

RECENT DEATHS IN NORTHERN CAMBRIA

MRS. ROSE FORNWALT, 72, native of Cambria County and widow of Charles Fornwalt, died Wednesday at her home in Altoona. She was born in St. Augustine, a daughter of Thomas J. and Matilda Kriese. Surviving are two sons and three daughters. Funeral services were conducted Saturday in Altoona.

WILLIAM LANE—Walking less than 50 feet from the entrance to the Barnes No. 9 mine at Barnesboro where he had worked all day, William Lane, 61-year-old North Barnesboro miner, collapsed and died on Monday afternoon. The man had spent the entire day in the mines loading coal and had walked about 2,000 feet from the interior of the workings to the entrance on his way home when he fell dead. Coroner Patrick McDermott conducted a preliminary investigation and death was disclosed as being the result of a heart attack.

PETER BARVINCHAK—Aged fifty years, succumbed at his home in Susquehanna township on Sunday evening. He was born in Europe, a son of Michael and Anna (Sekel) Barvinchak. His wife, Mrs. Mary (Gaydos) Barvinchak, and these children survive: Anna, wife of William Gusko, Barnesboro; and Mary, Verna, Michael, Peter, Jr., Margaret, Helen and George, all at home. Two brothers, Michael, of Braddock, and Joseph of Cleveland, also survive, with one sister, Mrs. Anna Swick, Clymer. Funeral rites were conducted on Wednesday morning in St. John's Greek Catholic Church, Barnesboro, and interment was in the church cemetery.

ANTHONY ENTLER—Aged sixty-nine years, for the last 31 years superintendent of the Northern Cambria Water Company at Spangler, expired on Sunday afternoon at the Mizers Hospital. He was taken ill on Wednesday of last week. Mr. Entler was a son of John and Mary (Glasser) Entler and was born in St. Boniface on November 16, 1872. Besides his wife, the former Sarah Girard, he is survived by nine children. They are Mrs. Clair Gerstley, Craydon, Pa.; Mrs. Bertha O'Rourke, Johnstown; Mrs. Viola Foxall, Barnesboro; Mrs. Eleanor Lutsch, Easton; Mrs. Frances Patsch, Philadelphia; Leonard, of Spangler; Mrs. Marcella Leone, of Spangler; Norman, Detroit, and Delrose at home. There are 22 grandchildren and the following brothers and sisters: John Entler, Barnesboro; Charles Entler, Detroit; Mrs. Katherine Valery, Detroit; Mrs. Frank Slater, Eldred, Pa.; Mrs. Rose Semelberger, St. Boniface, and Mrs. Theresa Cassidy, Johnstown. The funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning in St. Patrick's church, in Spangler, and interment will be made in the St. Boniface cemetery.

WEDDING BELLS

FEAGIN-NESBIT
Miss Betty Jane Nesbit, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Nesbit of Emeigh, and Lieut. John E. Feagin of Macon, Ga., were married May 29 in Virginia. Lieut. Feagin is a son of Judge and Mrs. Robert D. Feagin of Macon and is now stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.

PRICE-BENDER
Miss Mary Bender, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Modestus Bender of Patton R. D. and Pvt. George Price, son of Mrs. Matilda Price, South Lakemont, Blair County, were married on Memorial Day in the rectory of St. Theresa's Catholic Church, Altoona. Attendants were Miss Katherine Conrad and Willard Bender.

Pvt. Price has returned to Fort Knox, Ky., where he is stationed. His wife will reside in Patton R. D.

PARRISH-DUMAN
St. Nicholas' Catholic Church at Nicktown was the scene of a double wedding ceremony May 28 when Miss Edith Duman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Duman of Ebensburg, became the bride of Merle Parrish son of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Parrish of Nicktown, and her sister, Miss Louise Duman, and Robert Kline, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Kline of Nicktown, were united in marriage.

The double ceremony was performed by Rev. Marinus Ferg, O. S. B., pastor. The couples served as the attendants of each other.

