RHEUMATIC FEVER CONTROL DISCUSSED

Harrisburg.—Conferences with prominent heart specialists to discuss rheumatic fever control in Pennsylvania, are being held here this week, according to the State Department of Health.

Disclosing that the department has been gathering data on the ailment for more than a year, Dr. A. H. Steward, health secretary, said he "will urge the immediate adoption" of a control program when he is convinced that "we have a practical plan."

The secretary said he recommended construction of a pavilion for rheumatic fever patients at the State's Crippled Children's Hospital, Elizabethtown, in a report to Governor Edward Martin and the Post-War Planning Commission.

Because of the shortage of Doctors and Nurses, Dr. Steward said, it would be "impossible" to develop a state-wide program until the war is over.

"The best method of approach temporarily would be the continuance of such organizations as the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh heart associations and to assist them in every way possible in expanding their program," the secretary said.

HIGHWAYS DEPARTMENT BANS OVERWEIGHT LOADS

The Pennsylvania State Highway Department last Friday banned issuance of overweight permits involving hauls exceeding 40 tons over flexible type pavements from March 15th to May 1st.

"It is this time of year," explained Secretary John U. Shroyer, "that frost action weakens the flexible type roads and the subgrades have been rendered unstable and must be protected by imposing weight restrictions."

He said district engineers have been instructed not to permit any load in excess of the legal road limit to move over highways where subgrade conditions are particularly unfavorable. Legal limits vary according to the type of truck construction.

Exceptions to these restrictions, he added, will be made only in those cases where refusal of the permit would impede the war effort.

OPA AGAIN ISSUES GASOLINE RATIIONS FOR GARDEN WORK

Gasoline rations again will be available to victory gardeners this year, according to an announcement of the Altoona District Office of Price Administration. Travel necessary in the cultivation of gardens will be allowed and applications will be accepted by local War Price and Rationing Boards beginning next Monday.

While conditions of qualification this year are practically the same as last year an additional limitation has been added in that a garden must not be located more than 15 miles from the owner's home or place of work, since past experience has shown that a garden located in excess of this mileage cannot normally be attended twice a week as suggested by the Dept. of Agriculture.

During the past two years victory gardens have produced an estimated 8,000,000 tons of food and consequently operation is deemed important by OPA.

Victory garden gasoline ration regulations for 1945, as amended, set forth the following provisions:

Applicant must have an area of at least 1,500 square feet devoted to the production of vegetables and the mileage must be needed to provide necessary labor for cultivation.

The ration issued may not provide mileage in excess of 300 miles during the six month period immediately following the date of application.

The applicant must show that no alternative means of transportation are available.

The applicant must show that a ride-sharing arrangement has been made or that such an arrangement is not possible. When more than one car will be used in the ride-sharing arrangement all applications for the special gasoline ration must be presented to the same ration board at the same time and the total ration for all vehicles in the group may not exceed 300 miles. The signatures and addresses of the ride-sharers must appear on the reverse side of the application, form OPA R-522.
