Randolph Myers

Attorney Randolph Myers of Ebensburg, has filed petitions at Harrisburg, as a candidate for Judge of the Court of Common Pleas in the Democratic primaries on September 12th.

Well known to thousands of folks over the county, Attorney Myers has, in the past, shown his regard for the common man and woman, and has taken an active part in the campaigns in which organized labor was interested, particularly that of the Kennedy-for-Governor campaign of last year, when he was one of the principal speakers of the Cambria County committee interested in the Kennedy cause.

Numerous labor groups are interested in Attorney Myers' candidacy, and his past successful experience as a lawyer has been such as to command the respect of all who know him.

Myers was an interested spectator at the contests and declared they were among the best he has witnessed.

CRICHTON BUYS LOGAN COAL COMPANY'S MINES ON A BID OF $10,500.00

Bidding $10,500, Andrew B. Crichton, Johnstown engineer, last Friday purchased the properties of the Logan Coal Company in Summerhill, Croyle, Adams and Richland townships at a public sale held in the court house by Attorney Frank J. Hartmann, acting on behalf of the Pennsylvania Companies for Insurances on Lives and Granting Annuities, trustees for the bondholders of the coal company. The court will be asked on August 31 to confirm the sale.

Two other bidders endeavored to buy the property. They were Nick Kovalchick of Sagamore, Armstrong County, who offered $9,500 and Frank Callandra, Cresson junk dealer, offering $10,000.

The sale, however, is subject to be a first mortgage, held by the Wilmore-South Fork Coal Company amounting to $27,252.91 on property of the coal company in Croyle and Summerhill Townships. The property also carries delinquent taxes due the county amounting to $19,901.57. A claim for taxes was also entered by John L. Wissinger collector in Croyle township, who filed a statement for the current year's taxes of $2,294.96. The state department of revenue also claimed $2,277.28 for corporation tax.

Attorney Peter J. Little, representing the county, was first doubtful as to whether the county would be protected in its rights to collect taxes due if the property were sold to Mr. Crichton at the bid price. However, it was later decided that the taxes follow the property and that the purchaser is liable for their payment.

Just what share 606 coal miners formerly employed in the Beaverdale operations of the coal company will receive from the $10,000 fund, will have to be decided by the Cambria County Court. They have filed wage claims amounting to $57,779.77. The cost of the sale will also have to be paid out of the successful bid.

The sale was held to satisfy the $378,000 in bonds outstanding of an issue of $1,000,000, which was protected by a mortgage of equal amount.

It is not believed likely that the operations of the coal company will be resumed soon. A great deal will depend, Mr. Crichton indicated, on the condition of the coal industry. It was stated that expenditures of at least $100,000 would be necessary to replace worn machinery before work could be resumed.
