Marsteller Teacher Wins Award As 'Tops' in Profession

Miss Virginia Boslett of Spangler won the Johnstown Tribune-Penn State Fellowship as the outstanding teacher in Cambria Co. She is a third-grade teacher in Marsteller School, Barr Twp.

Miss Boslett was presented a souvenir plaque for distinguished teaching by Dr. L. L. Forch, of the Johnstown school board, and a member of the selection committee, during a broadcast on Monday evening by Station WJAC in Johnstown.

She will enroll June 27 and continue classes until Aug. 8 under the scholarship offered by the sponsors.

The fellowship entitles Miss Boslett to a full six-week summer course at Penn State with tuition, board, room, books and transportation expenses paid.

A teacher the past 15 years, Miss Boslett centers her time outside the classroom on art and reading. She plans to gain further knowledge of the subjects at Penn State. She has been teaching in the Marsteller school on Spangler-Emeigh Road since graduating from Indiana State Teachers' College.

The honored instructor is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Boslett. She resides in Spangler with two sisters. One sister, Miss Ruth Boslett, is a member of the West Carroll School faculty. Another sister, Mrs. Eugene Donnelly, of Altoona, formerly was a St. Benedict teacher.

Dr. Arthur M. Stull, Cambria Co. schools superintendent, Monday announced the selection of Miss Boslett as the outstanding Cambria Co. teacher. Serving on the selection committee with Dr. Stull, were:

Dr. Porch, Paul Keeney, South Fork High School principal, and president of the Cambria County Branch, PSEA; Mrs. Pauline Wire, president of the Cambria Co. Council, PTA, and Thomas Davis, Nanty-Glo Schools superintendent.
