EDITORIAL VIEWS AND COMMENT

The political picture for the primary election has squared itself with the deadline for the filing of nomination petitions on Monday night of this week, and from all appearances the most interesting feature of the April contest will be who's going to get the Democratic Assembly nominations in the second legislative district of Cambria county. Three of the men whose names will appear on the ballot have received the endorsement of the Cambria Co. Democratic Committee. It will be the province of the others to attempt to "bust the slate."

Because there are so few contests in the primaries in the two major parties, the assumption can be made that the vote likely will be light. Whether this feature may prove disastrous to some of the assembly candidates or not, we wouldn't know. However, the people can be assured that there will be a lot of activity in the weeks before us, on the part of the candidates—all of them—who want to go to Harrisburg.

Incidentally, the job of being an Assemblyman isn't such a bad deal these days. When the writer was a member of the legislature, it wasn't so hot, financially. But the good members of the 1947 session did a bit of something worth while for themselves in the way of allowing themselves a tax-free expense account of $100 a month, for the 24 months they serve. The regular payment for a session, held once in two years, is $3,000. Adding the $2,400 to that amount, makes a $5,400 salary for a few months' actual employment. No wonder there are of the Republican employees in the courthouse and have assumed an attitude that career service is to be rewarded, regardless of the political affiliation of the employee. On the other hand, there are remunerative jobs that have been held by Republicans for 10, these many years, that surely now should go to the deserving of the victorious party. There's no use in anyone kidding themselves. Solidarity in political organizations is obtained through a justifiable distribution of the spoils. Organization politics can be honest politics, and surely no one in Cambria County would accuse the officials of being dishonest. But without a doubt the men who occupy the official positions in the courthouse, owe a great deal to the men who were out on the hustings working for them—and for ALL of them, not simply some one or two individuals.

So, when members of the official family of the courthouse are chided for listening to the recommendations, verbal or otherwise, of the Democratic County Executive Committee, through the Chairman of the party, they must remember that they are simply repeating the members of their own organization who worked so valiantly for them. Had the very people who now find fault show the same interest in the candidates whom the voters indicated by ballot they wanted, no one of these men would be in danger of losing lucrative jobs.

The Democratic party last year had a program. It was a good program. It was a program that was honorable and above board. It was a program designed to elect all the Democrats possible by being, all for one and one for all. But the candidates alone could not have done this without the great help given by so many others within the party who also worked hard for victory. That they should bear the fruits of the victory, too, goes without question. For those folks from without the party who now find fault with the system, we can only say, "Uneasy rests the job of any one who is a political appointee."

The very idea that any of the officials elected last year on the Democratic ticket in Cambria county would want to cross the organization that elected them, would surely be an evidence of bad faith on the part of the individual attempting to do so. They would be without honor, and under cover would probably be despised by the very folks from without the Democratic party, whom they would favor, without justice.

The chaps who do the most of the lamenting these days about how cruelly some employee or department head is being treated, are not registered with the Democratic party. There is the voice of "someone lost," and if the tide turns otherwise at some subsequent election, naturally the victors, then too, castigate the spoils—and they certainly will.
