

DEATH NOTICES

HARRY F. SIMMONS.

Harry F. Simmons, foreman of the Alverda mine of the Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Corporation, died on Saturday evening at his home in Alverda. He had served as foreman at the mine for the past 12 years. Before assuming that position he worked for the same company in Patton and had a large acquaintanceship in this section.

The deceased was born in Philadelphia on May 3, 1882 a son of Mr. and Mrs. George Simmons. He was married twice his first wife having preceded him in death.

Surviving are his second wife, Mrs. Ella (Bogan) Simmons and these children, all to the second union: Marie, Edward and Norman Simmons all at home. He also leaves these children, born to the first union: Mrs. John Koser, West Newton; Mrs. George Preston, Akron, Ohio; Mrs. Ray Costell, of Wooster, Ohio; and Robert and Dorothy Simmons, both of Alverda. Mr. Simmons also leaves these step-children: William Bogan, Alverda; Mrs. Charles Miller, Ebsensburg; Robert, Isabelle and Helen Bogan, all of Alverda. The funeral services were conducted at two o'clock on Wednesday afternoon by the Rev. James Phillips, and interment was made in Fairview cemetery at Patton.

JOSEPH GIBBONS.

Joseph Allen Gibbons, aged thirty-three, a former resident of Ashville, was killed instantly on Monday of last week when he was struck by a truck on a street in Philadelphia. He was an employee of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and met death at work. According to reports he was coupling two freight cars on a siding along a Philadelphia street and stepped from between the cars and was struck by an oil truck.

Mr. Gibbons was a son of Charles and Laura (McCarthy) Gibbons of Altoona and was born in Ashville in 1905. He has been a resident of Philadelphia for several years. His parents, his widow and three children and a number of brothers and sisters survive. The body was brought to Altoona for funeral services in St. Leo's church and interment in Calvary cemetery on Saturday.

MRS. NANCY OSTRANDER.

Mrs. Nancy (Thompson) Ostrander, aged 69 years, wife of William Ostrander, died last Wednesday night in the Miners' Hospital at Spangler where she had been a patient since January 8. She was born July 6, 1869, a daughter of Joseph and Esther Thompson. Besides her husband, she leaves these children: Mrs. Anna Lewis and Mrs. Charles Moore, both of Akron, Ohio; Mrs. Gordon Stanley of Barnesboro; Mrs. Daniel Beuhler and Miss Florence Ostrander, both of Philadelphia. Funeral services were conducted on Saturday afternoon at the Ostrander home by Rev. C. Clyde Leverage, pastor of the Spangler M. E. Church and interment was in the North Barnesboro cemetery.

GEORGE WILLIAMSON.

George E. Williamson, aged sixty-one years, a well known resident of Cresson, and wreckmaster on the Cresson Branch of the P. R. R., died of a heart ailment at his home Friday morning last. He was born in Turtle Creek. Surviving are his second wife, the former Helen Lansberry, and two children, Elwood and Margaret, both at home, and two children to the first union, Mrs. Pearl Mack and David Williamson, both of Bradford.

FRANK SALETNIK.

Frank Saletnik, aged 59, of Coupon died last Friday morning at the home of Earl Coleman on the Buckhorn Road, Gallitzin township, near Ashville. He was reported to have been walking along the Buckhorn road when he began to feel ill. He stopped at the Cole house for aid, and about ten minutes after entering the house fell dead. Mr. Saletnik was married twice, both of his wives having preceded him in death. A number of children and step-children survive.

ALBERT T. LEWIS.

Albert T. Lewis of Pittsburgh, 57, died in a New York hospital on Tuesday of last week after an extended illness. He was born in Cambria county in 1881, a son of Thomas D and Jane (Gittings) Lewis.

Surviving are four sisters: Belle and Louise Lewis and Mrs. Clarinda Jervis, all of Ebsensburg.

LEO GARRETT CRIST.

Leo Garrett Crist, five year old son of Leo A. and Pauline (Garrett) Crist, of Cresson, died on Friday afternoon at the parental home. Besides the parents, the child leaves several brothers and sisters.

ALBERT STEELE.

Albert Steele, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steele, of Nanty-Glo, died on Saturday morning in Memorial hospital Johnstown. He was admitted to the institution on January 12th as a medical patient.

"SWEETHEARTS" WILL BE SUNDAY SHOW AT THE GRAND THEATRE

A new Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy and a new warmth, color and comedy spirit in musicals makes itself manifest in "Sweethearts," fifth co-starring musical of the famous singing team, which will be the attraction at the Grand theatre, Patton, on Sunday and Monday next.

Technicolor has given both singers a more vivid personality, while the up to the minute story devised for them by Dorothy Parker and Alan Campbell from the Victor Herbert operetta provides the stars with comedy characterizations which should win them legions of new followers.

In "Sweethearts" Miss MacDonald and Eddy portray two Broadway musical comedy stars who are husband and wife in private life. Their quarrels, temperamental outbursts and jealousies together with their joint attempt to outwit a producer who wants to prevent them from accepting an offer from Hollywood, make for a comedy which is rich in laughter and at the same time replete with beautiful and original song and dance presentations.

Miss MacDonald and Eddy prove themselves as skillful in modern roles as in their past costume successes and offer a musical feast in their singing of the lovely Victor Herbert songs, among them "Sweethearts," "Every Lover Must Meet His Fate," "Pretty As A Picture," and "On Parade."

