GAME COMMISSION CHIEF DISCUSSES CHANGE S IN CODE

Harrisburg. — Legislative amendments to the game code were credited with extending more liberties to the sportsmen and opening new avenues for extending Pennsylvania's wildlife conservation program, Nicholas Biddle, president of the State Game Commission, said. He cited particularly provisions reducing penalties for mistaken kills of game from one-half to one-fourth the usual fine and that fixing the price of a special doe license from $2 to $1. He noted the changed law permits sportsmen to block an antlerless deer season in any county by presenting a petition signed by fifty per cent of the licensed hunters of that county.

The commission issued a special statement to familiarize hunters with changes in the season on ground hogs, which opened July 1st and continues until September 30. The amendments permit hunting groundhogs between 6 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Dogs may not be used until after August 19th.

Extensive game food planting during the spring was reported by the commission which met last week with representatives of the State Federation of Sportsmen's Clubs to discuss seasons and bag limits for 1939. The conferees also discussed plans for a $100,000 game stocking program.

Bounty payments for the year ending June 1, 1939, the commission reported, totalled $60,269. Claims for killing predators numbered 19,307.

YOU CAN BLAME ONLY YOURSELF IF HOME IS INFESTED WITH FLIES

State College. — Fly control, like charity, should begin at home, according to an entomologist at Pennsylvania State College.

"If a fly crawls on your bald head or keeps the baby awake, it probably is a home grown specimen in search of food or a place to lay its eggs," says H. E. Hodgkiss, college extension entomologist.

Hodgkiss reports that although flies have been known to drift for several miles in high winds, the ordinary house fly usually does not travel more than a city block or two by accident. When allowed to breed, however, flies make a very thorough canvas of local conditions.

Fly swatters, traps, papers and electrocuting screens, are helpful, but are not the best means of control because they do not eliminate breeding places and fly generations follow each other very rapidly under favorable conditions.

Pyrethrum powder or various oil-pyrethrum sprays are recommended because they are not injurious to humans and can be used effectively about the kitchen and other rooms at night.

DURING VACATION TIME ITS TIME TO THINK OF CHILD'S VACCINATION

In time of peace prepare for war. In the summer prepare for the winter.

Now is the time for all good parents to come to the aid of child health. During vacation think of vaccination.

Immunize immediately. Proper examination now with adequate treatment will enable the child to enter school in the fall in his or her best possible state of health.

Every child has this inalienable right.

There are so many things parents can do for the child which will make his tasks much simpler before he enters or returns to school in the fall.

Parents can instill in the child the habits of health—sufficient sleep, exercise, well balanced diet, personal cleanliness and a healthy, wholesome mental attitude.

The child's health depends on the removal and correction of such physical defects as can be remedied.

Infected tonsils, adenoids, bad teeth, poor vision, impaired hearing, orthopedic defects and harmful hereditary tendencies should be treated.

Any of these conditions may make school a very difficult place for your child.

Why not have these defects corrected now, during the summer months, so that when cold weather arrives, the child will not be in a low physical state, more susceptible to infections and contagions.

All parents are ambitious for their children. They can do much to further the child's career possibilities.

The principal thing they can do is to see that the child has satisfactory health with which to meet school requirements.

Right now is the ideal time to correct defects in the child.

When school opens the child should be ready.

Do You Know?

The average case of sickness is not costly to the patient from the standpoint of the physician's fees. Rarely is more than one-third of the cost of sickness absorbed by the physician's fee—the balance goes to the drug store, nurse, etc.

Dental caries is the most prevalent disease of mankind.
