INSTRUCTOR'S FIRST AID COURSE GIVEN IN MARCH

Because of the great demand for Red Cross first aid training the present corps of Red Cross instructors numbering 113 in Cambria County are carrying as many as from three to six classes each week. Over 90 first aid classes are now in progress in the county, all with heavy registration.

There is an urgent need for at least 150 more instructors throughout the county. The qualifications for an instructor are the completion of standard and advanced Red Cross courses within the past three months.

For those people who will be unable to complete the required work before March 30, because of shortage of instructors, special arrangements may be made for them to complete their work after they have taken their instructor course. Requests for these arrangements should be submitted to the Red Cross National Headquarters for approval.

The instructors course will be given in Cambria County from March 30 to April 3. The location of Red Cross instructors course will be determined solely by the district having the heaviest registration. Registration may be made through the Red Cross first aid office beginning immediately.

LA GUARDIA AND C. I. O. URGING JOBLESS DOLE

Mayor Fiorello H. La Guardia of New York and spokesmen for the C. I. O. testified before the House Ways and Means Committee at Washington recently in an effort to win support for the Administration's bill to appropriate $300,000,000 for doles to war-displaced industrial workers.

Vigorous protests against the measure have been registered by governors of 10 states, who described the bill as an entering wedge for "federalization" of all state unemployment insurance systems.

"This is no time for pride," La Guardia said. "It is not a question of state's rights but one of national security. I say that the same states who proclaim they do not need help will come back asking for it."

"This is the most tragic period in our entire history, with dark periods immediately ahead. Entire industries must necessarily be transferred to war production."

Mr. Henderson has explained the order, effective at the end of the month: "We're giving up things like dog food, beer and caviar so we can whip Hitler and Hirohito and provide our families with the canned food they really need." He pointed out that there will be no restrictions on handling for total production of peas, tomatoes, beans, corn, asparagus, tomato juice, salmon, tuna fish, evaporated milk, baby foods and others. Tobacco cans are restricted. Pork and ovens are not going to be canned, which means that many of us may return to another's good old-fashioned recipe for baking them at home.
