What Mermaids Will Wear Next Summer

Just to remind you that somewhere in the world the sun is shining, and that it'll be shining on you, too, some day, presented here is a preview of what the well undressed mermaids will be wearing on the beaches next summer. This preview took place at Los Angeles, where it is summer most of the time.

Headache is one of the chronic ailn causes of recurrent attacks.

Intaddition to headaches, migrain causes disturbances affecting the eyes and the gastronintestinal system, and sometimes symptoms in other parts of the body.

The word migraine is derived from "hemicrania" which means a pain or aching in one side of the head.

A typical case is that of Miss W.

She is a twenty-three year old sten-

She has become unable to work due to blind spells.

Miss W would feel perfectly well, then suddenly, quick as a flash, her vision would become blurred.

She described it as though a film or zigzag blurring passed over her ****

Visual disturbance was always followed by headache and often accompanied by nausea.

When Miss W's condition was studied fully it became clear that her trouble was migraine. There are several characteristics which distinguish migraine.

Attacks of limited duration are followed by intervals quite free from suffering.

It appears chiefly over one side of the head or over one eye.

It is preceded by a premonition of impending trouble, a lethargy, change in appetite and a sense of tension.

The headache is associated with disturbances of vision, temporary blindness and visual hallucination.

It is accompanied by a stomack upset by nausea. * There is a strong hereditary tendency in migraine.

These features are not all seen in every case, but are characteristic of the migraine condition.

Proper treatment of migraine usually shows gratifying relief.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Spirit of 1943!

Modern methods, modern efficiency-but the same old flaming spirit of 1776.

What else could give men the vitality to produce tanks, guns, planes, armaments in such enormous quantities? What else could enable the railroads of America to handle millions of troops with such precision and smoothness... to haul twice the tonnage of war materials pre-war experts estimated them capable of ... to take over the great oil and miscellaneous cargoes of coastwise shipping, and yet keep war transportation rolling? That spirit, as much as mechanical excellence and natural resources, is America's strength. Its "secret weapon". Pennsylvania Railroad is proud to pay tribute to it, and to be a part of it.

One of America's Railroads ... ALL Mobilized for War!
