SEEDING OF YOUR VICTORY GARDEN REQUIRES CARE, SKILL AND ALSO ADVICE

Most Victory garden seeds must be grown by hand. Unless a row is more than 50 feet long it does not pay to use a mechanical seeder.

Sowing small seeds by hands is simple—just tear a corner off the packet and hold it so one finger can tap, tap, tap and shake the seeds out to fall in the drill.

But unless this simple feat is performed with skill and care, half of your seed may be wasted by sowing too thickly. Seed is not too plentiful in these war times, and it will pay you well to take great care to avoid wasting it.

This is a job you can afford to bend down to. A crouch which brings your hand close to the open drill is the best position. Let the line which was used to mark the row stay stretched until the seeds are sown, and hold the pocket close to the line, so the seeds will fall in the right place.

Then, even if the job gets a bit tedious, space the seeds evenly and thinly. Small seeds should not be thicker than 15 to an inch. It helps a little with the very small ones, to mix the seeds with dry sand before you begin to sow, using two or three times as much sand as seed. This spreads the seeds out better.

Large seeds, big enough to grasp between your fingers, should be placed individually, spaced so that each plant can develop without crowding.

You always sow more seeds than you expect to grow even though the germination is 100 per cent. There are many hazards which may cause a plant to die in infancy, such as frost, drought, disease or flooding. But too many gardeners sow seeds so thickly that only a small fraction of the plants can mature, and they often crowd so thickly as to intertwine and make thinning difficult.

After the seeds have been sown, the next operation is extremely important: that is covering the seeds and firming the soil above them. Cover the small seeds lightly, by raking soil over them. Larger seeds are covered more deeply, and in both cases the soil should be firmed to bring the seeds in contact with the soil, and exclude air pockets, so that the seeds may absorb moisture and the first rootlets take up food.

But remember firming does not mean pounding; and do not firm the moist soil too compactly. Just enough pressure to force out air and fill out the hollows is needed.

WAR IS EXPENSIVE.

By February, America's average daily expenditures for war hit a new high of $253,400,000, up from the previous high in November by 3.6 per cent, or $8,900,000, says WPE. From July, 1940, through February of this year, the government spent 80,500,000,000 for war activities.

Nearly eight million pounds of wool are used annually by factories for the manufacture of hats in the United States.

DEATH MARKS NO TIME FOR A NAZI MARK III

SPRAWLED BESIDE THE GUN TURRET of his Mark III tank, a German tank crew member will no longer fight for Marshal Erwin Rommel's armored columns. The tank was put out of action in the fighting in which the Axis panzers were thrown back on the road between Kasserine Pass and Thala, Tunisia.
