Gallitzin Will Use Altoona Players

Last year a number of Altoona baseball players performed for the Gallitzin team, and this year 11 men from Altoona are listed on the Gallitzin roster.

Gallitzin, enrolled in the Cambria Co. Industrial League, will have the following Altoona players for their league games:

Bill Boling, former Altoona 1st sacker, manager; Tommy Irwin, Andy Marock, Al Lauber, Gene Krutz, Mike Nardell, Ken Karl, Charlie Stahl, Mild Newman and John Steinbuegl.

Gov. of Indiana To Serve at Classic

Gov. Ralph Gates, chief executive of the State of Indiana, will be host to the huge international crowd at Indianapolis on May 30, serving as honorary referee for the 31st Annual 500-Mile Indianapolis Race, as announced by Wilbur Shaw, speedy president.

Tommy Milton of Detroit, king of automobile racing in the 1920's, has been named the honorary starter.

Allentown School Gets Suspension From Dist. PIAA

The PIAA, District 11 Committee at a meeting held in Tamaqua, Pa., suspended Allentown High School from all competition with PIAA memberschools for two years.

The committee voted that Allentown High had violated the eligibility rule which states that no pupil shall represent his school in athletics if he has been in attendance more than 8 semesters beyond the eighth grade.

R. B. Stapleton, district chairman, said the Allentown High School had the right to appeal the verdict of the district committee to the State Board of Control.

Robert Haas, president of the Allentown School Board, denounced the action of the committee and charged that the case had been "prejudiced before the meeting."

Allentown won this year's state championship by defeating Duquesne in cage tournaments.

An investigation also has been started regarding the eligibility of athletes at Bethlehem and Hazleton High Schools.

Midget Auto Races Planned for June

The first auto race at the Ebensburg Fair Grounds since 1935 is scheduled to be held June 2 or 3. The Cambria Co. American Legion Recreation Association plans to sponsor a series of midget auto races during the summer.

Don Zeiter Speedways, operators of racers on tracks in Western Pennsylvania, Ohio and Michigan, hold a contract with the Legion group and report that the nation's leading midget auto racers will always give the players the time of day by saying, "How are you boys" and keep on going.

"Remember you are umpiring for the baseball only and it must be done in a businesslike manner in order to establish yourself.

"Be in stride on every pitch. This enables you to have confidence and get set to time and to judge a play as well as to be ahead of anything that may happen."

"When umpiring back of the plate, after the third out, turn quickly to the club taking field and shout 'All right, let's go,' and just as quickly take your position, which is from 25 feet to 35 feet back of the plate.

"Stay away from the huddle when the manager is changing players. When you think they've had ample time to solve their problem, command from your position, 'All right, let's go!' By getting even close to the huddle an umpire lays himself open to sarcasm.

"Never talk fight or use bad language. No fighting umpire ever established himself.

"Be in stride on every pitch. This enables you to have confidence and get set to time and to judge a play as well as to be ahead of anything that may happen."

Monborne Wins Combine Race

A homing pigeon owned by Monborne won the recent Central Pennsylvania Combine race from Coshocton, O., to this section.

The winner's average speed was 1,192.30 yards per minute.

Other leaders in the Combine race were timed as follows:

Hill, 1,184.10; Hill, 1,182.85; Rice, 1,157.93; Bearer, 1,154.18; Albright, 1,153.68; Nile, 1,143.15; Summire, 1,132.28; Shannon, 1,129.23; Rolla, 1,125.05; Mileski, 1,109.00; Breto, 1,095.38, and Lejuene, 1,063.73.

Ostermuller Main Prop of Pirates

Fred R. Ostermuller, pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who both huris and hits left-handed, has been a main prop of the Pirates' hurling hill as the result of an amazing comeback after being sentenced to the minors 3 years ago.

Now nearly 40 years of age, he stands 5 feet, 11 inches, and hits the scales at 175 pounds. He was adjudged "washed up" when the Dodgers gave him a ticket to Syracuse on May 31, 1944, but the Pirates got busy and bought him one day later. During the remainder of that season "Osty" won 11 games and lost 7 for Pittsburgh, and several of his defeats were heartbreakers. He was inducted in the Army in May of '45 and discharged in August of the same year, and his record for the season was 5 victories as against 4 defeats.

In 1946 he won 13 games while losing 10, and pitched 16 complete games out of 25 starts, including 2 shutouts.

Ostermuller has been pitching professionally since starting with Quincy in 1926.

Note, Would-Be Umpires! Bill Klem Is Giving Advice

Gives Answer for Player Who Talks of Fighting

Out of his years of experience, chief of staff of National League umpires, Bill Klem, has drawn up a set of tips on good umpiring. His suggestions follow:

"Regardless of what happened yesterday, when going on the field through or close to the bench, always give the players the time of day by saying, 'How are you boys' and keep on going.

"Remember you are umpiring for the baseball only and it must be done in a businesslike manner in order to establish yourself.

"Be in stride on every pitch. This enables you to have confidence and get set to time and to judge a play as well as to be ahead of anything that may happen."

"When umpiring back of the plate, after the third out, turn quickly to the club taking field and shout 'All right, let's go,' and just as quickly take your position, which is from 25 feet to 35 feet back of the plate.

"Stay away from the huddle when the manager is changing players. When you think they've had ample time to solve their problem, command from your position, 'All right, let's go!' By getting even close to the huddle an umpire lays himself open to sarcasm.

"Never talk fight or use bad language. No fighting umpire ever established himself.

Your Health . . .

From the Medical Society of Pennsylvania and the Cambria Co. Medical Society

Some call it dermatophytosis, but most persons call it athlete's foot.

Such a form of ringworm affects from 50 to 90 percent of the population at some time during their lives.

Frequently its presence is trivial, and the patient is unaware of the infection.

In other cases it assumes severe and disabling proportions.

In order to prevent athlete's foot one should keep the feet clean and dry.

The condition is contagious and the germ causing it may remain alive for a long time in rubber mats, wooden floors and articles of wearing apparel.

Athlete's foot is usually picked up in public places where the bare feet are exposed—such as swimming pools, gymnasiums and shower baths.

Excessive sweating, heat and friction add to the possibility of infection.

Some persons are more susceptible than others and there is a variance in reaction.

Persons who have sweating feet should wear socks that can be boiled and changed daily.

During warm weather, one should alternate wearing pairs of shoes so that each pair has ample time to air.

Home treatment for athlete's foot sometimes aggravates the condition and adds to the irritation.

Severe cases of athlete's foot require a physician's care.
