A solemn high mass of requiem will be celebrated at nine o'clock on Friday morning in St. Benedict's Church and interment will be made in the church cemetery.

GABLE'S CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY SALE

The William F. Gable Company, the largest department store in Pennsylvania, excepting Philadelphia and Pittsburgh, is the most widely publicized department store in the United States and is celebrating its 50th anniversary beginning March 2 and running through March 13th. It is well known by their customers in central Pennsylvania and other retail trade throughout the United States, that the idea of an "anniversary" originated with William F. Gable, founder of the William F. Gable Company Department Store was copied first by the John Wanamaker store in Philadelphia and is now a regular feature in practically all department stores throughout the country.

In none of them, however, is the same amount of time and effort invested in assuring that the anniversary will be a great event of the merchandising year. On this day the merchandise offered for sale is priced at the lowest possible margin above cost and is the one day of the year on which their customers can get bargains at prices unobtainable at any other time. This was the policy of the Founder and has continued to the present time by his successor, George P. Gable. They have been fortunate in that their resources become just as enthusiastic about their anniversary as the store itself, and enable them to secure the highest type of merchandise at the lowest possible prices. A large number of these resources from whom Gable's receive their supplies of merchandise have been sponsoring this sale for many years. To them it is an event, especially to those manufacturing well known nationally advertised merchandise.

The 50th anniversary to be celebrated this year will be no exception and resources have responded enormously and Gable's customers will reap the reward.

Bender of Johnstown, also an investigator and inheritance tax appraiser, from $1,800 to $2,100; and Sylvester J. Driscoll of Johnstown, investigator, from $1,980 to $2,280.

SAFETY AWARDS ARE GIVEN TO MINES AT CRESSON AND REVLOC

Monroe Coal Mining Co., at Revloc and Pennsylvania Coal and Coke Corp. No. 9 mine at Cresson received safety banners for commendable records achieved during the last month at the regular meeting of the Ebsensburg Council of the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association last Friday night in the Ebsensburg courthouse.

Revloc received the Class A banner with a record of 155,336 man-hours during which only six lost time accidents were recorded. The Cresson operation completed 31,843 man-hours without a lost time accident during the past month.

BEAUTY OF TREES IS ONE WINTER LURE FOR THE TRUE NATURE LOVER

It is a mistaken idea that winter is the season of the year when the beauties of nature may not be enjoyed, says Milford Bratton, Director of the Bureau of Parks, Department of Forests and Waters.

The winter attraction of trees are among the most enjoyable features of the landscape as it is at this time of the year that evergreens, especially hemlock, the State Tree, are most conspicuous against the drabness of the countryside. Bratton pointed out that the 1,654,000 acres of State forests and recreational areas offer ideal places for spending furloughs or vacations for service men and war workers. Wholesome outdoor recreation is recognized as an important factor in the war effort. Rest, relaxation and change of scenery are desirable. Excellent opportunities for nature photography, identification of dormant tree buds, the observation and study of animal tracks in the snow, and the habits of winter birds are but a few of the interesting features that may be observed by spending a vacation in the forests in winter. Wild animal tracks are readily recognized not only from the imprint of the foot but by the size and character of the track as a whole. It is a thrilling experience to follow an animal track over the snow and reconstruct just what it was doing at various points, what happened along the way, and sometimes suddenly surprise the animal that made the same tracks.

WE BELIEVE in America!

- We believe in the freedom America guarantees each individual to choose his own work, his own home, his own religion, his own way of life.
We believe in the opportunity America offers every person to gain wealth and happiness in his own way, limited only by just laws to maintain good sportsmanship in competition.
We believe in the importance and high standards of American homes, and that in your home, and the fifty million others, is nourished the strength of our country.
We believe that these things are worth fighting for, sacrificing for, even dying for.
AND... we believe that the combined efforts of all of us, flying planes, building ships, buying war bonds, collecting scrap, doing without butter, manning guns... and doing our part with everything we have... will bring victory and a better world.
