

EIGHT HUNDRED THOUS. AND DEER IN THE STATE

Pennsylvania is the home of approximately 800,000 white tailed deer and related species, according to Dr. Logan J. Bennett, in charge of the co-operative wild life research unit at Pennsylvania State College.

ervation forces have been at work, many species are holding their own or are increasing.

Of the 81,270 black bear in the entire country, about 3,300 are in Pennsylvania, Dr. Bennett said. The state of Washington leads the country with more than 13,000 black bear.

Pennsylvania can boast of 11 buffalo, which once roamed the country in almost unlimited numbers. Now but 4,100 are known. Montana has the largest number—697—followed by South Dakota with 585.

STRAND THEATRE, ALTOONA BOOKS "DODGE CITY"

When, a year ago, film critics greeted Warner Bros. "The Adventures of Robin Hood" with an overwhelming barrage of praise, they added a more colorful, more spectacular adventure picture would be difficult to produce. "Dodge City" provides the answer to that challenge. If "Robin Hood" was pretty close to fact, "Dodge City" is pretty close to fiction. "Dodge City" is the more extraordinary and exciting thereby.

In the southwestern part of Kansas some sixty-seven years ago, far-seeing Santa Fe Railroad operators laid out the community destined to become Dodge City. No sooner had the last spike been driven than business flourished rapidly. Dozens of carloads of hides and meat were shipped daily from the four corners of the earth men came to this "wide-open Babylon of the West" — to build, to ravage, to fight — cowboy, bull-whacker, humble citizen and homemaker. Behind them came the flotsam and jetsam of civilization to reap only the gold that lay within easy reach. Saloons, gambling halls, and bawdy houses

QUESTION OF METER PURCHASE MAY HOLD UP EBENSBURG WORK

Work on the extension of the Ebensburg borough water line from the west end of the borough to the juvenile home, scheduled to start Monday of this week under a $23,469 WPA project may be held up for a time, it was revealed. The question of whether the county or the state highway department should pay $232 for a water meter has not yet been settled.

Cambria county officials contend that in view of the fact the county will use the line, for the present at least, only for fire protection, the highway way department should pay for the meter, as the water will be used for the new highway department building now under construction.
