

INFORMATION

A WEEKLY STORY ON CATHOLICITY. FROM THIRD ORDER SECULAR, LORETTO, PA.

What 360,000,000 People Believe In every nook and corner of the world there are Roman Catholics—360,000,000 all told—all holding the same religious beliefs—all practicing the

YOUR Thanksgiving DESSERT IS READY!

ONLY 33c SERVES 4

HOFFMAN'S ICE CREAM MINCE PIE

The crust is dainty vanilla ice cream. The filling is real old-fashioned mince—made with apples, raisins, citron, spices—and everything. Those attractive decorations of whipped cream make it a real "party" dessert. Make a note now: "For Thanksgiving dinner—Ice Cream Mince Pie." Or maybe you'd like one for dessert tonight?

AT DEALERS ONLY

AND HERE'S A TREAT FOR THE YOUNGSTERS The Drumstick—a cake cone, filled with ice cream—topped with nuts—and chocolate coated. Only 5c.

HOFFMAN'S ICE CREAM

Sealtest, Inc. and this company are under the same ownership.

same faith—all willing under the religious guidance of the same leader, the Pope. These people form a cross-section of every country of the world—the poor, the rich, the humble, the proud, the ignorant, the wise—each one satisfying his soul's demands through the Roman Catholic Church.

Wouldn't it be interesting for you to know what these people really do, and do not, believe?—this vast world army, nearly twice as large as other Christian sects combined.

What you have heard about the Catholic Church, since your school days up to the latest magazine you have bought, very likely comes from sources, either of Catholic belief, or anti-Catholic in sentiment. It is only just to hear both sides of any story and it is with the thought that you will read our brief statements on Catholic beliefs and actions, that we publish these little articles. Will you do us the courtesy of reading them each week? And will you write us concerning things Catholic which seem to you to be against our country, against yourself, or against common-sense itself? We assure you that our reply will be brief, courteous and to the point. Write to: Third Order Secular, Loretto, Penna.

MORE INDIAN LORE FOUND IN STATE

Harrisburg — Pennsylvania, already rich in historic attractions for the tourist and student, is adding to its store of Indian Lore, Secretary of Commerce Richard P. Brown reported last week.

Recent discoveries in southwestern Pennsylvania throw new light upon migrations of Indians into that section in the years before the white men came, Secretary Brown said.

Excavations in Somerset County, according to the Commerce Secretary, disclose evidence concerning lives and habits which prompt the belief that the early inhabitants were members of the Delaware tribes.

This belief is based upon the fact that their graves contained many turtle-bone implements and ornaments and turtle shell markings. The turtle was the insignia of the Delaware nation.

Traces of ancient Indian villages dispel doubts which had existed among Indian lore authorities regarding whether re-skinned aborigines had inhabited the heavily forested mountains of that section of the State.

Other relics also indicate, Brown said, that some of the Indians or their ancestors had wandered great distances before coming to Pennsylvania. Some of the arrow heads which were uncovered were made of a type of flint found only in the stones of the far west. Other ornaments found in recent Somerset excavations were made of shell which probably came from the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Coast, in the opinion of authorities on Indian culture.

DEMOCRATIC LEADER IN CLEARFIELD DIES

Clearfield — Daniel Leffler, 52, Democratic leader who had been postmaster of Clearfield for six years, died suddenly last Wednesday of heart disease.

He was former president of the trustees of the Huntingdon State Industrial School and until a few months ago was part owner of the Clearfield Times, a weekly newspaper.

Patronize our advertisers. We will appreciate it.

Baltic Sure to Figure in War

Furnishes Only Sea Outlet For Poland and Three Neutral Nations.

WASHINGTON.—The Baltic sea, on the waters and around the shores of which struggles may occur during the conflict in Europe, is the subject of a bulletin from the National Geographic society. The shores of the Baltic form as much of a political patchwork as those of the Mediterranean, the bulletin points out.

"In the days of the Viking fleets, the Baltic was a network of trading routes second only to the Mediterranean in commercial importance," continues the bulletin. "Today, the Baltic transports the great trade of the marginal nations, the bulk of which is among themselves.

Sea Outlet for Four Nations. "The northern inland sea furnishes the only sea outlet for Poland and for the three small neutral nations, Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia. While Russia has other sea outlets, its Baltic frontage is none the less important. Finland has a tiny strip of land reaching to the Arctic ocean in the extreme north, but it is in effect dependent on the Baltic for a sea outlet.

"Sweden's Baltic sea coast extends for nearly a thousand miles, but it also has an extensive coast line on the waters of the Kattegat and Skagerrak, the channels which connect the Baltic with the North sea. The other Baltic countries with double sea fronts are Denmark, which lies practically across the water door to the Baltic; and Germany, which has two Baltic coast lines—in West Prussia and East Prussia—and a North sea coast line between The Netherlands and Denmark.

"While all the other countries fronting on the Baltic must send their ships through the Kattegat and Skagerrak to reach the North sea, Germany has the 60-mile-long Kiel canal connecting the two seas, through the Jutland peninsula. This waterway was enlarged just before the World war to permit the passage of dreadnaughts and other large vessels. By the Versailles treaty, the Kiel canal was made an international waterway; but two years ago Germany again took control.

