

ACKERMAN WILL ENFORCE DOG ACT

Former State Investigator Again "Back in Harness" in Blair and Cambria Counties.

BERT ACKERMAN.

A. C. (Bert) Ackerman last week was again appointed investigating officer in the state department of agriculture—bureau of animal industry—going back to a position he held for more than five years—particularly in dog law enforcement in Cambria and Blair Counties. Mr. Ackerman, who resides in Altoona, will be investigator and instructor in the settlement of stock and poultry claims where damages have been caused by the depredations of dogs. It will be his duty to rigidly enforce the dog license law and in this connection he asks all persons not having licenses to get the same at once. Mr. Ackerman does not want to prosecute, but will be obliged to do so where violations are evident. No dog is excluded.

STATE DEMOCRATS WILL MEET ON JULY 24TH TO TAKE UP CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg.—Democratic leaders of Pennsylvania have summoned the state committee to meet July 21 at Harrisburg to indorse state wide judicial candidates for the fall municipal election.

The action was taken by the party's executive committee headed by state chairman David L. Lawrence, and conformed to party rules requiring a state making meeting in advance of each state wide election.

The terms of three superior court judges and one supreme court justice expire this year. Chief Justice John W. Kephart of the supreme court is ineligible for reelection. Republican leaders expect that Judge Thomas Baldrige William Keller and William E. Hirt will seek election to the superior court.

The Democratic executive committee also indorsed the candidacy of Mrs. John Frederick Lewis Jr. of Philadelphia for election to the state senate.

The seat in the second senatorial district was declared vacant by the refusal of the senate to make a choice between Herbert S. Levin, Democrat, and Samuel W. Salus, Republican, rival candidates for the post, at last year's election.

Her Republican opponent will be Alvin Evans Kephart, son of Chief Justice Kephart. He was nominated on Friday last by the Philadelphia Republican city committee.

Judge John H. McCann of Cambria county already has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for the supreme court. Other Democrats mentioned as possible candidates are former Attorney General Guy K. Bard, Judge Curtis Bok, of Philadelphia, and Judge Ralph H. Smith and Judge Michael Musmanno, of Pittsburgh.

Justice Kephart has indorsed Judge Marion D. Patterson of Blair County, for the Republican nomination as his successor. Judge Sara M. Soffel of Allegheny county has announced for both the Republican and Democratic nominations.

For superior court on the Democratic side, possible candidates mentioned include State Senator Samuel L. Gilson of Erie and representative Herbert Cohen of York.

TWENTY-TWO SCOUT TROOPS REHEARSING FOR THE PEARY DRAMA ON NEXT WEEK END

Early Life of Famous Explorer to Be Depicted in Pageant on Sunday, June 16, at Cresson.

Scouts in 22 troops of Admiral Robert E. Peary Council are busy rehearsing parts and constructing scenery for the pageant to be presented in connection with the annual Scout pilgrimage to the Peary monument at Cresson on Sunday, June 18th, closing day of the annual council-wide camporee.

Carl P. Oswald, who is well known for his dramatic work, wrote the pageant and also will direct the presentation. The various troops are rehearsing their parts separately and will meet for a general rehearsal during which all the scenes will be coordinated, on Saturday, June 17th, at the Scout Council Camporee grounds adjacent to the monument plot.

The pageant will be presented in a four year cycle, parts of the famous arctic explorer's life, being depicted in pageant form each year.

This year's presentation will deal with the early life of Peary, showing his strength of character as a boy and graphically proving the contention of the boy scouts of America that the formative years are the important ones.

The pageant, according to Mr. Oswald, is a combination of realism and symbolism and makes use of the modern dramatic form, as well as the ancient custom of heraldry and pageantry.

A recitative chorus, similar to those of the early Greek dramas, is incorporated into the pageant, being used to convey the transition from one period to another.

The action begins with the birth of Peary on May 6, 1856, and traces his career through his school days, college days, his early engineering experience with the U. S. Civil Engineering Corps, his first exploration into Nicaragua, his marriage and finally his first venture into the frozen North.

It is planned to present the pageant on a two level stage with action taking place on both levels at the same time. The stage will be erected on the flat section of ground in the Peary Memorial Park at the intersection of Routes 22 and 45. The sloping grounds around the monument will form a natural amphitheater for the large crowd expected to witness the performance.

Music during the performance will be provided by the Gallitzin Drum and Bugle Corps. While the pageant written by Mr. Oswald is authentic in every detail, fictitious characters have been introduced to give it greater dramatic value. Some of the material for the pageant was taken from the "Life of Peary," by Mercedes Buck, of Cresson.

More than 200 scouts will take part in the dramatic production. The troops and their assignments follow: "Commentators," Troop 25, Geistown; "The Standard Bearers," Troop 101, Windber; "Flag Bearers," Troop 89, Twin Rocks; scene 1, birth of Robert E. Peary, Troop 8, First Christian church, Johnstown; and Troop 42, New Florence; "Charles Peary Dies," Troop 71, Carrolltown; scene 3, Troop 2, Coopersdale and Troop 33, St. Patrick's church, Johnstown; scene 4, "College Days," Troop 104, Church of the Holy Child, Windber, and Troop 46, Ehrenfeld; scene 5, "Peary Enters Government Service," Troop 83, Colver, Troop 30, Ferndale, Troop 28, Moxham Lutheran Church, Johnstown, and Troop 72, of Bakerton; scene 6, "Peary, the Explorer, Is Born," "His Nicaraguan Experience," Troop 71, Carrolltown; Troop 111, Scalp Level; scene 7, "Peary's 1st Trip to the North," Troop 85, Ebensburg; Troop 57, Wilmore; scene 8, "Peary Marries Josephine Diebitsch," Troop 9 Grove Avenue Methodist Church, Johnstown; scene 9, "Prevue of Peary's final triumph," Troop 23, of Trinity Lutheran Church, Johnstown; scene 10, "First Climax," all troops; scene 11, "Second Climax," "The Spirit of Scouting," Troop 44, Seward; scene 12, grand climax, all troops.

Deer Hunters Discover Huge Meteorite

A strange metal-like rock found by deer hunters in the lava beds of Modoc National forest near Oakland, Calif., was pronounced a bona fide meteor by Professor Earle G. Linsley of the Chabot observatory, pictured with the find. Largest ever found in California, the meteor weighed more than a ton, and is comparatively new, having fallen in the "last few thousand years."
