UNITY BETWEEN GOD AND MAN THROUGH FELLOWSHIP

The Kingdom of God brings unity between God and man. There are four great estrangements that have come into life. 1. There is a universe estrangement. Man is not at home in his physical environment. 2. There is social estrangement. Man has not yet learned to live together with man. 3. There is self estrangement. Man is inwardly at war with himself—an embodied tragedy. 4. There is God-estrangement. If "lack of fellowship is hell," then the lack of fellowship with the Highest is the deepest hell.

Spencer defined life as response to environment; if this definition is accurate, then man is not living until the universe estrangement, the social estrangement, the self estrangement, and the God estrangement are done away with and man is reconciled.

At the basis of each of these estrangements is nothing less than sin—selfishness. At the basis of universe estrangement is economic sin—selfishness. We have approached the universe in a selfish, predatory way and the universe responds by closing up her treasures. At the basis of social estrangement is personal sin—selfishness. We obey lower impulses only to find ourselves at war with the higher within us. At the basis of the God-estrangement is sin—selfishness—in all three phases—economic, social, personal, for if we hurt anything or anyone, anywhere, we hurt God. God-estrangement sets in. We have hurt things and people and ourselves and a fundamental estrangement has taken hold of us. How can this estrangement be taken away and reconciliation take place?

I have just said that God was hurt in any hurt that is given to anything or person. Then does God wear a perpetual cross? He does. But we should never have seen the cross unless it had been lifted up in time, for we are bounded by our senses, and need a sense-view of that hidden cross. The Time cross was lifted up and we have seen. That cross says one thing as a Man who hung there stretches wide His arms as if to embrace everything and every man: "Father forgive them, for they know not what they do." There is forgiveness, release, power.

"Oh, Father Latimer," said one, "I prithee, hear me, when I read in the New Testament, Christ Jesus came into the world to save sinners, it is as if the day suddenly broke." Yes, when we allow Him to invade us with His redeeming grace, it is as if the day suddenly broke—a day with no night at the end.

This is the real unity—the unity of the soul with the Divine—with nothing between! Hugh Fawcett says: "I became conscious of a subtle change stealing over me. It was as if I were a cup which was slowly being filled with living water. I was invaded by some will in which was infinite love, peace, wisdom and power. I felt a never before known humility and gladness, an inexpressible certainty that within all the discords of life there was Divine intention and a final harmony, that the darkness in me was in this timeless moment resolved in light and the error redeemed in ultimate comprehension."

The unity with God brings unity within one's own self. The discords, the inner clashes are at an end, and one is at peace with itself.

The Kingdom of God brings unity at the center of one's being with the center of the universe and hence lays the foundation of all unities.

To sum up: The Kingdom does away with dualities and brings unity between heaven and earth, between the material and the spiritual, between the secular and the sacred, the ethical and the religious, between science and religion, between idealism and realism, between the social and the personal, and between God and man and between man and his own soul. "In and through Him the universe is one harmonious whole." It is!—E. Stanley Jones.
