

RECENT DEATHS IN NORTH OF COUNTY

PETER F. FARABAUGH—Peter P. Farabaugh aged 85 years, a well-known farmer of Barr Township died at 8:15 o'clock on Saturday morning at his home after an extended illness. A native of East Carroll Township, he was born June 29th, 1856, a son of Matthias and Theresa (Hertzog) Farabaugh.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Magdalene (Sherry) Farabaugh, and these children: Mathias Farabaugh, Loretto; Mrs. Walter Schettig, Carrolltown; Mrs. Harry Anstead, Mrs. Leo Billig and Miss Jane Farabaugh, all of Ebensburg; Grace and Raymond Farabaugh, both at home. Also surviving are a sister, Sister M. Flavia, O. S. B., of St. Mary's Convent, Pittsburgh and fifteen grandchildren. The deceased was a member of St. Benedict's Catholic Church, Carrolltown, the Knights of St. George and the Rosary and Holy Name Societies.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday morning in St. Benedict's church, a requiem high mass being sung by the Rev. Father Thomas Wolf, O. S. B., the pastor. Interment was in the church cemetery.

JOSEPH TEMEYER—Aged 61 years, of Spangler collapsed in a Spangler restaurant on Saturday evening and died before medical assistance could be summoned. Coroner Patrick McDermott said Temeyer, in ill health for some time, has suffered a heart attack.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth (Kline) Temeyer, and five children, John, Joseph and Frank Temeyer and Mrs. Sarah Stratton, all of Spangler and Mrs. Elizabeth Lumadue, of Hastings.

Funeral services were conducted on Tuesday morning in Holy Cross Church at Spangler and interment was in the church cemetery.

MIKE HERHEL—Aged 58 years, of Ambsry, died on Saturday afternoon in the Mercy hospital in Altoona where he had been a medical patient for a week. He had been suffering from asthma for several years. A native of Austria, Mr. Herhel has lived in Ambsry for many years. Before his health failed he had been employed as a miner. His wife died ten years ago. Surviving are nine children, four of whom are members of the U. S. Army. Funeral services were held on Tuesday morning in St. Thomas' Catholic Church at Ashville and interment was in the church cemetery.

JOHN SOBLESKIE—Aged 43 years, of Revloc, died on Tuesday of last week in a Johnstown hospital as a result of injuries received the Friday previous when he was struck by an automobile. The deceased leaves his widow, Mrs. Helen Sobleskie and three children: Joseph, Francis, Helen, John J., Stanley, Sophie, Florence, Walter Jane and Agnes Sobleskie. Four children preceded him in death. Funeral services were held on Saturday morning in the Holy Redeemer, Catholic Church and interment was made in the Blaine City cemetery, near Coatsport.

HAYDEN MCGUIRE—Death claimed one of Cambria County's oldest residents, when Hayden McGuire, 94 years of age, died at the home of his son George McGuire in Sankertown last Thursday. Mr. McGuire had been in failing health due to his advanced age for a number of months.

OSCAR DENNY—Aged, 62 years, of Allegheny Township, died last Thursday morning in the Mercy hospital in Altoona where he had been a patient for a week. He was born March 23rd, 1879, and was unmarried. Surviving are these brothers: George Denny, of Wilkinsburg; Harry J. Denny of Cresson; and Victor Denny, of Allegheny township. Funeral services were held on Saturday morning in St. Michael's Catholic church at Loretto and interment was made in the church cemetery.

FARM CALENDAR

Timely Reminders from the Pennsylvania State College.

Conference Planned—Rural sociologists of the Pennsylvania State College announce that the sixth annual Pennsylvania Country Life Conference will be held at Indiana of August 4th to 6th. The central theme is "Changing Aspects of Rural Life." The conference will consider what these changes are and how they are affecting and are affected by the home, school, church and other rural institutions and agencies.

Need Cow Testers—There is a strong demand for testers to serve Pennsylvania dairy herd improvement associations. To train men for these positions a course will be given at the Pennsylvania State College from August 4th to 29th. Those who expect to attend are urged to see their county agricultural agents.

Exercise Caution—Sodium arsenate which is used as a weed poison is a rank poison and must be handled as such. Agronomists of the Pennsylvania State College say that the dust is irritating to the mucous membrane and to the skin. Workmen can protect the nose with a wet handkerchief and the skin with milk of magnesia smeared on and dried.

