fault. Some one is always at fault in an accident—usually the person with bad brakes and a lazy motor."
