

PRICE CONTROLS ON MANY ITEMS PLACED DURING PAST YEAR

List Disclosed As Series of Orders Gets Legal Status from Office of Price Administration.

Washington.—More than one hundred items, ranging from steel and machine tools to the hair of cows' tails, have fallen under federal price controls in the year that the government has been seeking to combat inflation.

This was disclosed the other day when Leon Henderson's Office of Price Administration gave legal status under the new price control act to the series of orders it had issued while operating under Presidential decree.

OPA now has made all of its previous orders, with some modifications subject to the civil and criminal penalties of the Price Control Act.

The orders embracing 105 schedules contain individual price listings running into the thousands.

The schedules for the retail sale of tires—which most consumers can't buy anyway—occupy five pages and cover every size and type of casing and tube produced. Zinc and scrap iron schedules are even more voluminous.

The orders cover materials and finished products of direct necessity to the war effort, others of a secondary nature in which scarcities have developed as a result of abnormal demands of the war program, and still others in the import class whose supplies have been curtailed by war conditions and shipping shortages.

In the food line OPA has imposed price restrictions on coffee, tea, sugar, pepper, cocoa beans and butter, soy bean and peanut oils and various other fats and oils. Also covered by an order is Vitamin C, vital to proper development of bone structures.

Ceilings on tires, recapping and re-treading, and scrap and reclaimed rubber, have been supplemented by schedules on autos.

Among household items covered by price control are washing machines, refrigerators, cook stoves, furniture, fabrics, bed linen, radio parts.

In the metal field are most vital raw materials, new and second hand machine tools, scrap and numerous finished products. Among chemicals are formaldehyde, alcohol, glycerine, acetone, Oxalic acid, lithopone, carbon tetrachloride, and citric and acetyl salicylic acids.

Kapok, a product of the Netherland East Indies, widely used in life saving devices and insulation is another item over which controls now operate. Nylon stockings, lumber, cotton, and wool products, glue, cigars, waste paper and rags are others.

The ceilings on cattle tail and winter hog hair were imposed because of heavy demands on these materials for mattresses for fighting men. The Navy is now buying about two-thirds of the annual supply.

'WORK OR FIGHT' LEGISLATION MAY SOON BE ON CONGRESS' CALENDAR

Washington.—Drastic "work-or-fight" legislation may soon be sought by the administration to give the War Labor Board a strong hand in its task of eliminating all stoppages in arms production.

An informed source predicted today that this request to congress was likely, and indications were that it would command strong support, especially since President Roosevelt called on Americans in his Monday night radio address not to stop work a single day.

Proposals for such legislation were said to have originated with officials charged with responsibility for all-out war production. President Roosevelt has repeatedly stressed the need for uninterrupted production in numerous speeches during the past year, but the arms program nevertheless has lost hundreds of thousands of man-hours because of labor-management, jurisdictional and other controversies.

As outlined by one influential Democratic senator the legislation probably would include provisions for the immediate drafting into the armed forces of any striking worker who was subject to military service but who had received deferment because of employment in an essential war job.
