Scandal Gang Preys on Women

Ring That Collects 5 Million a Year.

New York.—A vice ring so powerful that it does not need nor permit the aid of corrupt magistrates and so well organized that it card indexes its women victims and collects $5,-000,000 a year has been uncovered by investigations sifting the by-products of this city's municipal graft, it was learned recently.

The ring, according to information being investigated by Isidor J. Kresel, who has charge of the appellate division's inquiry into the Magistrates' courts, consists of stool pigeons, some members of the police department, certain court attaches, lawyers, and bail bondsmen.

The ring preys upon indiscreet women, some of the victims being of prominence, it was charged. Married women, show girls, night club hostessesany women with money or jewels or lacking either but having beauty-are likely under certain circumstances to find themselves "framed" on charges of immorality.

Story Told by Stool. The disclosures concerning the vice ring came at about the same time that a Special Sessions court was reversing the conviction of Mrs. Emma Hammerstein on a charge of vagrancy or immoral conduct last June before Magistrate Earl Smith.

Mrs. Hammerstein had been found guilty of improper conduct on the testimony of a policeman. The widow of the impressario had insisted all along that the charges against her were framed. Her case had been under investigation for several months.

The story of the $5,000,000 vice ring came from a Broadway "stool," whose name has not been revealed, but who is called "The Dove" among night life initiates.

A woman known as "Madame Adler," who is said to own three establishments, one in midtown, one in the 70's and another in the Harlem black belt, is mentioned as a leading character in the easy morals-easy money racket. "Madame Adler" is said to have disappeared and the investigators are conducting an undercover search for her as a witness.

"The Dove," stool pigeon for the po lice at a flat salary of $60 a week, told the sordid inside story of the vice racket for reasons not yet revealed. He was found recently in a midtown hotel, where his comfort was looked after by a butler and a man servant. "The Dove" told Kresel, it was learned, that for fifteen years he had served the police vice squad. The $60 and general lack of seriousness.

Police and Stool Pigeons in was just coffee money, the investigators learned, for "The Dove" had an arrangement whereby he received $10 for every woman turned over to certain members of the vice squad. Not all of the details of the vice racket were made public, but it was said "The Dove" had amassed at least $500,000 for his work and that he also had received splits from attorneys, bondsmen, and court attaches.

> How the Racket Works. The vice racket, as "The Dove" is said to have explained it, works like this: He or one of his mob invites a woman to an apartment or hotel room. A little later the vice squad arrives. The woman is arrested. The man in the case vanishes. The bail bond company is called. Then a lawyer appears. Finally the case is quashed with the aid of court attaches. Then comes the shakedown. In one instance, it was revealed, a woman paid out $1,500 to the ring.

If the woman has no money she is permitted to put up her jewels. If she has neither money nor jewels, but is attractive, she is turned over to the ring's "hostess" to earn enough money to "pay off."

As the result of evidence obtained by the investigators, it was learned, subpoenaes have been sent out to a score of women who have been vic-

Bolt Hits Parsonage, but Misses Women

Loxley, Ala.-Injured by a lightning bolt which struck the Methodist parsonage here, Mrs. John Menery and Mrs. J. P. Holmes today were recovering from severe hurts, while twelve other women, guests in the home at the time, are expressing wonder at their narrow escape. The women, members of an arts class meeting with Mrs. C. H. Carpenter, wife of the minister, were in the middle of their instruction when the bolt struck the house, almost demolishing the living room and slintering the furniture. The splinters struck Mrs. Menery and Mrs.

71,000 Indian Children

Being Educated by U. S. Washington.—With the opening of school this year 71,000 Indian children throughout the United States enrolled for classes.

Of this number, 38,000 are in public schools, the remainder being educated at government schools located on the various reservations, and at missions and private institutions in the country.

Approximately 5,600 children are living at their homes and attending government day schools on the reservations. These schools are largely for smaller children and constitute the first step in the education of the Indian child. Boarding school is the next step, where, at the expense of the federal government, a more advanced training is given.

The 71,000 Indian children now beng educated in United States schools represent those who are physically and mentally able to receive learning. An effort is being made to enroll the remainder, about 9,000, who are either married, ill, or defective.

Married Women Holding Jobs Alarm Germans

The cabinet's economic advisers view with alarm the invasion of the labor market by married women. They claim that it is a factor immediately contributing to unemployment among men.

WINTER FEEDING NOW NEGLECTED

Equipment in Poultry House Often Lacking.

Quite frequently poultry owners attempt to go through the winter with insufficient feeding and watering equipment in the poultry house. Weeks of bad weather during the winter make it hard to care for the flock adequately unless attention has been given to feeding needs.

