Hunters Quit When Bear Turns Tables on Them. KESLON, WASH. — Clyde Mellitt and Joseph St. Onge returned from a hunting trip to report a fantastic escape from death at the claws of a large black bear. St. Onge sighted the bear first, and his shot knocked the animal off a log. The hunter laid aside his rifle and climbed over the log. A wounded and enraged beast met him. The hunter turned and fled. He then called Mellitt and, returning to the place where St. Onge had laid aside his rifle, the two hunters separated in an attempt to pick up the bear's trail. Mellitt had progressed only a short distance when the bear charged him. A frantic chase ensued, with Mellitt dashing madly around a stump and the wounded bear behind him. Mellitt's shouts attracted St. Onge, but was afraid to risk a shot for fear of hitting his comrade. Finally, however, he fired a shot into the air and frightened the bear away. The hunters decided they had been hunting enough for one day, and made no further attempt to follow the wounded animal.

Connecticut Man Sports Third Set of Teeth at 19. HARTFORD, CONN.—Vincent G. Kochunas is 19 years old, stands 6 feet and weighs 225 pounds. There's nothing unusual in that, according to the army recruiting station here for there are several "big boys" in the United States' fighting forces, officials pointed out. But Vincent is a bit different—he is now sporting his third complete set of natural teeth. According to the youth's parents, the third set replaced the second when Vincent was 15. Army Sergt. Stanley Kuczewski found the "third edition" to be in perfect condition and the youth passed quickly through the routine physical examination.

Man Shoots at Pheasant, Finds Only Head on Stick. TURLOCK, CALIF.—Bob Ferrier, hunting with A. H. Hansen recently, first was thrilled and then was disappointed, says the Oakland Tribune. Ferrier and Hansen had hunted all day without any luck. En route home, while driving along a canal bank, Ferrier spotted what he believed to be a pheasant. He shot with accuracy and then went to retrieve his bird. But it was only the head of a pheasant that some successful hunter had placed on a stick hidden in the grass.

STATE PARK IS SOUGHT AT PEARY'S MEMORIAL. Senator John J. Haluska and Assemblyman Albert L. O'Connor have introduced a bill before the Pennsylvania legislature under which the state would acquire Admiral Robert E. Peary Park, in Cresson township, for use as a state park. The bill provides for a $10,000 appropriation which would be used in beautifying the one acre plot of land, located at the intersection of the William Penn Highway and old Loretto road. A monument of Peary is located on the property, now owned by the Cambria county Historical Society, which is backing the movement to have the land made into a state park. According to Attorney Peter J. Little of Ebensburg, president of the Society, the county organization has offered to turn the property over to the state for no charge at all providing the bill is passed. The society, Mr. Little said, offered to take this action in view of the fact the property is being neglected and the society's annual income is insufficient to properly care for the grounds. It pays to advertise in the Union Press-Courier.

PENNSYLVANIANS GET NEW CHANCE AT LOCAL OPTION

Philadelphia — Pennsylvanians get their biennial opportunity this year to curtail or extend the "dry" territory within the state. The Pennsylvania Anti-Saloon League estimated today approximately 500 townships and boroughs would resort to the local option provision of the state liquor regulations this fall to let voters decide whether retail beer and liquor sales should continue. Whether the question will be on the ballot at the September 12 primary or the November election depends on what happens to a measure now before the Legislature. With the support of the Anti-Saloon League, the measure would shift the local option elections from the primary in each odd-numbered year to the November election day. This would enable more persons to register their votes, a league spokesman said, because a greater number always turns out for November elections. The league has endorsed other legislative measures designed to keep liquor establishments out of residential sections and to forbid licensing of any liquor retail place within 400 feet of a school, church or college. Present regulations permit the State Liquor Control Board to decide whether licenses shall be granted in such areas. Under the State Liquor Act, a municipality may petition for local referendum on whether beer shall be banned, or whether both shall go. Dr. F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the league, estimated approximately 600 districts in the state have voted to outlaw either beer or liquor. At past elections, 482 units banned liquor only and 470 outlawed beer only but in many cases these districts were the same.

At the last local option election—

September, 1937—a total of 215 units voted dry. Of these 114 voted out liquor and 101 voted out beer. "The wets," said Dr. F. Scott McBride, "are getting scared at the forward march against license." Extinguish Blaze. A projection machine was damaged last week when it ignited during the showing of a picture at the Rivoli theatre in Cresson. The film in the machine at the time also ignited, but the operator soon extinguished the blaze. The fire occurred at 11 o'clock, a short time before the feature picture was finished. There were only twenty-five persons in the theatre at the time and exit was easy. Youth Hurt. Millard Hanson, 13, of Marstellar, suffered bruises about the body the other night when an automobile operated by Kenneth McBlaine of Barnesboro, R. D., struck a parked car in Marstellar. The parked machine was owned by Clarence Butterworth. The Hanson boy was standing by an open door of the Butterworth car cleaning the window glass in the automobile when the McBlaine vehicle struck the open door.