Give Pullet Nests—Troubles with profligate, picky, egg eating and broken eggs can be reduced by providing nests for the pullets in range shelters instead of letting them lay on the floor. Poultry specialists of the Pennsylvania State College.

Sow Cover Crop—Sudan grass and millet are good cover crops to sow in the raspberry patch, say fruit specialists of the Pennsylvania State College. Domestic ryegrass also is satisfactory.

Market Finished Lambs—Well finished lambs for the market pay good dividends to the sheep farmer, remind livestock specialists of the Pennsylvania State College.

College Plans Vegetable and Flower Field Days

Vegetable and flower variety and breeding field days are on the calendar of the Pennsylvania State College for August 14th and 15th, according to Dr. W. B. Mack, head of the department of horticulture.

Visitors will see on the first day of the tests those on varieties and strains of 40 samples of carrots, 179 of sweet corn, 4 of popcorn, 34 of beets, 65 of bush snap beans, and 94 of tomatoes, as well as field experiments on fertilizers, hormone sprays, irrigation and stating. Vegetable breeding experiments to be seen that day will include cabbage, tomatoes, rhubarb, sweet corn and peppers.

On the second day, the flower and ornamental plant experiments will be open for inspection. These include test plantings of a large number of ornamental shrub and evergreen tree species, 263 samples of marigolds and 338 samples of other annual flower species. Besides these, 47 samples of annuals which are to be judged for all America awards, 27 samples of herbaceous perennials, 113 samples of gladiolus, and 18 varieties of roses will be shown.

Collection of herbaceous perennials which have been grown for several years, and which will be available for examination, consist of hardy chrysanthemums, hardy asters, Oriental poppies, hardy phlox, and hemerocallis.

Safe Drinking Water Will Be Found in State Forest Area

Pure drinking water is assured for visitors at the Pennsylvania State Forest Recreation areas this summer. Dr. William H. Long, Sanitary Engineer of the Bureau of Parks, Department of Forests and Waters, states:

For the first time in the history of the Department, analyses of all existing supplies have been made which shows that 96 per cent are safe for drinking purposes. Supplies which are slightly contaminated will be corrected and improved as rapidly as possible, and in the meantime they will be adequately posted calling the attention of the visitors that the water is unsafe for drinking purposes. Where no signs appear the water has been tested and found to be pure. In 1935, only 48 per cent of the water supplies were free from contamination, in 1940, 84 per cent and in 1941, 96 per cent. This improvement is the result of an extensive survey which covers drainage, sewage, cesspools and other forms of sanitation as well as drinking water to safeguard the health of those visiting the state forests.

To provide more permanent sanitary conditions with respect to drinking water an extensive well-drilling program is now being conducted. A total of 35 wells have already been drilled with the purpose of augmenting present supplies to insure an adequate supply of safe drinking water to replace spring supplies which have been or may become contaminated.

BERRY AND MARJORIE MAIN ON GRAND SCREEN TO PROVE A EXOTIC, ROMANTIC PAIR

Romance and comedy tale a joy ride together in "Barnacle Bill", Wallace Berry's newest starring vehicle which will provide a veritable fun-fest at the Grand Theatre, Patton on Sunday and Monday next.

Berry forsakes Western adventure for the water front and a tuna fishing fleet, and is teamed with Marjorie Main, the "lady blacksmith of Wyoming," in a rollicking love affair that is augmented by fights, thrills and by other excitement.

Berry plays a waterfront leader who falls in love, is faced with care of a small daughter, played by Virginia Weidler, and goes to work. He champions the fishermen against a pre-tentious combine and emerges the hero of the fishing village.

The comical love-making reaches an absurd climax when he and Miss Main warble sentimental ditties to the accompaniment of a wheezy reed organ. He and Barton MacLane stage a vicious fist fight. There are thrills among the boats of the tuna fleet, and Miss Main adds to the general hilarity by getting jealous of Connie Gilchrist, playing a rival charmer, with a resulting hair pulling battle that quite sets the record for feminine frays.

Richard Thorpe, who directed "Wyoming," directed the new comedy with deft skill, and Leo Carrillo, Donald Meek, Sara Haden and others are among the principals. Effective photography by Clyde DeVinna and the musical score by Bronislau Kaper add interest to the comical water-front idyll.