Drains Huge Area.

"With an estimated area of about 160,000 square miles, the Baltic sea is more than half again as large as the five Great Lakes on the Canadian border. It extends north almost to the Arctic circle where the sun never sets for a period of seven weeks each June and July. It is nearly 1,000 miles long, with a width varying from 50 to 400 miles.

"So great is the flow of river water into the sea that it is increased in volume during the flood season. It drains an area about one-fifth that of the United States. The rivers are also responsible for lessening the percentage of salt in the water which freezes in the northern portions. Finland has one ice-breaking ship with 9,200 horsepower that can plow through three feet of ice. In the northern portions, however, the Baltic is not navigable during the winter months."

Lord's Prayer Version Of Aborigines Translated

SYDNEY, N. S. W.—Dr. Herman Nekes, specialist on the languages and dialects of Australian aborigines, has translated back into English the Lord's Prayer after it had been incorporated into one of the aboriginal languages.

The literal translation is as follows:

"Our father on top sky. Thy name be feared. Thou art our Boss. Men-women will listen to Thee this place earth as the good souls of men-women listen to Thee on top sky.

"Give us tucker till the sun goth down. We did wrong; make us good. Watch us agains bad place. Thy hands are stretched out to guard us from bad."

College Grades Solons On Basis of Their Votes

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—Modern state legislators have to watch their "p's and q's" now.

Within a month after the adjournment of the California legislature every member received his "grade" as checked by professors and students of the Sacramento Junior college based on the attitude and voting of each legislator throughout the session.

They were graded as being "liberals," "usually liberals," "straddlers," "usually conservatives" and "die-hard conservatives."

Egypt Orders Girls To Take First Aid

CAIRO, EGYPT.—Egypt's school girls—whose brothers now receive military training—must also "do their bit" in preparing for an emergency, the minister of education has decided. He has ordered school girls to take courses in first aid. Teachers and girlguide officials have received similar instructions.

QUALITY OF EGGS IS GREATLY INCREASED

State College — Five years ago only 68 percent of the eggs handled by one of Pennsylvania's cooperative egg auctions were graded as extras and fancies while more than 27 percent were standards or third grade. Now, according to Carl O. Dossin, poultry extension specialist with the Pennsylvania State College, more than 95 percent go as extras and fancies and less than three percent are standards.

By emphasizing the importance of cooling the eggs promptly and keeping them at proper temperatures and humidity, the extension specialists have been able to promote this marked improvement in egg quality, he said.

Temperature and humidity requirements have been given particular emphasis during the past year. Poultrymen have been provided with information that has helped them in economical remodeling of their storage room so they can market high quality eggs.

LEGAL NOTICE.

According to the records of The First National Bank of Patton, Patton, Pennsylvania, there appears to be undelivered the following Safe-keeping Items and/or contents of Safe-Deposit Boxes, and unless the same are delivered before the sale of the assets they will be turned over to a successor custodian who may greatly complicate delivery. Anyone knowing the owner or the address of any of the following listed persons and will communicate the information either to the owner, or the Receiver of the trust, the same will be considered a favor to all persons concerned:

Alonso Aikens, Fred Arble, Herman A. Bennett, Mrs. Caroline Biller, Barney Blankfeld, W. J. Bortman, John T. Cline, Florence A. Dale, Lillian Davis, Schuyler C. Davis, Herman Dishart, Charles Goeboro, Mrs. L. L. Hoover, Amos H. Kirkpatrick, Peter E. Johnson, Harrison M. Mannion, Nellie S. Morey, Frank Mulligan, Steve Pito, Lonnie Ross, Antonio Rotondra, F. X. Stoltz, Joseph Strassler, Albert Thomas, W. L. Thompson, Joseph Tomallo, Jacob Warner, M. A. Donnelly, B. O. Duffy, Ladies Golden Eagle, John Palchko, Jr.

requested to call at the Receiver's office in the Grange National Bank Building, Patton, Pa., for their property.

PARK M. WILMER, Receiver, The First National Bank of Patton, Patton, Pa.

BEFORE COLD WEATHER STOPS YOU

If you want to get the most out of your car in cold weather, it is very important that you put the correct grade of good motor oil in the crankcase. So if you haven't yet prepared your car for winter driving, be sure to stop at the big red Atlantic sign right away and ask the attendant to drain and refill your crankcase with the recommended grade of Atlantic Motor Oil. The same goes for the gear lubricants in the transmission and differential. Better check up right away... and play safe!

"More Miles for Your Money"

LISTEN TO ATLANTIC FOR THE BEST IN SPORTS BROADCASTING

Her Savings Habit is Paying Now . . .

At an age when most people face financial dependence, she enjoys the security and independence made possible by a Savings Account. Her foresight years ago is paying dividends NOW. It's not late to begin saving for the future—why not open your account now?

WE ARE A MEMBER OF THE FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

First National Bank at Patton

