Schwab Chooses Keenan, Binder to Aid Fund Drive

Patton Man Announces Appointments Today

Appointment of Dennis Keenan and Edwin Binder, both of Barnesboro, to key posts in the County Communities Section of the Cambria County War Memorial Campaign organization was announced this week by Frank J. Schwab, of Patton, county chairman.

Mr. Keenan, state mine inspector for the 15th Bituminous District will serve as chairman of the coal division for the entire county. Mr. Binder, a partner in Binder Bros. Hardware Co., has accepted chairmanship of the Northern area.

"It is gratifying to have men of this caliber assuming positions of leadership in the effort to honor our service men and women with a living memorial," Mr. Schwab commented. "Since the name of all Cambria Countians in uniform will be enshrined in the Memorial Arena, it is only proper that everyone should have an opportunity to contribute to its building."

Now serving his tenth term as president of the District Coal Mining Institute, Mr. Keenan also is one of six managing directors of the Coal Mining Institute of America. In December he received a further honor, being named president of the Pennsylvania Inspectioners Advisory Association. He is an outstanding authority on mine safety practices.

Mr. Binder is past president of the Barnesboro Business Men's Association and is a past commander of Vozdak Post, No. 508, American Legion. His varied civic activities include the Barnesboro Lions Club, Barnesboro Fire Co., Patton Lodge of Eagles, Italo-American Club, Slavish Citizens Club, Polish-American Legion and Holy Name Society.
