DOUBLE FEATURE BILL AT GRAND THEATRE, PATTON, ON SATURDAY NIGHT

A bang-up double feature show is coming to the Grand Theatre, Patton, on Saturday night of this week. The first of these is one of the most unusual pictures in years, "Five Came Back," a new dramatic offering with an all star cast, headed by Chester Morris, Lucille Ball and Wendy Barrie.

The film deals with the plight of a group of airplane travelers forced down in a tropical jungle. While head-hunting natives threaten to wipe out the whole party, romance and adventure and jealousy and heroism flourish among them, as the two pilots labor to repair the craft and fly it out to civilization. And when the survivors are ready to go they discover that the crippled plane can carry only five of them—the others must stay behind and face certain death! Around this stark situation the film's cast and technical staff have woven a brilliantly developed piece of screen fare, grim, colorful, realistic, tender and memorable. A striking climax is when a man under sentence of death is appointed final judge to select the five members who shall be allowed to live. It is a show you'll long remember.

The second feature on Saturday evening's program brings that greatest of all detective mystery thrillers, from the pen of A. Conan Doyle, "The Adventures of Sherlock Holmes, starring Basil Rathbone and Nigel Bruce. The plot will keep you guessing. Come early.

URGES CITIZENSHIP TRAINING COURSES

State College.—Citizenship training should be emphasized through the entire process of education—from the elementary schools through the universities advises Dean Chris L. Christensen, of the University of Wisconsin.

The president of the American Rural Country Life Association said at the opening of its national rural forum yesterday he especially emphasized the matter of citizenship and leadership "because laymen or citizen leaders are more important to a functioning democracy than is ordinarily recognized."

He declared the rural educational program should be revised to enrich the curriculum with courses that will enable pupils who do not go to high school and college to better understand their relationship to industrial, mercantile and other groups of citizens.

Britain Transports Its Troops by Plane

Mobilization of the English army was materially hastened by use of airplanes in the rush to get troops to the continent. Above photograph shows members of the Second Battalion of the Royal Ulster Rifles boarding a plane for the front. The Soviet Union, too, has laid great stress on its troop carrying planes and its mass parachute leaps from the air. Russia, in the past few years, has carried on extensive experiments with this type of air raid and has repeatedly declared them successful. Many army officials, however, declare the mass parachute leaps impractical for war.
