The endeavor of the Union Press-Courier is to sincerely and honestly represent Trade Union Workers in efforts to obtain economic freedom through organizations as advocated by the CIO and AFL, and we solicit the support of trade unions, Material for publication must be authorized by the organization it represents and signed by the President and Secretary and bear the seal.

The Union Press-Courier gives its advertisers the advantage of the combined circulation of the two largest circulated weeklies in Cambria County and has a reader coverage that blankets Paton and the major mining towns.

THE County Election campaign is now on in full swing, and as the days and weeks pass by, it will become all the more intensified. There is no scarcity of candidates in either party, and there is no guessing as to who will be primary victors. Naturally, one can't find fault with the candidates. One can't blame a lot of lawyers for wanting to sit on the bench. After all, it is the life ambition of a lot of them to become a judge. Nor can one blame other aspirants who want to become the Cambria County Sheriff. There's a salary of $4,500 a year connected with that job in four years time, all you have to do is a bit of multiplication.

BUT the death of candidates in the primary are the folks who want to be Jury Commissioners. The nomination in this case is equivalent to election, inasmuch as each party nominates only one candidate, and two names go on the fall ballot for election. The job pays $800 a year, and its really mighty fine pay for all the work there is in it. However, the average candidate for jury commissioner gets all worked up during the campaign, and spends lots more than the job justifies. Every Tom, Dick and Harry who has something to sell, or some donation to solicit, hits the Jury Commissioner candidate just the same as he solicits the chap who wants to be a Sheriff, or a Judge, and when the votes are counted, the winner likely finds he has already spent a great portion of his salary. He's not a lawyer, and he's not a politician, and he's not a politician, in addition.

THURSDAY of this week is the last day in which you can operate an automobile without the current inspection sticker being attached to the windshield. The state secretary of revenue warns that there will be no extension of time granted, if you have not had your car inspected, and still drive it after today—well, that's an easy way of being arrested.

IF THERE'S a close election in the September 9th primaries, the result may in doubt for ten days because of proposed changes in the state Election Laws which give men in military service the right to vote by mail with a "military ballot." With the use of "military ballots, the final count must be held up until the second Friday after election day—or Sept. 19 in this case—to afford time for military ballots to be sent from camps and ships at sea. Similar votes in world war days delayed announcement and in some places upset the results of elections. The proposed military ballot is to be administered by the County Election Boards, with the state paying expenses at the rate of 43 cents for each military ballot mailed out to soldiers.

WHEN the Pennsylvania Turnpike was conceived, it was pointed out that it would be the scene of safety in driving conditions—and now that it is in operation, there is no denying that a number of fatal accidents have occurred on the super-highway. Only one conclusion can be reached in the blame for these accidents, and that is that it is the human element behind the steering wheel, and not the road, nor the motor vehicle.

ACCORDING to Fred W. Perkins, Washington correspondent to the Pittsburgh Press, national leaders of the Republican party are moving in on Governor James at Harrisburg with suggestions that he call a special session of the general assembly to redistrict this state for next year's election of 22 congressmen. It is said that the Governor has made a tentative promise to do this but not until November or December—for political reasons hooked up with the November election of Common Pleas judges. But in the Perkins article, we have not been able to glean any light as to a thought of honest redistricting. Surely, in the light of the recent legislative debate in this regard, the people of the state are entitled to a fair and equitable reapportionment and not some more legalized patchwork that has as its primary purpose the protection of sitting congressmen of both political parties—which now seems to be the thought in mind.

THE CIO has won its long battle with the "Little Steel" companies. It will be remembered that after the dramatic success of the SWOC in winning the United States Steel Corporation agreement in 1937, the so-called independent companies intimidated their resistance to the extension of collective bargaining to their plants. This led to the bitter "Little Steel" strike of that year, the major issue of which was the companies' refusal to negotiate a signed agreement with the Steel Workers Organizing Committee.

BIG VALUES FOR YOU 6 DAYS A WEEK ALTHOUGH A&P EMPLOYEES WORK ONLY 5 DAYS!

This week begins for our store employees, what we believe to be the first five day week and the shortest general working hours in any major food retailing organization. Although our stores will continue to serve customers six days a week A&P employees will enjoy a five-day week. Their pay will remain the same as for the six-day week.

Because our low prices have resulted in increased patronage, we have been able to further increase our efficiency and reduce our operating expenses and still further improve the working conditions of our employees.

Many people are utterly astounded at the low prices for quality foods in A&P Supermarkets. They are getting so much more and better food for the same money that they wonder how we can do it. Frankly, it is simply because A&P Supermarkets represent a new, more efficient, more economical way of distributing food to the public.

We thank you for your cooperation in making possible this shorter work week for our employees. We in turn, will show our appreciation by making A&P a better and better place in which to shop.

THE CIO did not win its point in 1937, but it never let down on its efforts to secure for all the steel workers the same collective bargaining rights as it had won from U. S. Steel. Loyal unionists in the "Little Steel" plants stood by the SWOC through thick and thin in the years that followed. Many were fired or discriminated against for their union activity, but they did not lose faith in the CIO nor in the justice of their cause. The long hard job of organizing was continued, more and more workers joined the union ranks, and now at last all of this effort and sacrifice and loyalty has been crowned with success.

THE four companies—Republic, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, and Inland Steel—that refused to negotiate with the CIO in 1937, have one other the other now agreed to enter into signed contracts with SWOC, once it is certified as the workers' representative by a cross-check of union membership. Reinstatement of discharged unionists with back pay has been secured and other agreements reached on outstanding disputes. Completion of the organizing work in "Little Steel" companies, and the negotiation of the promised contracts, will soon make the whole steel industry nearly 100 per cent CIO. This is a tremendous triumph for the CIO and for industrial democracy.

THE letter "V" for the past lifetime has set of reminded us always of a five dollar bill. Now it stands for a lot more. It stands for "victory," of a kind that will continue democratically and eventually "train" Mr. Hitler.
