WE MUST MAKE THE MOST OF WHAT WE HAVE

War has jammed telephone lines with the greatest flood of calls in history. We cannot add to our facilities, for the materials needed to do so are going into planes, tanks, ships and shells. We must make the most of what we have.

- So, don't make unnecessary calls.
- Don't call "Information" for numbers that are listed in the directory.
- Before you call, think what you're going to say so that calling back will be unnecessary.
- Keep your conversations as short as possible—especially on party lines.
- If your call can wait, make it in the "off-peak" periods—between noon and 2 P. M.; between 5 and 7 P. M.; between 9 P. M. and 9 A. M.
- Your cooperation will help to keep the lines clear for important war calls.

Commandos Home From 'Greatest Raid'

This soundphoto shows a group of British Commando forces at their home port to which they returned with prisoners and souvenirs after the biggest Commando raid of the war on the French invasion port of Dieppe. Volunteers from an American "Ranger Battalion" participated in the action, the first time since the last war that U. S. soldiers went into action on French soil. The raid, which was regarded by many as the testing of an offensive on a larger scale, was something which Hitler never dared to try. The great raid was backed up by swarms of planes and numerous naval vessels. Raiders even landed tanks for the battle. About 275 German planes probably were destroyed or damaged in the raid, which was described as a "successful demonstration of co-ordination of all three services"—army, navy and air. Two Nazi shore batteries and a radio location station were destroyed, and heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy.