The brides wore identical gowns of white chiffon trimmed with lace and finger-tip veils. They carried bouquets of white carnations and lillies.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU THINK THAT YOU'RE OVERCHARGED

What should the housewife do if she believes that the storekeeper is charging more than his legal maximum? The Office of Price Administration has requested that she do two things: first, ask the storekeeper to explain the price to her; and then if she still believes he is violating the price order, report the facts to the nearest war price and rationing board or the nearest local office of the OPA.

'HIDDEN HUNGER' IS FIRST OFFICIAL FILM NATIONAL NUTRITION

Eat right for national might is the theme of the much heralded motion picture, "Hidden Hunger", to be presented by the Federal Security Agency at the Grand Theatre, Patton on the evening of June 16th. This is the first official film of the National Nutrition Program, and it tells Mr. and Mrs. America in lively and entertaining fashion how to win the war on the food front by seeking out and eradicating the fifth columnist "hidden hunger."

"Hidden Hunger," the film points out dramatically, is not the hunger that comes from an empty stomach, but the hunger that grows in a body fed the wrong kind of food. This form of hunger is an invisible resident of many homes in the United States. Recent surveys show that two out of every five persons in the United States suffer from it. It undermines our health, strength, determination and morale.

To teach us its causes, effects, and—most important—its cure and prevention, the movie, "Hidden Hunger" was made. With Walter Brennan and Lloyd Corrigan, well known Hollywood actors, giving sincere and entertaining performances, and with a fanciful and laugh-provoking plot, "Hidden Hunger," (a Hollywood production) mixes fun and fantasy with its serious message.

The plot concerns Farmer Link Squires' (Walter Brennan's) exciting adventures during his one-month campaign to change the eating habits of the nation, and to stop extravagant waste of our plentiful supply of foodstuffs in this land where "we grow the greatest harvest in the world."

To support his plea for better eating with specific information, Link lists minimum essential foods a man should eat every day for good health; one egg, one pint of milk (three-fourths to one quart for growing children); two vegetables (green, leafy or yellow) and a potato; an orange or tomato juice and another fruit; three or more slices of the right kind of bread (whole wheat or enriched white); two tablespoons of butter or margarine, and meat.

"Hidden Hunger" is one of the results of the National Nutrition Conference called by President Roosevelt in May, 1941. Funds for the film were provided by private industry. It was written and directed by Joseph Krungold and Henwar Rodakiewicz, of Film Associates, Inc., and produced by the American Film Center at the Fine Arts Studio in Hollywood.

First previewed in the National capital before several hundred government officials, the film was launched by Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt with these words: "This project looks toward a stronger and healthier, and therefore a better America in meeting the problems which confront us in this emergency."

Movie critics have praised the film which simplifies the subject of nutrition and translates it into terms of everyday living. Women's groups, civic bodies, health and nutrition leaders, and many important publications have endorsed it. Time Magazine called it "a slick 21 minute propaganda short."

"Hidden Hunger" has successfully performed the difficult feat of making a technical subject into good entertainment.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Time observes that experts are convinced that "China has been a great military opportunity which the U. S. has neglected—an opportunity which if not grasped may not exist much longer."

China's greatest need now is planes pilots, mechanics and gasoline. And Chinese airfields provide the perfect take-off points for raids on Japan proper. The great industrial center of Nagasaki, for instance, is only 3 hours by air from Chekiang, Formosa is closer still. All important military objectives in Japan can be reached with relative ease.

The raid on Japan made by Brigadier General Doolittle's squadrons demonstrated that Japan is really vulnerable to air attacks. He and his fliers reported that every target was hit according to plan, and that Japanese defenses didn't amount to much—the fact that every American plane reached a friendly base is proof of that.

Japanese radio broadcasts following the raid were obviously designed to buck up civilian morale—which certainly indicates that the Japanese people didn't enjoy the American air visit at all.

Many an American bomber, with crews and spare parts, is likely to go to China in the near future. Toyko hasn't seen the last of United Nations growing air power.

Hitler went into the Ukraine as a German and may come out a Russian, without even a pole for support.
