base your decisions upon all available information in each specific case," he advised.
"In many cases," he admitted, "it is difficult to make such a decision. Nevertheless, it must be made by the local board members who live in the community."

Draft board members throughout Pennsylvania hold a warning from Col. Richard K. Mellon, state selective service director, not to postpone the induction of all registrants over 26 years of age.

"No order has been issued by national headquarters automatically postponing the induction of all registrants over 26 years of age," in a find the worde draft board members.

"It is quite clear that local boards must not automatically postpone in induction of all men over 26, irrespective of what they are doing," Mellon wrote in a personal letter which was more in the nature of a suggestion than an official directive. "Rather," he continued, "before postponing the induction of all men over 26, the local board members must consider his case and definitely determine that he is, in fact, making a contribution to the war effort."

covers this year, Mr. Fohl said, and contain 64 pages, an increase of 4. It is expected all local subscribers will have received their copies by Friday.

"The directories list many new and changed numbers," Mr. Fohl said.
"Telephone users can help maintain the efficiency of war time telephone service by checking numbers in the new books before making calls.

"Wrong number calls, and unnecessary calls to "information" for numbers already listed in the directories, use valuable telephone facilities and take the time of skilled operators needed now to handle the large volumes of war calls."

The directories list approximately 4300 subscribers in the following exchanges: Barnesboro, Carrolltown, Colver, Cresson, Ebensburg, Gallitzin, Glen Campbell, Hastings Mahaffey, Nanty-Glo, Nicktown, Patton and Portage.

Shoratage of gasoline, says the Department of Commerce, has led motorists to use fuel "dopes" reputed to increase mileage and otherwise improve the automobile operation. The Bureau of Standards has tested hundreds of them without finding beneficial results in any case.

Woman Takes Jobs With Eve to Loot

Habitual Thief With Record Given Another Term.

Given Another Term.

LONDON.—"In telling you how long you are to go away again, it is only like telling you to go home, because prison must indeed be home to you, and no amount of punishment seems to have the slightest effect."

With these words Justice Cassels, at Lewes, England, sent Maude Harrison, alias Kathleen Abbott, 50 years old, to penal servitude for three years, to be followed by five years' probation.

Miss Harrison, a tall, bespectacled woman, had pleaded guilty to stealing property belonging to women with whom she had stayed at Bexhill and Sidley, and also to being an habitual criminal. She asked for 45 outstanding offenses to be taken into consideration.

In the calendar she was described as a cook, and Superintendent Simmons said that during the last 28½ years she had spent 25 years in custody, and twice previously she had been convicted of being an habitual criminal.

In all parts of the country, Miss Harrison had obtained situations as a domestic helper, and she had been employed at many well-known restaurants in London.

The superintendent added that she had confessed that she obtained those positions only for the purpose of robbing her employers.

When apprehended by the police at Bexhill, the woman was alleged to have said: "I have given you a good run for the last 14 months."

During that period she had not done a stroke of work.

Mr. Harold Brown, defending, said his client had told him that he could on a milk diet.

Joseph Shuman, 42, a printer, had a job that pays him only $78 a month, so Judge Dunne told him to get a better one. His wife, Jean, 36, a secretary, is suing for divorce and asking temporary support for herself and their son, Morton, nine. He was forbidden to visit handbooks and ordered to pay $7 a week.

Mother Finds Son in Army; Lost 18 Years

Army; Lost 18 Years
OCEANSIDE, CALIF.—A mother's hope and faith, surviving 18 years of fear and disappointment, at last has brought back her son.

The mother, Mrs. Jewel Peters of Tulsa, Okla., and her son, Private Harry Hensley Jr., 20, of the marine corps, met for the first time since he was 26 months old.

Mrs. Peters' search started 18 years ago following the disappearance of the father and two-year-old boy after a Tulsa court had granted a divorce decree.

She wrote Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1938 seeking aid in locating her former husband, who was an army cook in the First World war. Mrs. Roosevelt turned the letter over to the adjutant general, and Hensley was traced through the veterans department to Blythe, Calif. A missing persons bureau in Oklahoma City finally located her son.

a court-ordered shampoo proved he was not a murderer.

The brown-haired soldier from Forge Ridge, Tenn., won a directed verdict of acquittal in the shooting of Jack Campbell in a Middlesboro, Ky., bar last December 18, after Judge J. S. Forester ordered him shampooed to determine if his hair had been dyed.

A vigorous scrubbing left his hair still brown—not blond or sandy-naired as witnesses had described Campbell's slayer.

He will return to his post at Fort Eustis, Va.

Food Board Reports.

Thanks to the food supplies the United Kingdom has received from the United States and Canada, the diet available to her people is now barely adequate, although Americans and Canadians fare somewhat better according to the recent report of the Combined Food Board of these three countries. While the pre-war diets of the three countries were similar, the United Kingdom has been compelled during war time to turn more to vegetables and grains for her protein and fats, while the United States and Canada have fared better than the United Kingdom in animal fats and fruits. The Combined Food Board, set up in 1942 to achieve maximum utilization of the food resources of the United Kingdom, includes a member from each of these three countries. The report just issued is the most complete comparison yet made of civilian food supplies in these countries.

Sympath Racket Falls
CulCAGO.—The day when a husband could come into court and get a sympatrate hearing on his plea that he couldn't find enough work to keep up his alimony payments has passed, Judge Robert J. Dunne said in Circuit court in Chicago when in two cases he ordered men to get to work immediately.

Joseph Patrovsky, 41 years old, a butcher, haled into court by his former wife, Anna, 23, for being $290 in arrears for support of his wife and daughter, Geraldine, seven, was ordered to find a job in 24 hours and pay $200 within two weeks. He also was told to quit drinking and go on a milk diet.

Joseph Shumman, 42, a printer, had a job that pays him only $78 a month, so Judge Dunne told him to month, so Judge Dunne told him to PAUL G. YENCHO, Administrator.