With the advent of mash feeding, flocks being fed in many instances on a mash ration alone, mash hoppers in the winter house become practically a necessity. These hoppers should be large enough to care for the mash needs of the flock for at least two weeks, to save labor by less frequent filling. A good rule to follow in judging the flock needs for a definite time is to allow for a consumption of about three pounds of mash per bird, per month. One foot of feeding space should be allowed for every ten birds in the flock. The hopper should be arranged so that the fowls cannot roost on the top.

Where scratch grain is fed, it should be fed in the litter, either in the house or in the scratch shed or room. To facilitate the feeding of this grain, a storage box in one end or corner of the house that will hold enough scratch grain for a month of winter feeding will prove to be a valuable and small investment. Boxes should also be provided and kept filled with grit and shell throughout the winter.

Any drinking fountain that can be easily cleaned is good. Automatic fountains, if they meet this requirement, are to be recommended and if a self-heating fountain is available that can be kept well cleaned, it will aid in keeping up egg production through the cold winter months. Birds should never be forced to drink ice water, even though such automatic heating equipment is not in stalled in the house.

Select Breeding Stock

Early in the Season Poultry raisers who contemplate hatching their own baby chicks should have the breeding pens or flock mated at least three weeks to a month be fore the eggs are saved for hatching

Success in raising the baby chick flock is in a large measure established before the baby chick is hatched. Vigor and vitality naturally come from parent stocks that are strong in these qualities, says O. C. Ufford, extension poultry specialist, Colorado Agricultural college.

"One should use only males that are vigorous, mature and well-developed. When possible, secure these males from breeders who can furnish them from high producing hens. A male from high producing stock should never be used, however, unless he has vigor and vitality.

"Hatch Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, etc., not later than April. A very good time to hatch or buy Leghorn chicks is during the latter part of March or the first week in April. Chicks hatched later than May 15 are very seldom profitable."

The estimation of a bird's prospective breeding value is the acme of the breeder's skill.

Inbreeding to make an establishment of any point should always be approached with caution.

Cock birds usually produce excel-lent quality chicks, but sometimes give poor fertility early in the season. If a farmer keeps chickens at all,

he can afford a comfortable poultry house. The old poultry house may be remodeled and made more comfortable at very little expense. Fowls infested with round worms may be treated by feeding them dry mash containing one pound 2 per cent nicotine tobacco dust in each 50 pounds. The medicated mash should be fed for four weeks. To secure the best flock fertility, mate such breeds as the Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Reds, Wyandottes and Orpingtons with one male to every 12 to 15 females. For the smaller breeds, such as the Leghorns, one male to every 12 to 15 females can be used. Most varieties of tapeworms have intermediate hosts. That is, a portion of the tapeworm's life is spent in the body of an insect or grub and the tapeworm gains entrance to the chicken's body only when the chicken eats the intermediate host.

In dealing with tapeworms, as with In Philadelphia, many years ago, Benjamin Franklin and his friends round worms, prevention is better basked in the warmth of the stove he had invented-the forerunner of the than cure. Inas-much as she was but following in the footsteps of other members of the fashionable colony, her act caused no particular comment until, on the occasion of her first solo flight, her friends noted that the plane was named after the lady's husband.

"That was a charming compli ment," remarked a friend. "I didn't intend it for a compli-ment," snapped the wife indignantly.

"Then why in the world did you name it after him?" "Because my plane and my husband are so very much alike. They both smoke, can't be depended upon, and half the time they are both unmanageable."

Airplane Employed to Plant Hawaiian Forest Hawaiian foresters planted 298,-650 trees in the territory's forest reserves last year, according to a report of the Hawaiian commission of agriculture and forestry just received by the forest service of the United States Department of Agriculture. One hundred and forty-seven kinds of trees were planted, ash, oaks, and paper bark leading, and the California coast redwood coming fourth with 23,392. Over 623,800 trees, grown in the commis sion's nurseries under a co-opera-tive agreement with the United States forest service, were also dis tributed for forest planting on privately owned lands. A large eroded area was sown to a mixture of tree seeds by airplane, a United States army plane broadcasting 1,689 pounds of seeds from an elevation of 2,000 feet.

Crows Frightened From Field by Loud Speaker

Electricity is making its way on the farm. The loud speaker of the radio is replacing the scarecrow. It was a lonely farmer in Germany who first perceived its value. The scarecrow in his field, however handsomely hatted, had no terrors for the birds. They made friends with it and went on picking up grain.

But when the farmer fixed a loud speaker underneath the scarecrow's tattered coat and turned it loose, the birds flew away in terror. Whether it was Herr Professor Teufelsdrochk delivering a discourse on the children's hour, or whether it was Fraulein Vogelgesang's top-note, seemed to make no difference. The birds fled from either. Holds That Apologies