The supporting cast is one of the best, including in its imposing line-up such well known performers as Frank Morgan in the role of the scheming and laughable producer, Ray Bolger, who dances with Miss MacDonald and also in solo numbers, Florence Rice as Miss MacDonald's secretary, Mischa Auer, Herman Bing and Reginald Gardiner.

TEA TIPPLER

Margaret Robertson, Scottish actress, whose father for many years was one of the most prominent London stock brokers, on her first visit to America tries tipping her tea the quaint old American way. British tea circles were reported buzzing.

By L. L. STEVENSON

Back from a 19-months tour of the continent, Estelle and LeRoy, ballroom dancers, have many stories to tell. The one they favor the most is on themselves. At La Scala, they found themselves preceded by a group of whirling dervishes known as the Ballet des Zaren. On opening night, resin was sprinkled plentifully over the floor for the ballet and by the time Estelle and LeRoy came on, the stage surface was an expanse of slippery wax. To make matters worse, for their routine, the stage was so raised at the back that the front dipped into the orchestra pit. Nevertheless, everything went well with their first two dances. But just as they went into the whirlwind finish of their final number, down they crashed. Estelle into the bass drum and LeRoy into the astonished face of the first violinist. And from then on, whenever they approached the edge of the stage, the orchestra broke into, "Danger, Love at Work."

Moriz Rosenthal, 76-year-old "littie giant of the keyboard" who will celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of his American debut with a golden jubilee concert at Carnegie hall, loves to relate anecdotes of his wife's devotion. One concerns an occasion when Mrs. Rosenthal (one of Europe's leading piano teachers) was entertaining a party of friends in her drawing room while her husband was upstairs in his study working on his soon-to-be-published memoirs. The discussion turned to a rather difficult problem and when the argument became hopelessly involved, one of the ladies of a more religious bent, observed, "Ah, well, there is One above Who knows all." "Ah, yes," responded Mrs. Rosenthal beaming. "And I will ask him to come down and tell us what he thinks."

Before coming to New York, Doris Rhodes was starred in a number of out-of-town night clubs. One of those spots was in a city where there was a large prison. Actors from the different cafes were often called on to entertain the convicts and Miss Rhodes, feeling sorry for the prisoners, always complied with such requests. One evening at the conclusion of her program, she informed the warden that it would be her last appearance as she was leaving to fill another engagement. The warden thanked the singer for appearing in the prison shows and then, turning to the inmates added, "I know you will all miss Miss Rhodes. She has been here so many times that she has almost become one of us."

Here is something unknown to many of those who have praised Carol Bruce, young torch singer at the Midnight Sun, for the unusual timbre of her voice and the strange and tingling choral effects produced thereby. It's all due to an obscure disease which affects the larynx. Miss Bruce has had the disease since she was 12 years old. A simple operation would cure it. But a cure would make her voice merely the same as any other. So she prefers to keep her disease.

At 16, George Lowther, radio author, broke into his profession as an actor. "Quickie" motion pictures, made in a Long Island studio, were quite the thing for stage personalities with a few idle hours on their hands, and Lowther was cast in a small part in an eight-reeler. Ordered to work at 6 a. m., his day ended at midnight when three reels had been completed. The second day, the same schedule was followed.

"We made the entire picture in something like 40 hours," said Lowther. "And if I hadn't had a fast car I would have missed the preview."

Last year, Joan Edwards, soloist with Paul Whiteman's orchestra, opened the Army and Navy day celebration at the Statue of Liberty with the national anthem. At the end of the program, a gold-braided general patted her on the back and as much as told her the army doesn't forget such beautiful singing. Evidently it doesn't since this year Miss Edwards received an invitation from that same general to the Army-Navy football game. © Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

Wild Raccoon Crashes

Into Prison and Remains

COLUMBUS, OHIO.—Ohio state penitentiary officials are wondering how their newest prisoner, a wild raccoon, got into the prison.

The voluntary but very vicious inmate was found in the prison courtyard and apparently had climbed the high walls.

The raccoon was added to the collection of prison pets which includes: two groundhogs, one possum, a monkey-faced owl, chicken hawks, six squirrels, two snakes, five alligators, two dogs, a parrot and numerous cats.

Here's a HOT number for COLD winter days

Easy on the eye—easy to buy—on General Motors terms!

TAKE it out on a clear, crisp day when the frost nips through the sunshine and there's tingle in the air! Put it up against a long pull—a brisk dash—a twisting, winding trail!

We want to show you how much fun winter could be—if only you had a Buick!

You'll press on the treadle—and find the thrill of the ski-run in the burst of ready power from the barely whispering, great eight engine.

You'll swing around a curve—and find the poised sureness of the figure-skater in the way this Buick answers, even on winter's slippery roads.

You'll brace yourself for a rut or bump—only to discover that Buick!

springing has already ironed it out. You'll look out over the wide horizon—and know winter's beauties better through windows that let you see!

You'll start when you want to start, stop when you want to stop. You'll have a car that's new, and fit, and sound.

This Buick, you know, is easy to buy—costs less than a year ago, less than you'd expect, less even than some sixes.

And, we might add, it's easier to get deliveries now than it will be later; so we hope we'll be seeing you—soon!
